THE PROPOSAL

Palmer Capital is proposing to build 24-28 680-foot industrial wind turbines in Tully, Otisco, and LaFayette. The project will include large, overhead electrical power lines that will span our communities, a new electrical substation, and associated infrastructure. Landowners have signed leases, and Palmer is collecting data.

SIGNIFICANT CONCERNS FOR OUR COMMUNITIES

- Curtain Road and Tully Valley slopes already have active landslides. Blasting and drilling, as well as ongoing vibration from operation and increased stormwater runoff could further destabilize these already fragile slopes, triggering additional catastrophic landslides.
- Turbines would be up to 680 feet tall and constructed as close as 900 feet from neighboring homes – even those without leases.
- New York state has given energy developers free rein to our lands.
- New York state has taken away our rights and home rule. Our towns no longer have the power to enforce existing zoning regulations.
- Headwaters of Onondaga Creek and the Kettle Lakes will be damaged.
- Anticipated decrease in property values.

Now is the time to act.

Palmer has not submitted an official proposal yet.
