2018 West Ohio Annual Conference

The West Ohio Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church will convene Sunday, June 3, at Lakeside, Ohio. Pastor Barbara and Amanda Greer represent Fairview United Methodist Church. Rev. Dr. AK Lovelace, our administrative assistant, will also be attending as retired clergy. As part of the conference business, AK will be appointed to a ¼ time position as the pastor of New Jasper UMC beginning July 1, 2018. Her appointment will not affect her employment here, as her primary pastoral responsibilities will be on Sundays.

Rev. Dr. Zan Holmes, Jr., well known United Methodist pastor and scholar, will be preaching Sunday evening and Tuesday morning. Dr. Holmes is one of the key presenters in Disciple. Bishop Palmer will preach at the celebration of ministry Tuesday evening, when retiring clergy are recognized and new clergy are being commissioned and ordained. In addition, he will offer an episcopal address on Monday evening. Rev. Lou Seipel will preach Wednesday morning.

The work of the conference includes setting the budget for 2019, determining minimum compensation for clergy, as well as setting pension, health care and other benefits. Clergy vacation policies will also be considered through Recommendation 4. Recommendation 5 deals with investment policies of the conference, in light of changes in investment policies by Wespath (a United Methodist agency), who created high-performing, socially responsible funds. Recommendation 6 encourages all congregations and individuals to support, in a variety of ways, those who are immigrants within our communities, including education and awareness, direct assistance with transportation, legal procedures, etc. and through advocacy.

Although the focus of annual conference is on worship and conducting necessary business, the atmosphere is that of a family reunion, with plenty of opportunities to meet with friends or alumni organizations, and explore new ways to be "church." And there is always time for a stroll on the dock or along the lake shore, with a stop for fresh donuts in the morning, or ice cream treats during the day! Please keep our annual conference and The United Methodist Church in prayer, that we may be faithful and obedient to our call.

Fairview Church's Impact on the Community

The word impact is used often in community circles. By definition, to have an impact is to have a strong effect on someone or something. Organizations and churches strive to have impact and there are people in the community that need positive relationships.

Our Food Pantry has a strong impact on entire zip codes, two in particular - 45405 and 45406. According to PantryTrak, the system we use to serve the community through our pantry, Fairview United Methodist Church has served 714 people and has provided over 12,000 meals since January 2018. Wow, that is having a strong effect! That is having a very positive impact.

Our Fun Club provides children with a healthy meal and an activity every week of the school year. Fairview UMC, for 20 weeks with an average of 20 kids each week, has provided over 400 meals and given over 220 hours in service to the Fairview neighborhood. The love, commitment, and consistency the volunteers have shown has made a huge difference in the lives of these youth.

Building Impact

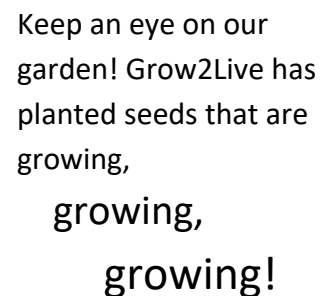

Fairview United Methodist Church is very proud of the facilities entrusted to us. Although the facilities are not generally open to the public, we make it available to approved non-member persons and groups as a witness to our faith, in a spirit of Christian charity, and as a means of demonstrating the Gospel of Jesus Christ in practice. In this we have a great impact to the community through the use of the facilities. In efforts to maintain safety and security, we ask that the office be notified of any meetings held in the church.

Here are ways to notify the church office of meetings being held:

Website: We have a building use form available on our website.

Call: You can call the office during office hours

Email: Send an email to office@fairviewunitedmethodist.org

Keep an eye on our garden! Grow2Live has planted seeds that are growing, growing, growing!

Community Events

As we move into the warmer months, we have wonderful, impactful events happening here. In addition to our garden, we will be hosting the Art of Hope on Saturday June 2nd at 1:00 pm. The Art of Hope is a celebration of the artistic talents of youth. This event will promote and highlight all forms of creativity displayed by youth in the community and around the Miami Valley.

On August 11th, the annual community festival and health fair will be held here at Fairview at 11:00 am. Information and health screenings will be provided along with food, fun and games. This wonderful event remains in partnership with our neighbors, Agape Bible Fellowship and the FROC Priority Board.

Schoolchildren's Books Distributed

Although we had a smaller distribution crew than usual, all students at Fairview PreK-6 School received one or two books for summer reading from Fairview United Methodist Church. The book giveaway took place Monday, May 14, 2018. Church members Art Mehaffey, Wayne Hounshell, Barbara Rowlands, Pat White, Judy Gebhart and Pam Hounshell helped the children select their books. A total of 701 books were given to 494 eager students.

Many thanks to all who helped make this important project a success: those who counted and sorted, those who boxed or delivered, those who donated books to give or sell, those who gave money, and those who shopped. Special thanks to AK Lovelace in the church office for making name labels for all those books. Well done, everyone!

Thank You!

Thanks from our Trustees

The church Trustees extend a big THANK YOU to all who helped keep our building and grounds safe and attractive through their labors during our Spring Work Day on May 12.

A Word from the Pastor

As a student in high school, I was the recipient of the generosity of what was then the WSCS of my local Methodist congregation. They paid for me to participate in a UN/Washington, D.C. trip for high school students. It was an eye-opening experience for those of us who attended. Years later, the United Methodist Women encouraged me to attend my first Assembly, and paid for my trip. I got on a bus with forty-some women, none of whom I knew, and we headed to Philadelphia. There my eyes were truly opened to the amazing work of mission and advocacy being done by women committed to Jesus Christ. No longer could I think of the UMW as merely crafters, cookie bakers, and tireless workers in the local community. These were women who were changing the world! The topics they considered were at least twenty years ahead of the United Methodist Church.

It was my sisters in United Methodist Women who affirmed my call to ordained ministry, and who continue to support me with their prayers and guidance. Whenever I have an opportunity to return their support through presentations, work or money, I do so with great gratitude. How wonderful it is to be celebrating 150 years of women's ministry, and to be a part of ensuring the future of United Methodist Women through the Legacy Fund.

As we gathered in Columbus, we experienced moving music and worship, engaged in serious conversations about serious issues, celebrated deaconesses and women bishops, and committed to using the Power of Bold to address issues that threaten the well-being of our world. Marian Wright Edelman asked us to be "holy fleas," persistent in representing the needs of our community with legislators and others who wield power. "After all," she said, "even a big dog can be moved by persistent fleas." She also reminded us that there are more United Methodist Women than there are members of the NRA. We tackled challenges related to fair wages, climate justice, maternal and child health and the criminalization of black and brown people in our educational and justice systems.

In casual conversations, I talked with a geophysicist, counselors, nurses, teachers, community organizers, women business owners and experts in all kinds of areas. Talk about the Power of Bold! We come from major cities, small towns, and rural areas throughout the world. Sometimes, when we are focused upon raising money, others may see only the treasure sales, dinners, cookie baking and projects. But rest assured, underlying all that work is a commitment to creating a world that is better for us all, particularly with lives of freedom and grace for women and children everywhere. We truly are "a community of women whose purpose is to know God and to experience freedom as whole persons through Jesus Christ; to develop a creative, supportive fellowship; and to expand concepts of mission through participation in the global ministries of the church."
