

About the Author

Jancey-Lee is a proud and happy mother. Brought up in North Queensland, she has a deep appreciation of the importance of rural and regional industries.

Having many and varied jobs throughout her working life she has learned that honesty and guidance are invaluable in the shaping of young minds.

It is with this in mind, through the medium of poetry and illustration she takes young readers in a lighthearted and colourful way to excite, educate and entertain.