How to Get in Touch with Your Intuition Using Human Design

"Depend more upon the intuitive forces from within and not harken so much to that of outside influences--but learn to listen to that still small voice from within."

Part 1: Centers

Intuition or what some have called being psychic has a rich history that dates to the Oracles of Delphi and maybe even earlier than that. Through the years and with many distillations this so-called 6th sense has delighted, thrilled, and left many dumbfounded. There are always questions about how people seemingly predict events that they shouldn't be able to predict.

One spookily accurate predictor of future events is the long running animated series "The Simpsons" that has correctly predicted more than a few future events, including the presidency of Donald Trump that Groening felt was one of his most far-reaching predictions. And the question might be why is it that some people seem to know things that others don't? And more importantly can you step into the realm of intuition and discover secrets that may help you along your way?

Before we delve into the traits and maybe even markers that people have that make them more capable of tapping into other realms or information, those characteristics that seem divinely inspired, we first need to understand what intuition is, and how it is considered a little different from being psychic.

Intuition is unique to humans since we can separate it from the instincts of animals. Intuition, also known as a gut feeling or a hunch, is information that is given to us without consciously trying to access the information. Intuition comes from the unconscious mind that rapidly sorts through past experiences and cumulative knowledge and comes up with an insight that can predict or give insight into a situation that you are experiencing.

"Often referred to as "gut feelings," intuition tends to arise holistically and quickly, without awareness of the underlying mental processing of information. Scientists have repeatedly demonstrated how information can register on the brain without conscious awareness and positively influence decision-making and other behavior." <https://www.psychologytoday.com>

Although many times the words are interchanged many consider being psychic a much more mystical process where people are said to have extra-sensory perception. The term psychic was first used by parapsychologist JB Rhine to denote paranormal abilities such as telepathy, clairvoyance, precognition as well as clairaudience.

Clairvoyance: Sometimes called remote viewing, clairvoyance is the paranormal visual acquisition of knowledge about a contemporary object, situation, or event.

Precognition: Clairvoyant-like knowledge of future events, objects, or situations. Perception of the past is known as "retrocognition."

Telepathy: The paranormal acquisition of information concerning the thoughts, feelings, or activity of another person. Telepathy differs from clairvoyance in that the information comes from the mind of another person.

Clairaudience: The paranormal auditory acquisition of knowledge; clairaudience often occurs in conjunction with clairvoyance. This is the ability to perceive sounds or words and extrasensory noise from sources broadcasting from the spiritual or ethereal realm. These tones exist beyond the reach of rational human experience and beyond the limitations of ordinary space and time. For example:

- sounds made by a person's body;
- sounds made by living things;
- sounds made by nature;
- sounds made by man-made things;
- sounds made by interactions of the above; and
- ethereal sounds like voices of the dead, specters, or mystic music.

The concept of ESP, or extra-sensory perception has been a part of many cultures throughout history. There are a multitude of stories of precognition or the ability to see the future that feature prominently in the history of the Scottish Celts, Native Americans, the Māori of New Zealand and the Sami in Scandinavia to name a few. But no history or some say myths, are richer than that of the famous of the Oracles of Delphi.

Located in Greece the ruins of the Temple of Apollo, considered the god of music, harmony, and light, was where the Oracle of Delphi legend began. Based on the ancient writings of many including Plutarch a priest who worked in the temple, older women free from ill repute were chosen to become The Pythia or a High priestess of the Temple of Apollo at Delphi, served as oracles. They were also known as the Oracles of Delphi.

A tripod was built over a chasm where the oracle would sit and inhale vapours of what has been surmised to have been natural forms of an anesthetic ethylene as well as ethane. After the Pythia inhaled the vapour, they would go into a trance state and were said to commune with Apollo to receive the oracular messages. These messages were interpreted by priests as prophecies or predictions and were then delivered to the visitor who had come for a prophetic message.

This process of inducing an altered state is a familiar method to get in touch with your intuition or to have a psychic download. The use of Ayahuasca to heal the body, soul, and mind and maybe even to reach for enlightenment is a common practice even today. But could there be another way for everyone to attain knowledge that feels inaccessible or believed to be only for some?

It's clear that Human Design is a valuable tool that connects you with the inner you and allows you to see things about yourself that you never knew existed. It says that you alone carry the secrets to your life and trajectory forward, yet the study of Human Design can be vast and time consuming and not everyone has the time to invest. Yet everyone deserves a leg up on how to get the best and most fulfilled life, to see what only you're meant to see, to know what's important for you to know. So, that's why today we will discuss some key markers that might point a finger at where your intuition or even psychic abilities that might be hiding in plain view and open one more door to the secret of you. To get the most out of this information make sure that you have a free copy of your Human Design bodygraph. You can get a copy from a multitude of places here are a few places:

In Human Design we talk about awareness and awareness centers so that is a great place to begin. In Human Design there are three potential fields or centers of awareness that have the capacity to guide you through your life and can give some level of cognizance to become aware of things. Awareness is an aspect of consciousness unique to all life forms. In humans it comes in 3 ways, physical survival awareness or instinct, emotional awareness, and mental awareness.

The 3 awareness centers are the Spleen, Ajna, and the Solar Plexus. The Spleen is raw instinct and connects with your very survival, the Ajna, talks about beliefs about the world and lastly the Solar Plexus is our emotional awareness and connection to spirit.

When we talk about the Spleen, we're talking about body consciousness that manifests as taste, intuition, and instinct. This is considered awareness in the Now, or an immediate hit that gives you information.

The Ajna is mind consciousness and is the mental field of awareness that embodies, sensing, knowing, and understanding. The awareness of the Ajna is over all time or a lifetime of awareness that never stops evolving.

Lastly is spirit consciousness that occurs in the Solar plexus or emotional center and is about feeling, emoting and sensitivity this type of awareness is related to the emotional waves of the Solar Plexus. This is awareness that comes over time with the rise and fall of our emotional waves. The theory is that our Spleen is the most reliable form of intuition, and the Solar Plexus is the most unreliable and underdeveloped. The Solar plexus is where it is said that in 2027 a mutation will occur that will shift the potential of this awareness and open the possibility of connecting spiritually in a way that wasn't possible before.

It's important to keep in mind that all awareness centers come with built in anxiety (Ajna), fear (Spleen) and nervousness (Solar Plexus) which means that sometimes when you have intuitive downloads you might feel a little anxious too. When you recognize that those types of feelings can be a normal part of intuition then instead of thinking that something “bad” is going to happen you work to understand how your intuition operates for you. When you are cognizant of how your intuition works and how it makes you feel, then eventually it becomes easier to “read” your own internal cues. You are unique and how you experience your intuition can be vastly different from others, there is no one size that fits all and that’s okay.

Let’s begin with the Spleen. This is considered a center connected with intuition, immune energy, or health, time, and an internal knowing.

There are 2 ways that the spleen can present itself in human design, open or undefined or closed or defined.

When we talk about a defined Spleen it means that there is a complete channel or 2 gates that connect one center to another. When it is defined it will always show up as brown in the human design chart. A defined Spleen means that you might have a more fixed way of experiencing Splenic intuition that is more recognizable.

Alternatively, an undefined Spleen means that the Spleen is not connected to another center by a complete channel, so there can be what's called defined gates, or hanging gates but none of them that make it to another center. This will always show up as being a white triangle in a bodygraph. While anyone with a defined or undefined spleen can experience their defined gates, there are a few subtle differences in how the energy works.

The nature of any open center in Human Design is that the energy of that center is more fluid and not fixed and is dependent on the aura of the people around you. The theory is that people with undefined centers absorb the energy from those around them, but not only do they absorb the energy, but they amplify it as well.

In the case of the Spleen there can be an amplification of the awareness and intuitions that are defined in the Spleen, or the areas that are colored black, red or black and red. Any open center is like a valve that is closed and when you meet someone with a specific energy then your valve gets open and your center “fills up”, but there is also a “drain” in that center where the absorbed energy slowly goes away.

When you have an undefined Spleen, you may not feel as if you are intuitive because your energy isn't fixed and always available so your intuitive “hits” can come and go.

And because of the nature of the Spleen, where it gives you one “message” only connecting with how you receive your intuition is key in reading the signs that your body is giving you. When we move through the intuition of the specific gates then you might discover some cues that can show you when your intuition is “speaking” to you.

Another dimension of Splenic energy is connected to your health awareness and immunity which means that when you have an undefined Spleen you may not be able to always connect with your health and might even absorb the energy of others and feel as if their health is your health. This is called being medically intuitive which can be an intuitive gift that comes with an undefined Spleen. Edgar Cayce a famous medical intuitive and healer who was called the “Sleeping Prophet” and was said to be able to heal people at a distance had a completely open or undefined Spleen. There is a theory that people with an undefined spleen and a hanging Gate 44 can smell illness.

In Human Design the mind consists of the Head Center and the Ajna. The Head center provides the fuel, and the Ajna makes sense of it. So, the Head center provides the inspiration, and the Ajna speaks about possibility. The intuition from the mind can be where we have downloads or the fuel for the intuition comes as inspiration that the Ajna needs to make sense of. That means that the intuition in this area is something that can take time to figure out or it can take time to gain awareness and clarity about what a download really means to you. It is believed that the Head Gates, 63,64 and 61 are connections to alternate realms or even super-consciousness, or collective consciousness.

As mentioned before, the intuition of the Solar Plexus is undeveloped, but as we move into 2027 and beyond there is potential for our intuition to blossom in that center. For now, though we can say that there is one type of intuition that can be quite pronounced in this center and that is being empathic.

In Human Design a marker of a true empath is when you have an undefined Solar Plexus because quite literally you can feel into, and even absorb the emotions of those around you. This absorption of energy can result in you being sensitive and sometimes even overwhelmed in public places since you can be inundated by a tremendous amount of emotional energy. Some people with an undefined Solar Plexus have said that they can even absorb the emotional energy of others to the point that someone who is emotionally defined can become calm even when they feel emotionally charged.

As with all undefined centers, the energy is transient. If you feel as if you have absorbed too much emotional energy lying down for about 20-30 minutes or whatever feels right for you can help to release the energy.

Any open or undefined center can give you added insight into the energy of that center since it is considered a place where you can find wisdom in what the energy means to you. The gates that are defined on any open center can give you more clarity on how you receive your intuition.

One more center of special note is the G/Identity center. This center is where the theoretical Magnetic Monopole is said to reside or is found on the Gate 2. This is where you find your direction in life or the specific trajectory of your life. The Magnetic Monopole guides you or even keeps you on track on the path of your Life Purpose.

If you have an undefined G/Identity center, it is believed that you are a mirror to others and can reflect their identity back to them. It also means that you can sample the identity of others and see beneath the veneer. So, if someone is pretending, or taking on a false persona you can attune to that deception. This ability to see beyond what other people are trying to portray means that you might align with people who look and act very different from you, since instead of connecting with their appearance you connect with their true essence. This is also a place where you can have Clairsentience or feel into the story of who people perceive themselves to be, or even the most exalted version of who they have the potential to be, and sometimes even their history.

Another important part or intuition of the undefined is your ability to feel into the correct environment and even people for you. If a place doesn't feel right then it means that you might have less opportunities to achieve success, or to even have a good experience in the place you are. Basically, if you feel uncomfortable in a place or even with people and you bypass your inner knowing, you may end up regretting your decision to ignore your intuition. How that plays out for you is unique to you, but most people will recall a time when their intuition said something that was ignored and later turned out to be true.

As we already talked about, the Head center is where intuitive downloads and inspiration can come but it's also where we have the potential to read minds. There are only three gates in the Head center, so it is a less common definition to have. Only 30 percent of the population have a defined Head center, yet they can inspire the rest of the population. It also means that the remaining 70 percent of the population who are influenced by the 30 percent have the potential to connect with the thoughts of the 30 percent, which can look like reading the mind of someone with a defined Head center.

Those with a Defined Ajna are more inclined to have fixed beliefs which can mean that you can connect with an organized spiritual belief where someone with an open Ajna might have more fluid expressions of their beliefs.

Part 2

Types of Energy and How they Can Express Through Your Intuition

It's quite common to have a mix of different energies in your bodygraph but usually your path might lean toward a specific type of energy. All energies work together in your life and though we can pick out certain gates, channels, centers and even lines, it's only when you see yourself in your entirety that you can really step into what works for you. To determine the energies that you might be more inclined toward, having a look at your full channels can give you some insight into how you operate.

There are three different types of energy in Human Design, and each has its own unique way of expressing in your life. The first type is called Individual energy and is the most mutative. This is the type of energy that is here to bring change to the collective or to shake up the status quo. Individual energy is auditory in nature meaning that your intuition can come through sounds, music, or anything acoustic can be a trigger for you to receive a download or intuitive insight.

Another theme connected to Individual energy is that it is something that comes and goes without a pattern, or you can have moments of clarity and knowing that happen spontaneously. Individual energy can be connected to Claircognizance, or an inner knowing that leaves you with a feeling that you know something to be true even if you don't know how you know.

Individual Energy

Individual Gates: 12,22,39,55,28,38,34,10,20,57,14,2,1,8,43,23 61 and 24. This is Clairaudient and Claircognizance. Claircognizance allows you to know what is going on with someone else but since you don't have a way to prove it people may challenge you to prove how you know what you know.

The second form of Human Design energy is Collective. Collective energy is broken into two categories, Logic and Abstract. The intuition of Collective energy is about looking back to the past, Abstract, or predicting the future based on patterns, Logic. Abstract energy can relate to past life regressions, the Akashic records and even collective karmic energy from previous generations, especially the Gate 47. Logic can be the most closely connected with knowing the future or the channels 16/48, 18/58, 17/62, 63/4, 31/7, 15/5, 9/52 but because this is unproven intuition self-doubt can be a theme. Logic is also called the Understanding Circuit.

Logical Gates:63,4,17,62,31,7,15,5,18,58,16 and 48.

Abstract Gates: 64,47,11,56,33,13,35,36,46,29,42,53, 41 and 30. All these gates are part of the Sensing Circuit where you can have the ability to understand the past and even feel it as if it's happening again. Or if it's someone else's memory you can feel or experience what they felt. The channels of the past are the 35/36, 64/47, 11/56, 13/33, 46/29, 42/53 and 41/30. This type of energy can be connected to Clairvoyance, or intuitive feelings.

Finally, Tribal energy intuition is the most connected with the mundane world and can be considered the same type of intuition that our ancestors used to survive much like the intuition of the Integration circuit or the Gates 10, 20, 34 and 57. Tribal intuition is connected to smell, or Clairsalience which is intuitive smell that can “smell a rat” if something is not correct or you might even have scents from the past that trigger you.

Keep in mind that there can be overlapping of intuitive connections in all the Human Design energies so ultimately it all comes down to what feels right and aligns with you and how you receive your intuition.

Tribal Gates: 21,45,37,40,26,44,19,49,32,54,59,6,50 and 27

Tribal energy is the least prevalent in the bodygraph but is still very powerful because it connects heaven with earth or where we could say that the mundane meets the mystical. This is also energy that can connect with intuition through organized religions. In other words, you might commune with God, Angels or presences that have a connection to ancient spiritual beliefs.

This can also be about intuitively knowing what to do to protect your loved ones and you may even have a clear sense about what people need to be okay. There is a lot of caring in this intuition so it's easy to be wracked with pain when people in your tribe are suffering.

Part 3

The Intuition of Gates and Channels

We will be focusing on several different types of intuition, awareness and psychic potential in the Human Design bodygraph but of course this is not all encompassing. If you feel your intuition in a different way, then that's perfectly fine. Your uniqueness is championed in Human Design, where the mantra is always be you. I will touch on many energies but covering every channel and gate in the bodygraph is beyond the scope of this booklet.

Keep in mind that even if you don't have a full channel or you have a hanging gate that you are always attracting the harmonic or the other half of the channel. So, you might experience the intuitive energy of a gate or even channel that you don't have defined sometimes when you are with certain people. When you connect with someone else (electromagnetics) and one of your channels is activated this can be referred to as energetic intuition.

Alternatively, when you connect with alternate realms this can be considered connecting with superconsciousness or superconsciousness intuition. As stated on Wikipedia superconsciousness is:

The superconscious (also super-conscious or super conscious) is a proposed aspect of mind to accompany the conscious and subconscious and/or unconscious. It is able to acquire knowledge through non-physical or psychic mechanisms and pass that knowledge to the conscious mind.^{[1][2]} It therefore transcends ordinary consciousness.^[3] The term is also used to describe transcendental states of consciousness achieved through meditation and related practices, thus accessing the superconscious mind directly.^[4]

Knowledge acquired by the superconscious need not be from the present or nearby, it may be from the past or future, from a physically remote present, or of beings undetectable by the physical senses. Superconsciousness is therefore offered in order to provide an explanation for psychic phenomena such as precognition, remote vision and seances.^[2]

<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Superconscious>

The Head Center: There are only three gates in the Head center, and all relate to intuitive dreaming, Clairvoyance and connecting with alternate realms. The Gate 61 can be connected to occult knowledge or discovering hidden knowledge. It's also where you might have the ability to see the spirit realm or ghosts.

Ra Uru Hu, the founder of Human Design, had his Design Sun in the Gate 61.1 and said that because of that his path was destined to bring occult or hidden knowledge into the world, as he did with the Human Design system. This can be brand new information that shifts the world and is something that comes spontaneously and can be triggered by sounds or even music. This is energy that is about reaching to know the unknowable, the quantum physics of life and creation or even the spiritual mechanics of the universe.

The Gate 63 is related to patterns and is half of the 63/4 and is about connecting to and predicting the future. This is where you can bring answers and solutions to problems. These solutions can be related to technical and mechanical or even the future based on patterns. Many people who are considered psychic have logical energy or energy that aids them in predicting the patterns of the future. Since the Gate 63 is the gate of doubt and suspicion it's easy to discount your intuition as not being real.

Even someone with a defined head and Ajna with no connection to the Throat center can have potential to channel spirit.

If you have a lot of definition or defined gates and channels as Sylvia Browne did it's possible to have deep intuitive insights when you close your eyes.

The Gate 64 is half of the 64/47 channel and can connect with the past especially past life energy or even ancestral karma. This is also energy that can come in huge downloads that take time to figure out and find clarity. This is also where we can use past information to work through problems of today. It can be about connecting with ghosts or spirits or alternate realms.

It's also energy where people can channel entire books as James Redfield, author of "The Celestine Prophecy" did. The prediction here can be based on trends from the past.

All energy that connects the Head center to the Ajna can pull you into your thoughts so much that you might feel ungrounded and disconnected from the world around you. It's important to recognize if this is a trend that you are experiencing and to get out and do something that physically requires you to "get out of your head" and back into the real world. Something as simple as playing tennis, basketball, or anything where you need to focus on something outside of you can be helpful.

Unlike the 63/4 channel there is no linear time or logic that comes with your intuitive downloads. This is another place where you can be emotionally empathic. It can also be the energy for channeling. Ultimately, it's important to have patience with your process and to understand that you probably need time to decipher your intuition.

The Ajna Center:

All Ajna to Throat center channels or even hanging gates that get connections through electromagnetics or planetary transits, can channel, or spontaneously talk about concepts that seem to come of their own volition.

Ra Uru Hu had the 43/23 channel and said that it was this energy that enabled him to channel new and mutative concepts that eventually became the Human Design system. This is Individual energy that can see into the future, so many times your downloads take time for the rest of the world to catch up to. Yet, when they do catch up then that is when your innovative ideas can quite possibly change the world. There can also be potential for people with this energy or even half the channel, to discover new healing techniques, and to unravel the nature of divine order. While some people talk about a third eye, this is where you might have what's considered a third ear.

The logical channel 17/62 or even either gate 62 or 17 can be connected to finding intuitive solutions, discovering innovative technology as well as bringing new ideas or patterns into form. The Gate 17 is connected to the left eye.

The 11/56 channel has the potential to bring forth entities and downloads from other realms. The Gate 11.4 is deeply connected to teaching so there is a lot of potential for you to become a spiritual teacher who works with spirit regularly. The Gate 11 is connected to the right eye.

The Throat Center:

Only about 30 percent of the population has an undefined Throat center. As with all open centers when you have an undefined Throat center you take in energy and amplify it which means that if you have an undefined Throat center you can modify and change your voice dramatically.

If we connect it with intuition in the bodygraph we can say that this is a place where you might have the potential to channel spirit. This can be especially true if you have an undefined Throat center and a hanging Gate 12. The Gate 12 is considered a metamorphic gate that is said to connect with alternate realms, especially the Angelic realm. There is also potential to channel spirit when you have the full 12/22 channel. The Gate 22 is connected to the left ear or an emotional ear.

Your intuition comes in the moment and can be related to even a sound that just seems off, and when you hear it, you change your behavior in anticipation.

Additionally, you can draw in energy from a higher source and know what to say to someone to get someone moving in their life. This is also energy where your aura can pull people toward you like you are a vortex.

The 10/20 channel can be about intuitively knowing just the right words to raise someone's spirit or to bring them down. This is where you speak from the essence of your being. You can have intuition that is connected to the tone and the quality inherent in someone's voice so you can read their energy. This is intuition that is based less on what others say and more about the cadence alone.

The Will/Ego Center

The 40/37 channel can be connected to intuition that is related to deals that are beneficial to you and those deals that are not. There can also be business intuition within this energy. With the 26/44 channel you might have an affinity or even a connection to birds and you may even feel as if you receive messages from birds. This can also be where you intuitively know when people are not being honest, lovingly called a BS detector. The Gate 44 is connected to seeing patterns from the past repeat.

The 45/21 channel can be connected to the intuitive direction of the tribe or community and the upgrades and education that can make your community stronger.

The 25/51 channel is considered the channel of the priestess or shaman. This channel can bring a metaphorical death of the ego or the personal self, one that allows you to transcend the ego and move into the expression of your Higher Self in form. Often you can be awakened to the love of spirit through shocking or lifechanging events. Alternatively, when you carry this energy, you can be shocking and wake people up to the spirit of the self.

The Sacral

The 9/52 channel can give you the ability to stay the course on your spiritual path. The 14/2 channel brings a very mutative allocation of resources. This is energy that can connect to natural abundance and even inheritances. The intuition here is about what you can do to create resources. This might be where you have an internal guide for the right work and business. The 15/5 channel is intuition that connects you to nature, fairies, and animals. This is another place where you can have a deep alignment with animals. When you are in the flow of your life you are working with the 15/5 energy.

The 34/57 channel is considered the most Clairaudient channel in the bodygraph. The Gate 57 is considered the most intuitive gate of the whole bodygraph. The Gate 34 is raw power meaning that the intuition in this channel is very powerful. There is a theory that if you are living to your type or using your strategy and authority to guide your life you can have the potential to live to be 125 years old. Whether that's true or not it's still an interesting concept to ponder. This is also a channel where you might need to actively discern the difference between your inner dialogue and your intuition. This is also energy where you can hear a lie in someone's voice. The Gate 57 is connected to the right ear and might be considered acoustic intuition and can be related to seeing the future.

The 50/27 channel is part of the Defense circuit so brings with it the ability and intuition to care for and protect your loved ones, especially your children. This energy can also give you the insight and intuition to know if something is happening with a loved one, even if they are at a distance. This can be the transmission of values that keep someone strong and on their spiritual journey. The Gate 50 can intuitively smell something that is corrupt, or spoiled.

The Spleen

The 18/58 channel can be about bringing people closer to the joy in life. The intuition here is about helping see and eliminate patterns that are preventing people from their joy. This is energy that can be connected to being an intuitive life coach since it's energy for guiding and directing someone toward what will make them happy. It's also about intuitively seeing what is fixable, what needs to be corrected and what is beyond repair.

The Gate 32 is connected to smelling if something is profitable from a business perspective and the changes that are needed to maintain continuity, expansion and success in business.

The Root Center

The 53/42 channel means that you can intuitively know when something will begin (Gate 53) and when something will grow or even when it will end (Gate 42). This is related to knowing when a cycle will begin and end.

The 60/3 channel is being mutated by Pluto in the Gate 60 right now. Only as the years go by will we truly know what Pluto has transformed. This is also a channel that is said to be connected to the genetic mutation of children who will bring forth a feeling or emotional based awareness instead of a fear-based awareness that we have currently. When you carry this energy, you might intuitively be drawn to working with and helping the children that will be born after 2027.

The 41/30 channel can be intuitively connecting with the natural world, fairy realms, crystals and knowing what dreams to hold onto, and which ones are better left alone. It is also where you can have the gift of automatic writing or psychography.

The 19/49 channel and especially the Gate 19 can give you an ability to intuitively connect with animals. The Gate 19 can be sensitive and empathic where you feel into the energy of others to the point where you might take on the energy of someone else and get lost in their frequency. Centering and grounding yourself can help you connect with the energy of others when you want to, but also to disconnect and honor and value your energy as much as you do for others.

The Gate 54.4 is a special line where you might have a deep connection and ability to access the theoretical Akashic records. The Gate 54.4 is the most mystical line in the whole Rave I 'Ching that talks about waiting for superior forces or spiritual forces to show up to help you. The Gate 54 says that by living in the material world, dealing with the everyday stress and pressure of life, true spiritual enlightenment and awareness has the most potential to show up in your life.

It also speaks about moments of déjà vu, coincidence, and magical synchronicities that we many times brush off as not being important and not worth sharing with others. These moments are times when the Universe is speaking to you, letting you know that you are supported. This energy reminds you that there is diversity, change and shifts in your frequency and in the flow and that if you are open, you may have access to unique experiences and magical moments because mystical energy is built within you. Ultimately, it's in the moments of letting go that true magic has a chance to bloom. At just the right time the Universe can give you a sign that says that even if you can't see it yet, the Universe is behind the scenes working hard on transforming your life in some great or small way.
