I understand that by paying up front for my veggies (and flowers) at the start of the season, I am taking on a similar risk as the farmers for crop failures based on weather events or other unpredictable events. I understand that my Friend of the Farm card will expire December 31, 2020, and that I can use my card at any of the farmers markets where Lovin' Mama Farm sells. If I am picking up a box at the farm, I understand that it is my responsibility to pick up each week, or have a friend or family member do so in my absence. I will not be able to double up on following weeks to make up for my absence.
