

Palladium Port Aransas Groundbreaking

Quite a few officials took part in a groundbreaking ceremony for Palladium Port Aransas, an apartment complex to be built on State Highway 361 just south of Port Aransas RV Resort.

Among the participants are Port Aransas City Council members Joan Holt, Shannon Solimine, Charles Crawford, Beth Owens. Bruce Clark and Wendy Moore; State Rep. Todd Hunter; Port Aransas Mayor Charles Bujan; Dave Parsons; City Manager. Tom Huth CEO of Palladium USA International.

More than 180 apartments are expected to be built. The complex's clubhouse/leasing center will open in February 2022, and the first apartment building, containing 66 units, will be finished by March 2022, according to last report.

This website or its third party tools use cookies, not including profiling ones, which are necessary to its functioning and required to achieve the purposes illustrated in the cookie policy. If you want to learn more or opt out of all or some cookies, see the COOKIE POLICY. By closing this banner, scrolling this page, clicking a link or continuing to browse otherwise, you agree to the use of cookies.