Why music is important to the brain

VIHAAN

The brain

- The brain has two parts . The left and right hemisphere.
- The left controls math logic eg.
- The right controls art.
- Both sides of the brain communicate with each other through a thick layer between left and right brain known as the corpus callous

Music

- Music helps the brain's hemispheres to communicate faster.
- Music is a full body workout for the brain.
- When you play music all parts of the brain start lighting up, including the motor, visual and auditory.
