The Preparation

Work For Life - Ke was officially launched in February 2022 following 3 intense months of pre-feasibility study and preparation in 2021. The preparation included training 10 instructors who from the intensity of the training, drive and work, of the 10, only 1 succeeded in completing the training hence qualifying him to be a trainer.

The rest of our trainers are graduates from a previous class carried out virtually in the year 2020.

As at September 2022 we had the number reduce to 3 trainers due to various challenges cited in the challenges segment.

The logo for 'Work for Life' features a stylized black figure with a red dot above its head, resembling a person or a flame.

CHALLENGES

MOMENTS

What are some of the challenges you faced regarding the program?

	Maureen Owande	Jacinta Njoki	Daniel Owino
Week 1	Prolonged election outcomes	Prolonged election outcomes affecting training.	Elections unrest in his area
Week 2	Bounceback from elections is challenging	Time and gathering students back from class is a challenge	Bounceback from elections is challenging hence low numbers
Week 3	Holding more than one class in a week is challenging due to OASIS of hope many activities	There was a lot of movements	Offers from other programs enticing due to solid contracts offered.
week 4		Jacintas phone broke down hence no clear pictures as such	Trainees still traumatized from elections result; by elections affecting classes. Lack of a smartphone which led to reports being issued on sms

What's your best moment?

Week 1

The class was very active and everyone was participating

Interacting more with the trainees and they are able to answer the questions without fear.

Forging on despite the challenges

Week 2

Trainees gaining interest in the training

The trainees were sharing how they are applying the skills direct into their businesses.

Students exemplary performance despite being away on election break.

Week3

Being able to have the second class amidst the current state of our country. Students showing so much interest in the classes

Slight increase in trainees attendance to training as compared to the previous week

Knowing that the trainees are applying what they have been learning

Week 4

Cooperative class which is inspiring

Having seen that the trainees are enjoying every session

Two person trained have already set their business and it's already generating steady sales(chips business)Picking the motivated students and subsidizing them with small start up capital
