Moksh Community Arts proudly presents Naach Houston in its 19th grand Bollywood Dance Theatre production — Dil Se Naach 2025: Safar — A Musical Journey, an enchanting exploration of Bollywood music through the language of dance theatre.

Join us on Saturday, November 8th at 7:30 PM at the Stafford Civic Centre, 1415 Constitution Avenue, Stafford, Texas 77477 for an unforgettable evening of artistry, color, and community.

Founded in 2016, Moksh Community Arts was established to nurture local talent in dance, theatre, and music, providing a performance platform that celebrates multicultural creative collaboration.

This year's production features a diverse, multigenerational cast of over 70 dancers performing in Bollywood Fusion, a unique movement style created by Mahesh Mahbubani, Artistic Director of Naach Houston. His signature choreography weaves together global dance influences with the vibrant spirit of Bollywood, creating an expressive and cinematic dance experience.

Mahesh Mahbubani, the visionary behind Naach Houston, founded Naach in 1999 with the mission of professionally nurturing local dancers. Many of his students have since become accomplished performers and educators, including in Mumbai, India. A graduate of the prestigious Trinity Laban Conservatoire of Music & Dance, London, Mahesh holds an Honors B.A. in Movement and Dance, specializing in Choreological Studies and Dance Education. His creative genius lies in integrating sound, movement, visuals, and lighting to craft immersive theatrical experiences.

Naach Houston stands as more than just a dance institution — it's a community movement. Through its syllabus-based, student-centered dance education program, Naach empowers individuals by building confidence, leadership, and life skills through dance. The curriculum embraces an exciting range of styles, including Bollywood Fusion, Indian Contemporary, Hip Hop, Indo-Jazz, Latin, Indian Classical, and Folk Fusion.
