GOSPEL MEDITATION

3rd Sunday of Easter

April 19, 2026

Luke 24:13-35

When I first read The Odyssey, I was struck by the moment Odysseus returns home after 20 years, yet no one recognizes him. Disguised, he is present but hidden until the right moment reveals who he truly is. A similar mystery appears in the Gospel. The disciples on the road to Emmaus walk with Jesus but do not recognize him until he breaks the bread—then their eyes are opened, and he vanishes. His disappearance is not absence, but a new kind of presence in the Eucharist and in the Church. Faith is this change in vision: learning to recognize Jesus not as absent, but revealed in hidden ways. And as he is hidden, so are we called to be—because when we are hidden in Christ, we are truly seen.

— Father John Muir
