

U.S. Flu Positivity Rates by Week

Since March 2020 fewer people have been tested for influenza, but that is not the reason for fewer recorded cases. The percentage of samples that have tested positive (the positivity rate) has also plummeted.

Credit: Katie Peek; Source: FluNet/Global Influenza Surveillance and Response System at the World Health Organization (data)