ADELPHI DISTILLED IN DUFFTOWN 1999

20 YEAR OLD

1 of only 255 bottles from cask #2140

This whisky comes from a famous distillery in Dufftown and is locally referred to as a "Burnside whisky".

Drawn from a refill American oak ex-PX hogshead, this has the colour of Autumn gold with amber lights, and a good bead. Initially on the nose, Mackie's vanilla ice cream and Fox's Glacier Mints, moving to cake mix (especially sultanas), fig rolls, Cadbury's Cherry Ripe chocolate bars and Bircher muesli with apricots.

The palate brings juicy mandarins, coconut flakes and Gjetost (Norwegian goat's cheese) finishing with notes of dulce de leche.

A very rare whisky especially in single cask at this age.

Dufftown Speyside

A 20-year-old blended malt from independent bottler Adelphi, named Dufftown - likely a hint to its origins. After two decades in a single cask (#2140 to be specific), the Scottish bottler freed the whisky and bottled it up at 58% ABV.
