AMRUT

* Nilgiris ****

A dry handcrafted gin using the freshest botanicals from the pristine Nilgiris (Blue) mountains

The idea was to create a profile that was unique to India and one that was reflective to its namesake, Nilgiris. The use of Nilgiris Tea and Spices are a fitting representation of the rich flavors the blue mountains have to offer.

Nilgiris mountains is part of the western ghats of India, over 7000 ft above sea level; offering an array of botanicals that exhibit indigenous flavor properties to some of the commonly available spices and herbs

The maceration and distillation is skillfully performed in copper pot stills

10 Blue Mountain Botanicals

Juniper berries, Coriander seeds, Lemongrass, Angelica roots, Orris roots, Mace, Nutmeg, Cinnamon, Nilgiris Tea and Paan (Betel leaves).

Tasting Notes

It has the classic dry gin notes of Juniper, citrus, raw mango and pine. In addition, it offers hints of complex brewed tea, musk, spice, lavender sweetness and the mellowness of Paan, rounding off the complexity with its floral undertones.
