

ADELPHI GLENALLACHIE 2007 SPEYSIDE

12 YEAR OLD

1 of only 621 bottles from cask 900827

Drawn from a refill ex PX Sherry butt, this has the colour of Lion's golden syrup with a medium bead. On the nose there is freshly popped popcorn, peaches, nectarines, gingerbread, orange peel, grapefruit juice and breakfast fruit salad. On the taste we found a lovely oily texture, Butterkist toffee popcorn, mint Matchmakers and overripe banana. A well-balanced dram with a pleasantly drying finish.

The Glenallachie Distillery was founded in Aberlour in 1967 and following two decades of operation the distillery was purchased by Invergordon Distillery, who subsequently mothballed the operation. It was owned by Chivas Brothers who then sold the distillery to The GlenAllachie Distillers Co. Limited. The distillery have the pleasure of whisky great Billy Walker to run the distillery and turn this quiet distillery into a worldwide whisky powerhouse. Billy Walker had great success at BenRiach, GlenDronach and Glenglassaugh turning the operations around and producing some of the best whisky we've ever experienced. We are more than confident that this distillery is one to watch for many years to come.
