THE E&K MALT WHISKY

5 YEAR OLD

1 of only 800 bottles

Content: 1 American oak barrel distilled at Ardmore, Highland; part of an ex-Sherry butt distilled at Glenrothes, Speyside; and 2 American oak barrels distilled at Amrut, Bangalore.

The E&K Fusion malt is a tribute to Victor Alexander Bruce, the 9th Earl of Elgin and 13th Earl of Kincardine, who became Viceroy of India in 1894. As Governor of India from 1894 to 1899, Bruce oversaw improvements to India's railway system, worked to combat drought and famine and helped stabilise the currency. There's also a personal connection to the historical reference: Bruce is the Great Grandfather of Alex Bruce, Adelphi's Managing Director.

The E&K 5-Year-Old is a blended malt whisky from Adelphi's Fusion Whisky range, combining single malts from Scotland and India. The whiskies used for this expression came from Ardmore, Glenrothes and Amrut, and were aged for at least five years before bottling.
