Brothers and sisters in Christ,

Ever since I brought dad's car to Salina, it has been plagued by a tranny leak. Dad had the tranny rebuilt many years ago and it still leaked. I replaced the pan gasket last year and the leak continued. Last Saturday, I had a few hours to work on her and dropped the pan and removed the old gasket. After cleaning the pan and the bottom of the tranny where the pan bolts up, I put some new stuff on the pan and bolted it in place. As of right now, it has not leaked one drop of tranny fluid but I also have not put any more in it. As far as I am concerned, when I put tranny fluid back in her, it will be a miracle if it does not leak. This is just my humble opinion because it has leaked for so long. What is the name of this possible miracle working substance? It is called "The Right Stuff".

Since I plan on switching cars around on Thursday, I guess I will find out if it is the right stuff. There are many things in this world that promises to be the right stuff to take care of whatever we are looking for. Most of the self help things that are available say that their product is just what you need to improve your life. But many times, the results fall a bit short of expectations. For the most part, I don't care what self help thing you are working with because I don't believe they work as well as they promise.

For me, there is only one option for having the right stuff in life. Too many times people put their hope in life in things other than God. God loves us so much that he sent Jesus to die for our sins. Jesus loves us so much that he actually did die for us and then after he rose from the dead and before he ascended to heaven, Jesus promised to send another who would be our advocate. And that brings us to the Holy Spirit who was sent to us by Jesus. Out of love for God, the Holy Spirit lives within us and helps us throughout our lives.

God has proven time and again how much HE loves us. God is always faithful to us even when we do not give HIM the time of day. Even though God is the right stuff for us, there are many times that we prefer to put our faith not in God but in some other person or thing that can only offer empty promises.

As you face whatever struggle that is before you, put your faith in the one who is always with you. God is the only one who can provide you with what you need to overcome the challenges that are before you every single time.

In Christ,
Pastor Kent

Often when we talk about living as a missionary, debate arises about whether we are to minister locally or go globally. The phrase glocal Christians means we're to be both local and global in our mission. Jesus lays down a challenge that isn't either/or but both/and.

Being glocal involves being aware of your surrounding community as well as your larger world, and then entering into it with the love of Jesus. God is already at work out there. Our job is simply to have our eyes open to see him and join in that labor.

As you and your church decide what part in God's story you're being asked to play, don't fall into the debate about whether it's in local ministry or global ministry. Be radical followers of Jesus in both.
