EMANCIPATION DAY APRIL 16, 2018

Slavery was legal until 1865 in most of the area that is now the United States. Many slaves were of African origin and many slave owners were of European descent, although some other groups also had slaves. By 1860, there were about four million slaves in the United States. On April 16, 1862, Abraham Lincoln, who was the US president at the time, signed the Compensated Emancipation Act, which freed more than 3000 slaves in the District of Columbia.

Compensated Emancipation put money into the hands of the slaveholders. Slavery was abolished in the District and the government paid nine hundred slaveholders approximately $300 for each slave they had previously owned. The act only covered the District of Columbia because Lincoln was unable to convince many of the states of its virtues. The federal government only had control of the District and that was where slavery began its end.

On January 1, 1863, Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation that freed over three million slaves across a large number of states. However, slavery did not officially end in the rest of the United States until after the American Civil War, which lasted from 1861 until 1865. The Thirteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution formally ended slavery in the US. It was proposed on January 31, 1865, and ratified by 30 of the then 36 states in the same year. However, it was only ratified in Mississippi in 1995.

On Emancipation Day in DC, Pennsylvania Avenue comes alive with a parade, which will be held this year on Saturday, April 14, 2018, of military, students and bands, followed by a fun-filled festival. At the end of the day and after the festival, the sky comes alight with a fireworks show. On April 16, 2018 public school children have the day off and many district government offices are closed. Read More.

IRS WITHHOLDING CALCULATOR

The IRS encourages everyone to use the Withholding Calculator to perform a quick "paycheck check-up." This is even more important this year because of recent changes to the tax law for 2018.

The Calculator helps you identify your tax withholding to make sure you have the right amount of tax withheld from your paycheck at work.

There are several reasons to check your withholding: Checking your withholding can help protect against having too little tax withheld and facing an unexpected tax bill or penalty at tax time next year. At the same time, with the average refund topping $2,800, you may prefer to have less tax withheld up front and receive more in your paychecks.

If you are an employee, the Withholding Calculator helps you determine whether you need to give your employer a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. You can use your results from the Calculator to help fill out the form and adjust your income tax withholding. Click here to access the Calculator. Read More.

BOWSER ADMINISTRATION SHARES UPDATE ON OPPORTUNITY ZONES "MAKE SURE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD IS INCLUDED"

3/22/18, the Bowser Administration shared feedback received from a web-based survey regarding where to locate Opportunity Zones, a new designation that provides tax incentives to encourage investment in low-income areas. The District may designate up to 25 Census Tracts as federal Opportunity Zones, which were created in the recent tax reform legislation and qualifies the area for tax-advantaged investments. Because of the short federal timelines for designation, the District via a web-based survey sought the public's input on three potential Opportunity Zone maps with the following themes: East of the River (Kenilworth, Bellevue, Congress Heights, Washington Highlands, Anacostia, Woodlawn, and Eastlawn Gardens neighborhoods)

Retail Corridors (Brightwood, LeDroit Park, Brentwood, Twining, Fairfax Village, and Naylor Gardens neighborhoods), and Creative Industries and Manufacturing (Brentwood, Eckington, Ivy City, and Trinidad neighborhoods). The survey, designed by The Lab @ DC, resulted in 385 respondents ranking the options, and 264 providing written feedback and comments. East of the River received the highest ranking with 202, followed by Retail Corridors at 103 and Creative Industries and Manufacturing at 87. "The response we received to our survey demonstrates that residents recognize the benefit of this tool in order to help our most distressed neighborhoods," said Deputy Mayor for Planning and Economic Development Brian Kenner. *IMPORTANT—If you did not complete the survey or you have additional input to share on possible Opportunity Zones you are encouraged to contact your Advisory Neighborhood Commissioner (ANC). The District welcomes additional written feedback from the Advisory Neighborhood Commissions by April 10, 2018. Click here to see an interactive map of census tracts being considered. WHY YOU SHOULD BE CONCERNED ABOUT REVISIONS TO THE DC COMPREHENSIVE PLAN —THE CENTRAL DC PLANNING DOCUMENT

The first 60 pages of amendments to DC's Comp Plan were released. Click here to view. Over 270 people testified on 3/20 at a DC Council hearing on the proposed amendments. Primary concerns with the amendments include not adequately addressing: (1) how to preserve existing affordable housing (2) equitable distribution of affordable housing in all 7 wards (3) displacement that result from new development (4) using the current criteria to determine eligibility for affordable housing, which is based on the area median income (AMI) – $110,000 a practice that hurts our communities because it creates a barrier to housing options (5) lack of equitable economic development in Wards 7 & 8 as compared to other wards (6) concerns about words like “stable neighborhoods” “protecting neighborhood character,” which might suggest or be misused in a way that perpetuates segregation and exclusion (7) language that weakens ability of citizens to appeal zoning decisions and the weakens requirement for new development to fit the character of its surrounding neighborhood.

THE NUMBER OF SOUTHEAST RESIDENTS WITHOUT HEAT IS GROWING

By Linnea Champ, Greater Greater Washington
3/20/18

The number of DC residents living without adequate heat has jumped in the past five years. Residents in Ward 7 and 8 are up to eight times more likely to be living with inadequate heat compared to other wards. (By Andrea Swalec, NBC Washington, 3/19/18). Read More.

PARTICIPATE IN COMMUNITY GROCERY CO-OP SURVEY

WARD 8 EFFORT SEEKS INPUT FROM NEIGHBORS, DISTRICT RESIDENTS

By Elizabeth O'Gorek, East of the River, 3/12/18

The group working to establish a Community Grocery Cooperative (CGC) in Ward 8 is asking District residents to participate in a survey about the grocery needs of potential customers. Any District resident who might be interested in shopping at a consumer-owned grocery store located in Ward 8 is encouraged to respond.

The goals of the survey are to collect interest and retrieve enough information for the cooperative's business plan and market study. The survey will help gauge interest for a full-service consumer-owned food cooperative grocery store in the District of Columbia Ward 7 or Ward 8. Both District of Columbia Wards are known food deserts. Typically, this effort is a multi-year process to establish the food cooperative. There is no set deadline for responding to the survey. Participating teens are encouraged to express themselves creatively in spoken word, poetry, rap, fashion, dance and drawing. It is recommended for ages 13 to 19.

GROUNDBREAKING FOR PARKLAND OVERLOOK— MARCH 26, 2018

The District is revitalizing a long-abandoned housing complex near the Congress Heights Metro Station and the St. Elizabeth East Campus located at 2841 Robinson Place SE into more than 200 affordable apartments—many sized for families—preserving below-market rents in an area of the city poised for significant changes with new development. More information is provided in the article, “D.C. AUDITOR PUBLISHES DAMNING REPORT ALLEGING CHRONIC MISMANAGEMENT OF D.C.'S $1 BILLION AFFORDABLE HOUSING FUND

Alleged problems include potential fraud, under-spending on extremely low income housing, and an inability to preserve loan contracts.

By Morgan Baskin, Washington City Paper, 3/20/18. The first-ever comprehensive audit of D.C.'s Housing Preservation Trust Fund—a nine-figure coffer that provides loans and grants to developers across D.C., and is in many ways the backbone of D.C.'s affordable housing effort—is a damning one, indicating that chronic mismanagement of the fund by the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) has likely wasted tens of millions of dollars, a report published this morning by the office of the D.C. auditor says. NEW INTERACTIVE MAP DETAILS WHERE AFFORDABLE HOUSING HAS BEEN CREATED, PRESERVED IN D.C.

By Michelle Goldchain, DC Curbed, 3/20/18

The map shows projects benefited by the Housing Production Trust Fund from fiscal years 2001 through 2016. ...Already, the new tool by the Office of the District of Columbia Auditor has garnered some responses. The main takeaway cited is the issue that the creation and preservation of affordable housing has not been evenly distributed throughout the city. Instead, there have been far fewer affordable units created west of Rock Creek Park, an area of the District that is well known for being one of the most expensive places for buying a home. FOR TEENS: OPEN MIC NIGHT

Every Wednesday at 5 p.m., Capitol View Library invites you to share your favorite song, poem, rhyme, rap or performance. Not performing? Bring a friend, watch and enjoy. Fun for ages 13-19.

EMPLOYER ASSISTED HOUSING PROGRAM (EAHP)

The Employer-Assisted Housing Program (EAHP) offers eligible District government employees and first responders a deferred, 0% interest loan and a matching funds grant for down payment and closing costs to purchase their first single family home, condominium, or cooperative unit in the District. The down payment assistance is a loan for the purchase of a principal residence in the District. The loan has zero interest, and no payments are required until the property is: (1) is sold or transferred; (2) no longer occupied as principal residence; or (3) refinanced with cash out. There is no income cap for EAHP applicants, nor is there a cash contribution requirement. Read More.

INCLUSIONARY ZONING

DC's Inclusionary Zoning (IZ) Program helps city residents rent and buy places to live when they can't afford market-rate prices.

DC Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD) disposes of IZ units through a lottery process. Households interested in purchasing or leasing an IZ home must take a Inclusionary Zoning Orientation class which is provided by MHCDO on the 4th Thursday of every month from 12:00 pm – 1:00 pm. Call 202-396-1200 for more information.

THE GUITARS NOT GUNS PROGRAM

The Guitars not Guns program in partnership with NCCF AND JC NALLE Community School is looking for adult volunteers to work with students on Wednesday's from 3:30pm-5pm. Do you play the guitar? Do you have 2 hours a week to volunteer to make a huge difference of a child living in Ward 7 and 8 in DC? How the Program Works— Targeted to foster kids and at-risk youth ages 8-18 using high teacher-to-student ratios. Each class consists of a maximum of 10 students with three adult instructors. Each program is 8 weeks long with a one hour session each week. In addition to learning how to master changing from one chord to another, children learn perseverance & discipline and build self-esteem. More importantly, the kids learn to enjoy the interaction and have fun in a group setting. Those kids who complete the full 8 week program have earned the right to keep the guitar and are invited to return for a second 8-week session of more advanced instruction. They've earned it! WHY THE OFFICE OF PLANNING LIKES PUDS (AND WHY YOU SHOULD TOO)

By David Whitehead, Greater Greater Washington, 3/6/18

...the Office of Planning, Director Eric Shaw says Planned Unit Developments (PUDs) have done a lot for the city, especially when it comes to affordable housing. PUDs are a particular development process in DC where an applicant can receive zoning flexibility and relief in exchange for a set of community benefits negotiated with the city and the neighborhood. PUDs create an extra layer of community input not present in matter-of-right development. The developer and the neighborhood must come to an agreement on what extra benefits will be included in the project, which can include things like infrastructure improvements for the neighborhood or additional affordable housing. DC VOTERS TO DECIDE IN JUNE IF TIPPED WORKERS SHOULD GET SAME MINIMUM WAGE—INITIATIVE 77

By Fenit Nirappil, The Washington Post, 3/7/18

DC voters will decide whether to require restaurants to pay the minimum wage to waiters, bartenders and others who earn a "tipped wage" — a low base rate plus tips. The DC Board of Elections authorized a ballot measure (Initiative 77) for the June 19 election that would gradually increase the hourly wage — currently $3.33 — made by restaurant workers until it matches the city's minimum wage for other workers by 2026. Tipped employees were exempt from the 2016 minimum wage hike that steadily raises the floor to $15 an hour by 2020, then ties future increases to inflation. Instead, the law set a base hourly pay of $5 for tipped workers by 2020, which would also rise with inflation. Employers must make up the difference if workers don't receive enough tips to make minimum wage. Read More.
