

SB 1309

JOHN'S LAW
PROTECT PARENTS AND CAREGIVERS

John lost his life because multiple Arizona psychiatric agencies failed to obtain information from the family and did not adequately consider his son's medical, psychiatric and symptom history.

John's Law, SB1309, involves families at critical points in Arizona's system for involuntary psychiatric treatment, including during screening, petition, evaluation, admission, and court-ordered treatment. SB1309 mandates mental health agencies to collect critically important information from families, guardians, and others who have a significant relationship with the patient during involuntary psychiatric screening and evaluation.
