

Mom,

I'm sorry that I can't be there for you like Mason or Milan can right now. But, I do love you. And I am with you.

In spirit, in heart, and in mind you exist wholefully.

To make up for my distance, I have enclosed a bracelet. I would like you to wear the bracelet to each of your treatments. It is my way of being by your side.

I do not want the bracelet back until you are free of cancer. When it is returned, I will carry it with me forever.

I hope that this letter finds you in good spirits, and I look forward to seeing you in the spring.

With Love,

Myles
