DUAL PRESIDENTS ROLE TO PREVAIL FOR C.R.A.

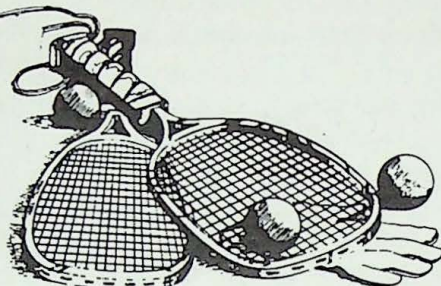

Presidents' Message

As you may be aware, the Board of Directors of the Colorado Racquetball Association accepted the resignation of John Foust as President, effective January 1, 1993. In his place John appointed Stephen Blackwood and Darlene Schafer to serve as Co-Presidents until the next election. The selection of Steve and Darlene was ratified by the current C.R.A. Board. John's reasons for leaving office mainly centered around the fact that the time requirements for his personal business were keeping him from being able to adequately perform his duties as President of the CRA. He plans to remain on the Board, and his advise and input will be invaluable as the CRA finishes the '92-'93 season.

It is our desire (Darlene & Steve) as Co-Presidents to continue the growth in the CRA that John started. We plan to do this in several different ways, so we'll just list some of the main ones here:

JUNIORS

Juniors are the future of racquetball. We are building on our Junior program with more clinics, fundraisers, and hopefully more opportunities for advancement in national programs for our Junior players. We want to make "Junior Team Colorado" a reality once again.

TOURNAMENTS

The CRA sanctioned 28 tournaments in the '92-'93 season. It is the CRA's responsibility to provide guidelines to the Tournament Directors as to player rankings, tournament format, results reporting procedures, etc., but the actual running of the tournament itself is the responsibility of the Tournament Director. That means that the decisions regarding hospitality, souvenirs, awards, entry fee, etc., are made by each individual Tournament Director. We are currently improving the working relationship between the CRA and all Tournament Directors so that the quality of all sanctioned tournaments can be enhanced.

COMMUNICATIONS

Please be aware that this is an Association. Every member of the CRA has a right to express his/her opinion about what's going on.

Colorado brings home 3 JUNIOR WORLD TITLES

The State of Colorado and the United States were well represented at the 1992 World Junior Racquetball Championships held at the Racquetpower Health & Fitness Club in Jacksonville, December 18-22. The event, sponsored by the International Racquetball Federation, brought together 270+ of the top junior racquetball competitors from around the globe. The U.S. was well represented by players from several states who not only honored themselves, but also the country with several successful outcomes.

The Colorado coalition consisted of six superstars, who as a team fared very well.

Those hailing from the Centennial State were U.S. Jr. National Team members, Amy Crocker, Grand Junction, and Jenny Meyers, Fruita. The rest of the Colorado Team included Matt Kelly, Lakewood, Phillip Law, Denver, Willie Tilton, Colorado Springs, and Molly Law, Denver.

By Darlene Schafer and Stephen Blackwood, CRA Co-Presidents

The Board of Directors are only there to govern and make decisions based on what they believe the majority of the members want. If only a few members voice their opinions, then the Board is more likely to be off-track in the eyes of the silent majority.

This point was illustrated by the last questionnaire that was printed in the ROLLOUT. Over 1,100 copies (as with every issue of the ROLLOUT) were mailed directly to members, but only 18 questionnaires were returned to the Board.

If you have concerns, ideas, or questions, please make them known. If you don't like filling out a questionnaire, write a letter, or call a Board member on the phone. You will not be ignored and it does make a difference.

THE STATE SINGLES CHAMPIONSHIPS

The planning of this year's State Singles Championships is well under way. They will be held at the Edge Athletic club, March 25-28, in Broomfield and things appear to be shaping up nicely.

Three important tidbits regarding this year's tournament should be noted. Number one - there is a $5.00 refundable fee worked into the entry fee. Although the entry is $35.00 first event, $15.00 second event, $5.00 of both the first and second entry will be given back to you upon completion of referee duties. Should you choose not to referee (it's a loser referee situation), then whoever wants to referee will receive the $5.00, with a preference in the latter going to certified referees and qualified juniors. Number two - the entry deadline is FRIDAY, MARCH 19th, 7:00pm, late entries will not be accepted. Lastly a reminder that the State Singles this year will include both age group and championship (Open, A, etc.) classifications. A player may enter a maximum of two events - but only one can be a championship event (in other words, you can't play M/A and M/B but you can play M/30 and M/35 or M/A and M/30 if you qualify.

With the growth in the CRA and the renewed enthusiasm on the Board, we are sure to do some great things together.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I am very pleased that my friends(???) at the Senior/Masters Invitational Doubles Tournament took up a collection for me at the banquet to purchase more armor (aka. helmet and knee pads).

Vicky and I want each of you to know we gave the money to help the needy over the holidays.

1993 COLLEGIATE UPDATE

Ken Autaubo, State Director

American Collegiate Racquetball Association

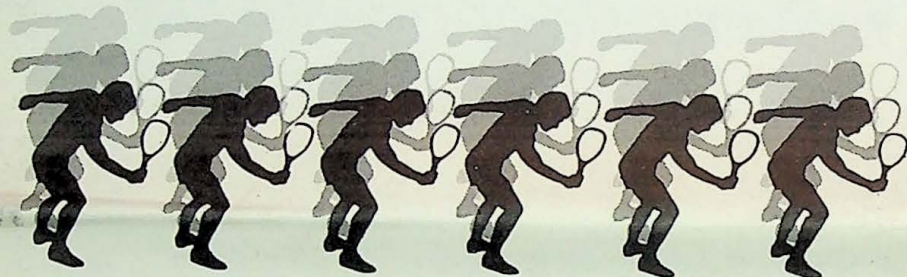

After a rather slow fall semester, collegiate racquetball is up and moving! The University of Colorado Racquetball Team will be the host to the 1993 American Collegiate Racquetball Association Rocky Mountain Region Championships. This event will take place on March 4 through 6, at the University of Colorado Recreation Center. Colleges and universities from Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Montana will be sending co-ed teams to test their skills and qualify for the ACRA World Championships. The World's will be held in Phoenix, Arizona on April 14-18.

On January 30, 1993, the CU Team will host the Air force Academy in a meet at the CU

Recreation Center. This should be an exciting clash, since the two schools competed in a tri-meet with Brigham Young University in the fall of last year.

In February, the University of Northern Colorado/Greeley and Colorado State University will be meeting at CU for fine tuning for the Regionals in March. Dates have not been set as of this writing for the February meets.

We are hoping to organize teams in several of the small colleges in the Denver Metro area. If you know of any racquetballers that are attending a college or university and are not involved in collegiate racquetball, please contact Ken Autaubo at 666-8947.

Minnesota Racquetball Player Lucky Winner in Ektelon's Eminence Sweepstakes

David Shogren is finally retiring his old "Magnum" racquetball racquet..which should put an end to the ribbing he's taken from his fellow players for using the ancient Ektelon frame. Shogren is the latest winner of a free racquetball racquet in Ektelon's Eminence Sweepstakes. Ten lucky racquetball players will win a free Eminence Graphite RTS over-size racquet from Ektelon - one each month from September 92 through June 93 - to celebrate the introduction of the firm's new flagship frame.

Pro Kennex Donation helps AARA Junior Racquetball, Community Outreach Programs

Pro Kennex, on behalf of its Marty Hogan Racquetball division, has made a donation of 4000 racquetball racquets to the AARA, to benefit the Association's junior racquetball and community outreach programs.

Each of the AARA's state racquetball presidents will have access to a portion of the Pro Kennex racquet allotment, as well as a supply of protective eyewear and t-shirts that was also donated by the San Diego-based company. The merchandise is earmarked to assist in the continuation or development of junior racquetball programs, as well as for use by underprivileged youths.

TEAM USA APPLICATIONS

Applications are now available for juniors interested in applying for Team USA. All junior players are encouraged to complete an application. The applications are evaluated and points are awarded in four areas, with a possible total of 100 points. The areas evaluated are: academics - 30 points, tournament evaluation - 30 points, other information (such as awards, court conduct, sportsmanship, willingness to referee and help at events, sociability, appearance, etc.) and miscellaneous - 10 points.

Applications must be received before Friday, May 14, 1993. If you are interested and would like to receive an application contact either Stacy Sour, C.R.A. Junior Chairperson, at 762-8168, or Darlene Schafer at 650-0979.

C.R.A. JUNIOR Grant Denied

Due to a revised formula for centralized funding to national governing bodies (in this case the AARA) by the United States Olympic Committee, the AARA Executive Committee recently voted to adjust the AARA budget and cut funds for both State Grants and Council Expenses. The AARA will however support any grants with product if it applies.

Unfortunately this will negate many hours of hard work by Renee Law and Stacy Sour who prepared a junior grant proposal of which was presented to the AARA. The C.R.A. junior committee is currently investigating other methods of raising funds for our state juniors. If you have ideas and/or are willing to make a donation to the junior fund contact Stacy Sour at 762-8168.

JUNIOR INFORMATION WANTED

If you have an accomplishment worth noting, or know someone who does, and you would like to see that accomplishment in print ...let us know. It could be a high grade point average, a sports achievement other than racquetball, anything of general interest.

If your club is currently hosting junior clinics and/or camps and would like some free publicity, we'll do that as well. Let others hear about these junior activities and achievements. Contact John Foust, ROLLOUT editor, at 699-8121.

Junior National Team TRYOUTS

By: Amy Crocker, Grand Junction

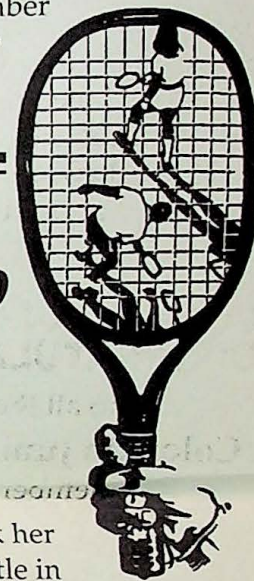

At the Junior Nationals in Salt Lake City in June 1992, the coaching staff selected 46 juniors to try out for Junior Team U.S.A. The team was to consist of seven boys and seven girls. The try-out camp was September 1-6.

At the beginning of the week everyone was evaluated equally because Jerry Hilecher, Junior Team U.S.A. coach, did not know anyone and nobody was appointed to the team previously. The intense morning workouts increased each day from three mile runs, to stomach burning leg lifts. Thanks Jim!! Interesting jokes were the key topic on the bus rides to the club.

Everybody's goal for the week was to make the team. Thursday night would determine the new Junior Racquetball Team. When the names are posted, do you go look, do you wait, or do you cry? With all these emotions running through our minds, we proceeded to the posted names. With circles around our names it said it all! We are members of the team! WOW, What a relief!!

Our hard work and dedication paid off. All the endless hours on the court and traveling adventures were worth our while. Honor would be the best word to describe being a member of the Junior Team.

EDITORIAL EDITORIAL

"What's Happened to Sportsmanship in Racquetball?"

By: John Foust

Is it my imagination, or are things getting a little too serious out there on our racquetball courts? To my knowledge it's not like any one of us is knocking down a quick $50,000 a year playing in local amateur tournaments. Even if someone was, I'm not sure the incidents we've had this year warrant the kind of behavior we've seen. It hasn't been fun for the players, spectators, referees, or much less the tournament director and host club.

Racquetball is an intense sport. I compare it with high school wrestling. It's not a team sport, it's an individual, one on one competition. This in its self can cause problems because people not used to this type of competition take things way too personal in the heat of a match. I'm personally convinced it's this intense disposition of the sport that inhibits more women from playing in open tournaments.

It's not an overly social sport like tennis. In tennis I hit the ball to you, it goes over the net, you hit it back. No one worries about hinders and calling balls in and out is substantially easier. This isn't to say a tennis match can't be intense, it's just not as intimidating.

It's not like all the problems lay with the players. Knowledgeable and competent referees can be hard to find. It's a catch 22. Lower class players who are trying to go through the ranks and learn many times are discouraged by the attitude and verbal attacks they must endure when an honest mistake has been made. Yes, there are also just some seriously bad referees. Players who only care about their match, not yours. More times than not it's the open level or A level player who is the worst. They want you to do a good job on their match, but yours? Most open level players would rather sit there, watch the match, and make snide comments about whomever is on the court at the time. This type of attitude has a way of filtering through to other players who may look up to these people for direction.

Sportsmanship as defined by Websters dictionary reads "Someone who observes the rules of play and wins or loses with grace". This shouldn't be that difficult. This year we've had players confronting referees to fight, spectators giving the old "your number one sign" to the competitors on the court. Incidents of this nature have happened in previous years, but where does it stop, and when?

You can play hard. You can be intense. You can vent some frustration just don't do it in a vile and vindictive manner that's offensive to your opponent and those who happen to be watching. Set an example, don't be one.

Give some credit to Ektelon for at least trying to do their part in getting a handle on the problem. This year one of their most promising players was dropped from their program for conduct unbecoming of a Ektelon team player. This wasn't the first time this has happened. In the mid-80's Ektelon dropped a current state champ for virtually the same reasons. This type of behavior can't be encouraged at the overall expense of our sport. The excuse that other people do it just doesn't fly. The buck stops with you, and you alone.

People, lighten up. Have some fun. You can be a great player and observe good sportsmanship at the same time. It may be a little harder but isn't it generally true good things aren't always easy to obtain? If it means calling a skip, or an avoidable, on yourself in the interest of good, fair competition, isn't it worth it in the long run? If it isn't I suggest you take a moment to reflect on just why it is you're playing.

AARA 1993 Leadership Conference

By: Stephen Blackwood

CRA Co-Presidents, Darlene Schafer and Stephen Blackwood, attended the AARA 1993 Leadership Conference at the USOTC in Colorado Springs, held on January 13-17. After giving a Referee Clinic at Lynmar Racquet Club on the 13th, they checked into the USOTC and reported to the "Finish Line" where several of the other attendees had already begun to gather.

The actual Conference began at 8:00am on the 14th.

Approximately 23 State Associations were represented by 50-some odd attendees. (Some were very odd indeed!)

The Leadership Conference is an annual event that is three days jam-packed with reports on what the AARA is doing; where it is trying to go; what help and resources the AARA can provide the State Associations; reports from other State Presidents on things that have worked for them; what hasn't worked in the past; with a lot of collaborative problem-solving sessions mixed in.

The theme for this years Leadership Conference was "The Winds Of Change", and there were a couple of very big changes that may blow you away.

The first change had to do with the fact that the AARA is in the process of realigning the currently recognized "Regions" and changing their philosophy with regards to "Regional championships". They haven't got any solid ruling on this yet, the requirements for the three different levels of Referee Certification (see page 6). Before now everyone took the same written test as part of each level of certification. That meant that by the time you got certified at Level III, you had seen the same written test at least three times. Now each level of certification has its own test, with each growing in difficulty, and in order for anyone to become Level III certified they must attend a three day Referee Clinic at the USOTC in Colorado Springs.

(That's good for CRA members, but not so good for members of the Alaska Racquetball Association!)

Yes, it was a windy three days in the city under the shadow of Pikes Peak, and the representatives from the CRA they called "Co-Presidents" were received with interest by several of the attending states. Some State Association Presidents marveled at the Coloradons' foresight and ingenuity at splitting the work-load of a volunteer position into two equal parts, thereby creating a more efficient office. (That is to say, once the questions of "Co-Dependency" and "Co-habitation" were clarified.) Some were even overheard to say that they were going to propose the idea to their Association upon their return.

Not wanting to be accused of blowing my own horn, I'll stop right there.

Keith Calkins, AARA President, welcomes Darlene Schafer and Steve Blackwood to the Leadership Seminar at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs.

but the AARA will be changing their terminology also, to reflect this: "Adult Regional Championships" will become "Adult Metro Championships", in addition to setting up some sort of "Metro Grand-Prix". The "Grand-Prix" would be to encourage players to compete in several "Metro's" in order to gain "Grand-Prix points" as they work toward the National Singles.

By doing this, the AARA feels that it will give the Tournament Committee more accurate information to use for seeding at Nationals, and that it will give the players the opportunity for more "high level" competition prior to the National Singles Championships. (Because there will be more "Metro's" than there currently are "Regions", and a player will gain points the more "Metro's" they play in.)

Another big change you may have caught wind of, was

P.A.R.I. Certification Scheduled for AUGUST

Interested in becoming a certified racquetball instructor? Want to learn more about the programming aspects of our sport? If so mark your calendar for August 12 and 13th and plan to attend the Professional Association of Racquetball Instructors (P.A.R.I.) clinic and certification at the Aurora Athletic Club.

This is a two fold clinic, taught by U.S. Team coach Fran Davis, in which participants may choose to become a certified instructor, or attend the one day program which allows the participant to become a P.A.R.I. member and receive programming information and ideas without becoming a certified instructor.

If you're interested in teaching your sport in a professional and responsible manner, or would like to expand your programming knowledge to make your club a better place, this clinic is for you.

It's the A.A.R.A.'s version of the United States Tennis Professional Association. Don't miss this exciting opportunity. More details will be forthcoming.

LAC's Holiday Classic

Over 200 players competed in this year's Holiday Racquetball Classic sponsored by Lakewood Athletic Club, RJR Circuits and HEAD SPORTS.

In the Open Division, Tony Boscia defeated Bobby Rodriguez, Jr., in an exciting tie-breaker, while a surprising Deb Gridley rose to the occasion defeating Martha Bailey in the semis and Stacy Sour in the finals.

Best quote of the tournament came from Women's Open Player, Martha Bailey. A note written on her entry form, with the sincerity and pleasantness that Martha has, said: "I CAN'T PLAY THURSDAY OR FRIDAY AND CAN I PLAY IN THREE EVENTS?!"

The tournament was great and plans are under investigation to incorporate next year's Holiday Classic with a PRO STOP. Anyone interested in helping to bring a pro stop back to Colorado should contact Marianne Alonzi or John Adams at 989-5545.

LOCKER ROOM TALK

Another sign that racquetball has made it into the 90's. A designer car tag spotted on a Jeep Cherokee that reads "RKTBAL". A true enthusiast or a dysfunctional person with a strange name? You be the judge.

Cherry Creek Sporting Club member Mike Cole is currently in the process of organizing an "Old Timers Tournament" for sometime this summer. The event would be fun nature and directed more at recognizing and bringing together old time players rather than the competitive aspects. If your interested in being a part of the organizing committee Mike's looking for 6 or 7 people to help out. Call him at 322-4709.

John Mooney with long hair and a pierced earring? Sound to good to be true? It may well happen if $5,000 is raised on behalf of the scholarship fund prior to the National Championships in Houston. The long hair is debateable, but John has agreed to wear the pierced earring the week of Nationals if the goal is reached. I don't know about you but this certainly seems worthwhile on both fronts. Send your donations to: A.A.R.A., Scholarship Fund, Attn: John Mooney, 815 N. Weber, Colorado Springs, CO, 80903.

"Do you know the way to San Jose?", or in the case of Steve Holzapfel how about Chicago. Steve, our man on the move, is apparently leaving the Mile High City for the Windy City. He will still be employed as Athletic Director by CSI, the management team that runs the IAC/Aurora, and will be working for a former director of the Cherry Creek Sporting Club, Rick Erdenberger. Best wishes to Steve and his family. ▼

Steve Holzapfel points the way to Chicago as Senior/Master Doubles partner Dick Manson looks on.

Play-A-Pro Clinics at both the Aurora Athletic Club and the Lakewood Athletic Club. The clinics were sponsored in part by Ektelon.

Condolences to Kathy Bowden of the Denver Sporting Club who's father recently passed away. On behalf of all Colorado players, our sympathies are with you.

In the how fair is this really department. How can you guarantee a $750.00 minimum prize fund for men yet prorate the women's prize fund and not even list what the prorated amount for women will start from? Something about this just doesn't seem right. And then people wonder why women's open racquetball doesn't seem to grow. Could one determining factor be a lack of consistency and commitment starting with tournaments and tournament directors?

America's Most Wanted Racquetball Camps back in town on April 17/18th at the Denver Sporting Club. It's a good way to improve your game. Call 1-800-ROLLOUT (copycats) for more information.

If anyone knows of a former state champ, division unknown, from 1983 or 1984, by the name of Bill J. (last name unknown as well), please have him call Irv Sheffield at 573-5605. I'd like to give you more details but they are unknown also.
