THE MORE THE MERRIER

by Linda Mojer

By summer's end it's practically impossible to find any less than four players occupying court space in Florida. In rapid succession, State, Regional and National Doubles Championships highlight the tournament calendar, and local warmups offer plenty of practice to teams in the weeks preceding the end-of-season events. The result? Florida pairs are well trained and ready to earn big points for "Team Florida" in Baltimore over the Halloween weekend.

Few Surprises at States

In spite of approaching Hurricane Gilbert, both long-established and "experimental" teams took to the newly-painted courts of the Sarasota Bath and Racquet Club throughout the last weekend of August. Handled by experienced directors Charlie Nichols, Lara and Judi Schmidt, the tournament ran very close to schedule and players were kept happy and well fed for the duration.

One of the newer teams to dazzle spectators on this particular weekend was the Men's Open match-up of Terry Fluharty and Paul Owens. The vastly differing styles of these outstanding singles players seemed to be perfectly balanced — with Terry going all-out for spectacular "airborne" retrievals while Paul waited patiently for the occasional passing shot which he proceeded to roll out again and again. With that game plan, the two burst out of the starting gate against south Florida's Oscar Alvarez and Jimmy Alvarado, then followed up with an equally impressive quarterfinal win over John Schneider and Jason Waggoner. Fluharty and Owens ran out of steam, however, and could not get past #1 seeded Tim Hansen and Sergio Gonzalez in the semi-final.

Curtis Winter and left-hander Glenn Warren also made a commanding debut as a team at States, defeating Vinnie Ganley and Randy Pfahler to reach the semi-finals against #2 seeds Mark Morrison and Charlie Nichols. In spite of excellent shot-making by Warren and the acrobatics we've come to love from Winter, the untested Jacksonville team could not keep Morrison and Nichols from setting up a repeat of their Sunshine State Game final against Hansen and Gonzalez.

In the final, game two was the one to watch. After losing to Tim and Sergio 15-8 in the first, Mark and Charlie pulled out all the stops to amaze an appreciative crowd. The occasional signal got crossed and Morrison at one point virtually climbed up and over his partner to retrieve a shot. At the same time, Charlie put his foot speed into overdrive and kept a series of shots in play that anyone else would have surrendered as soon as they were hit. The score of the second game was a close 15-12, but the tie-breaker ended swiftly in an 11-1 win for Hansen and Gonzalez.

The Women's Open division also attracted "new and improved" teams made up of Florida's most talented female singles players. Inches taller (and possibly blonder) than the last time they played together, Amy Simonetta and Hannah Spector tickled their long-time coach Judi Schmidt by relying on memory to execute shots they had obviously forgotten since their last tournament. The two youngsters first recalled how to get their racquets up, then amazed themselves with pinch, pass and ceiling shots that came out winners. Despite being "rusty," they made a fine showing in their first round against Linda Diamond and Diane Fields, then made an inspired but unsuccessful bid against first-time partners Julie Pinnell and Martha McDonald in the semi-final round.

In the upper half of the draw, top-seeded Mary Lyons and Susan Morgan earned the draw's only bye, then made fairly quick work of Brenda Grossnickel and Kersten Hallander to reach the final against Pinnell and McDonald. Once on the court, many years of court experience as doubles partners gave the edge to Lyons and Morgan, who captured the 1988 state title with a win of 15-14, 15-11.

Proving that mixed doubles is becoming more and more popular in Florida, the Mixed Open draw rounded out nicely with a total of sixteen teams representing every part of the state. Martha and Greg McDonald headed the list of seeded teams, followed by Susan Morgan/Curtis Winter, Kersten Hallander/Jason Waggoner and Diane Green/Charlie Nichols. Even though she had only just returned from the World Games in Germany, Diane Green was able to do her part in reaching the finals against Morgan and Winter. From there, she and Charlie continued their winning ways to take the match 15-10, 15-11.

Other noteworthy wins at the state level included a grueling five-round trek by Manuel Shaw and Jeff Stanifer in Men's C, (winning a tiebreaker against Tom Rogers and Rick Tesar with scores of 8-15, 15-11, 11-4); a four-match run by Randy Enos and Marc Landau in Men's B (defeating David Stewart and Marshall Weiner 12-15, 15-9, 11-9); and another four rounds for Scott Consoli and Kevin Gallagher in Men's A (taking the title from Donny Morrow and Gary Weinzierl in straight games of 15-10, 15-10).

Region Four Sweep

Only one month later, these same titlists were at it again, this time pitting themselves against other state contenders as well as hopefuls from the remaining Region Four states of Georgia, North and South Carolina. Switching to a diagonal coast, the Regionals were hosted by RacquetPower in Jacksonville, where over 250 players enjoyed a full weekend of fine hospitality and excellent doubles action.

The well-seasoned "tournament directors tag-team" of Mary Lyons, Susan Morgan and Curtis Winter kept things rolling smoothly through Saturday evening, when Mary felt the urge to get a few things "off her chest." Not to be outdone, JR Sprout and Bob White were also prompted to "take things off" and provide a hilarious (but nowhere-near-Olympic) synchronized swimming performance for an easily amused crowd. By comparison, Sunday morning's final matches were a breeze, and the entire event was brought to a subdued and successful conclusion by 4:00.

Fine-tuning and a few substitutions between State Doubles and Regionals had some spectators confused, but familiar faces still turned up in the majority of the finals. With Sergio Gonzalez studying hard at Memphis State University and Charlie Nichols at Cal State/Sacramento since early September, Tim Hansen and Mark Morrison were forced to choose first-rate replacements for the Men's Open. Fred Calabrese fit the left-side bill for Hansen, while Brent Huber took up an available position to the right of Morrison.

These teams turned out to be just as good as the originals, and the two top-seeded pairs reached the finals after three rounds of play, as expected. On their way, Hansen and Calabrese defeated Mike Peyton/Brian Phillips in straight games of 15-9, 15-7 and won an 11-3 tie-breaker against Oscar Alvarez/Jimmy Alvarado. In the lower half of the draw, Morrison and Huber advanced against Mike Hartman/David Woody before closing Curtis Winter/Glenn Warren out of the final with a straight game win of 15-12, 15-4. On Sunday, Hansen and Calabrese were calm, direct and deliberate in their capture of the regional title, winning it in two games of 15-9, 15-11.

Another month-long shake-up among the Women's Open doubles players affected all but the top-seeded team of Susan Morgan and Mary Lyons, who breezed into the final past Pam Goddard and Angie Gurley with a match win of 15-4, 15-1. Martha McDonald and Kersten Hallander were placed in the #2 slot and reached the final by defeating Lori Basch/Brenda Grossnickel 15-5, 15-9. In the final, Morgan/Lyons got an early lead by winning the first game 15-1. McDonald/Hallander then returned the favor by taking the second 15-5. In the tie-breaker, Susan and Mary took their turn to heart and earned a definitive title win with a final score of 11-0.

The remaining women's skill divisions attracted larger numbers of players than had been seen at States, making regional title wins even harder to achieve. Tie-breaker finals were the order of the day: Debby Mayer and Debbie Revis defeated the south Florida team of Jo Kenyon/Lynne Balthazor in Women's A with scores of 10-15, 15-12, 11-4; Beverly Dill and Laura Kliemeyer won Women's B over Kim Baran/Rachel Smith 11-15, 15-10, 11-4; and Kim Yedinak/Lisa Blanchard warmed up to an 8-15, 15-5, 11-3 win over Terri Costill/Patti Cromwell in Women's C.

"Mary Lyons shares her Gumby impression with Eugene Melton prior to a match."

The Jacksonville Athletic Club continued its annual series of racquetball and bi-rak-it tournaments with a mid-August event which kept players on their toes well into the wee hours. Scheduling over 200 players on seven courts is tough at best, yet tournament directors Susan Morgan and Curtis Winter kept their good humor from start to finish. ## FRA NEWSflash

Scott Reiff attended the AARA Elite Training Camp at the Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs in July and reports on a tremendous experience:

Each day was a great workout, starting at 6:00 AM when we ran three to five miles. We worked on all aspects of racquetball from the mental game to different strategies, practiced all types of drills, and listened to lectures by many of the best instructors in the country. Caryn McKinney, Fran Davis, Jim Winterton, Dan Obemsky, Stu Hastings and the new national men's professional champion Ruben Gonzalez observed the "students" and gave playing tips wherever help was needed.

Even our "day off" included a workout. A handful of people ran up a foothill of Pikes Peak — a seven mile climb up and back which took an average of two hours. The Olympic Training Center added even more by providing dorm space to each participant, and preparing the best cafeteria-style food ever tasted (lobster and shrimp one day, sirloin the next).

Mark Hurst was the subject of a sports write-up by Ken McVay in the Panama City News Herald on July 7th. The piece focused upon the Olympic dreams of the youngster, cited his recent Junior National accomplishments, and carried a large photo of Mark drilling a forehand in a practice session. Keep up the good work!

Jo Kenyon has been in the news frequently over the past months, most notably in the "Faces in the Crowd" section of the August 29 issue of Sports Illustrated. Jo was cited for her Women's 50+ and 55+ title wins at National Singles, and her photo was centered on the last page of the issue among five other athletes with outstanding achievements in golf, baseball, weightlifting, horseshoes and track. In addition to the national coverage, Jo received a silver bowl from the magazine, engraved with her name and the date, to commemorate her selection for the feature.

In its September 25 edition, the News/Sun Sentinel also ran a good-sized photo of Jo, along with a report on her string of 22 match wins to earn both the Women's 50+ and 55+ titles at the Women's National Masters Invitational in Albuquerque last month. Jo is pictured below with her plaques (in the shape of New Mexico) from that tournament.

RANKING INFORMATION:

*All individuals marked with an asterisk within the skill divisions are no longer eligible to compete in that division, and must be placed in the next higher skill draw in Florida tournament play. This notation is made to help tournament directors eliminate sandbagging, and as an incentive to players to "move up" in ability by competing in the next skill level.

The "cut-off" levels are: "A" = 230 & up, "B" = 180 & up, "C" = 130 & up, "D" = 80 & up. Once a player has reached the maximum point designation in the listed skill divisions, he/she must play at the next higher level. For details on the "cut-off" list policy and procedures, please contact any Florida Racquetball Association Board Member.

Ranking positions are based upon total points earned by reaching the quarterfinals or higher at AARA/FRA sanctioned events over a constant twelve month period. Point awards are based upon the following schedule:

| Event Level = | 1  | 2  | 3   | 4   | 5   | 6   |
|---------------|----|----|-----|-----|-----|-----|
| 1st place     | 30 | 50 | 150 | 250 | 300 | 600 |
| 2nd place     | 20 | 30 | 100 | 150 | 200 | 400 |
| 3rd place     | 15 | 20 | 75  | 100 | 150 | 300 |
| 4th place     | 10 | 15 | 50  | 75  | 100 | 200 |
| 5-8 place     | 5  | 10 | 25  | 50  | 75  | 100 |

- Level 1 = Closed State Tournament
- Level 2 = Open Tournament
- Level 3 = State Championship
- Level 4 = Regional Championship
- Level 5 = National Invitational
- Level 6 = National Championship

The rankings in this issue include those points earned by singles players in the following tournaments: Sunshine State Games (07/07) Olympiad (07/22), Quadrangle (08/05), Jacksonville Athletic Club (08/12).

AARA NOTES

US Wins World Games:

With more than a little help from two women players from Florida, the US National Racquetball Team dominated a field of twenty-three countries at this year's World Games, winning three out of four individual gold medals, plus earning the Women's Team Title and the overall World Cup. The competition was held in Hamburg, Germany, over an extremely demanding eight day period, during which the team conducted itself in a highly professional manner — both in victory and defeat.

With so many countries making great strides in the game, it's no longer easy for the US to breeze into the finals of world competition. When the points were tallied and came up even for the top two countries, only one crucial doubles match, won by Florida's own Diane Green and Trina Rasmussen, kept the World Cup out of Canadian hands. It can't get much closer than that.

Junior Orange Bowl Contract Signed:

The World Congress of the International Racquetball Federation has signed a five-year agreement with the Junior Orange Bowl organization of Miami, Florida, designating the tournament as the annual Junior World Championships of Racquetball.

State Team Scoring at National Events:

Did you know that, as a group, players from Florida unofficially secured the overall "team title" at this year's National Singles Championships? AARA President Van Dubolsky says its so, and here is how we did it: Everyone is eligible to score points for his or her state. Points are awarded as follows: 1 point to all consolation winners; 1 point to anyone who makes the final 16 (finishing 9th-16th IF the division has 32 or more players); 2 points to anyone who makes the quarter-finals (finishing 5th-8th) in any division; 4 points for finishing fourth; 6 points for finishing third; 8 points for second; and 12 points for first.

Doubles teams earn these same points but each player earns half (This way players from different states earn their points for their state!) ONLY TWO PLAYERS PER STATE, PER DIVISION COUNT TOWARD TEAM SCORING. One final clarification: These points do not accumulate as a player progresses through a division. In other words, a player does not earn 32 or 33 points for winning a division — points are awarded only for final position. For example, a National champion earns a total of 12 points for his or her team, a runner-up earns 8 points.

"Bragging Rights" for this year's National Doubles state title are up for grabs, so remember that everyone with a Sunshine State address is a member of TEAM FLORIDA!

ATTENTION PRESCRIPTION EYEGGLASS WEARERS!

It's been over a year now since the mandatory eyeguard ruling went into effect. Beginning in January of 1989 the FRA will strictly enforce the ruling with immediate forfeiture — especially in the case of players who routinely wear regular eyeglasses on the court. Please don't make us do it!

Instead, have Santa do you a favor. Ask for a pair of approved eyeguards, fitted with your prescription lenses, for Christmas. With your "four-eyes," you already have an advantage over those who are unaccustomed to wearing glasses — so don't let an "oversight" cause you to forfeit an important match in the coming year.

THE BOOK ON MARK MORRISON

by Mike Mojer & Mike Smith

From high school football glory, to three-wall outdoor fame, to four-wall notoriety, and to a National Championship title in just ten years. Although alot of people think that Mark Morrison just happened to become the National 25+ champion overnight, nothing could be farther from the truth.

"Mr. Nice Guy" started playing racquetball after a very interesting high school football career. If he had accepted a scholarship to the University of Virginia after his graduation from Merritt Island High in 1976, he might very well have achieved national prominence in an entirely different sport — and possibly never even have picked up a racquet. But, for some strange reason, this outstanding athlete got hooked on racquetball and was soon beating all the top players in Brevard County.

In 1978, he wandered into The Racquetball in Orlando, threw his racquet into the challenge court and announced that he was in town to beat anyone who got on the court with him. At that time he was not quite ready for the big time, and was sent back to the beaches to perfect his game. Only a few months later he began showing up at tournaments, playing in the "B" division and winning his share of trophies. The rest is history.

Although "the Animal" is known for his tough and tenacious playing style, he has also earned a reputation as a clean player who won't take a cheap shot or a bad call, and will not (nor has he ever needed to) steal points from anyone.

Whenever you see a crowd gather at a major tournament, look for Mark. He is a pleasure to watch due to extraordinary athletic skills which often send him diving, jumping and sliding — or hurdling opponents and partners alike — to retrieve a shot. In many ways, he is the Ruben Gonzales of Florida.

One of his most memorable tournaments was the 1983 Captain Crunch Invitational in Montgomery, Alabama. In it he beat Mike Ray in the quarterfinals, Sergio Gonzalez in the semis and Andy Roberts in the finals. That's world-class racquetball, in anyone's book.

| Education:  | 1976 Graduate of Merritt Island High, was offered an athletic scholarship to the University of Virginia.                                                                                                                                                   |
| Strengths:  | Has evolved from a heavy-hitter, willing to bludgeon the ball with anyone, to a very intelligent, controlled player. Has the most classic backhand stroke on the tour. An interesting personal strength is his gentle demeanor and kindness with children. |
| Weaknesses: | On several occasions, during a crunch game, he does not concentrate on his second serve, endangering the game and match.                                                                                                                                   |
| Goals:      | Wants to develop a Pro/Am tour in Florida which will hopefully unite the racquetball gypsies with the Florida Racquetball Association.                                                                                                                     |
| Overview:   | A very dominant force on the courts. Even when he plays "pick-up" games, he wants to win. One of the smartest competitors you will find in the state.                                                                                                      |

MORE RACQUET NEWS

Unless AMF/Voit or Diversified Products introduce new racquets in the next few months, this may conclude our brief series of reviews featuring equipment from "the other guys." In the coming year, we'll give Ektelon and Head the opportunity to show off a selected product line in the pages of FRA NEWS. Until then, let's look at two up-and-coming racquets which are gaining popularity in the southeast.

The RichCraft Midsize "Odyssey"

Of RichCraft's newly released "NXT Series," the mid-sized "Odyssey" (center racquet pictured below) weighs in at 235 grams. Its frame is injection-molded of structural layers of high-modulus graphite, ceramic and boron, with a string tension of 45 lbs. The racquet is designed for the "intermediate to advanced player wanting the explosive power of graphite and boron coupled with ceramic to provide feel and control while dampening harmful shock and vibration." The suggested retail price of the Odyssey is $150.00.

RichCraft uses a marketing approach which emphasizes computer-assisted design and high-tech production of racquets made exclusively in the United States. Frame materials are heated to over 600 degrees and hydraulically injected into molds held together under 300 tons of pressure. String passages are also molded during this process, eliminating a second production stage in which string holes are normally drilled into a racquet frame. In bypassing this step, RichCraft claims to produce the only 100% continuous fiber frame in the industry.

In Florida, Robby's/Champ's stores have been known to carry the line, and the Jacksonville Athletic Club carries a limited selection in its pro shop. For more information about RichCraft racquets, sponsored players Curtis Winter, Kersten Hallander or Linda Mojer can help, and you can reach southeast regional representative Gary Mason at Player's Choice, 2428 Kingsley Drive, Marietta, GA 30062, 404/565-1864. National headquarters: RichCraft — 2817 Empire Avenue, Burbank, CA 91504, 800/331-7143.

The FIN "Legend"

FIN racquets have been turning up on courts across the country since their highly-visible debut in the hands of US Racquetball Team members Jim Cascio and Dottie Fischl at National Singles in May. National champion Ed Remen of Virginia is also very active in the promotion of the FIN line of racquets. In Florida, Jeff Jones and Laurie Potter have gotten their hands on them, generating curiosity on the part of their opponents about the unusual frames.

The "Legend" (formerly named the Genius Graphite) is a mid-oversize racquet made of 80% graphite and 20% fiberglass and is priced in the $150.00 range. Measured in ounces, its strung weight is listed as 8.3 to 8.6 (approximately 235 to 243 grams), and string tension is between 38-45 lbs.

The product of ten years of research and development by Australian tennis pros and engineers, FIN "power control" frames are completely split at the base of the racquet head. A patented nylon plug is then fitted into the space and strung into the frame, completing the "vibration-free system" (VFS). Brochure copy explains the effect:

"As the ball makes contact with the strings it exerts pressure on both arms of the frame, moving them upward and inward. This creates a spoon-like effect on the string surface, automatically lifting up balls hit on the low side, and pulling down those hit on the high side." By directing balls into the sweet spot, the system boasts "extra power, greater accuracy and more precise control, while eliminating vibration."

Currently FIN USA manufactures three racquetball racquets, all of which are available through Doug Smith of Network Marketing, 3844 Shawnee Run, Lilburn, GA 30247, 404/979-9707. National headquarters: FIN USA, 150 Wright Brothers Drive, Suite 500, Salt Lake City, Utah 84116, 800/255-7796.

FRA BOARD REPORT

by Linda Mojer

August FRA Board Meeting

During State Doubles the FRA Board of Directors met at length to discuss a series of policy and procedural issues which have come up over the past months.

One of the first topics discussed was the board's decision to enroll in a credit card program sponsored through the Florida Amateur Sports Council and Barnett Bank. In 1989, FRA members will receive a special VISA card offer from FASC which will generate revenue for the association based upon the number of cards issued and a percentage of charge sales. This program is very similar to the one offered by the AARA earlier this year.

Status reports on the intercollegiate program, the newsletter, referee certification and fund-raising efforts were given, and all current projects seemed to be on track and active. A project to enhance the state computer rankings was discussed, with Lori Basch and Julie Pinnell placed in charge of its development.

A major policy revision of the state sanctioning guidelines was discussed and the following changes made: 1) The radius limit between sanctioned tournaments was reduced from 200 miles to 100 miles. 2) Re-emphasized: when cash awards are offered in sanctioned events, equal amounts must be advertised for both men and women, without exception. Directors may still stipulate a minimum draw, but pro-rata awards may not be reduced by more than 50%. 3) Unattended kegs are not permitted at sanctioned events. This is designed to provide minimal liability protection to clubs and the FRA.

Remaining discussion revolved around the burning issue of "dual-skill" entries and how to deal with winners as they advance through two skill divisions. An Alabama model was cited, in which divisions were separated into "primary" (age) and "secondary" (skill) categories. Players may enter one primary and one secondary division, but not two secondaries (A and B for example). The board will consider adopting this system at the next meeting.

The terms of board members Libby Laney, Linda Mojer, Gene Owen, Judi Schmidt and Ed Vlock are slated to end this year, and Jim Thompson has relinquished his position on the board. In order to be considered for re-appointment to one of these six positions, current members must submit a letter of intent and a resume of board activities by October 30. The next board meeting was scheduled for November 12, 1988.
