FRA STATE SINGLES OPENS 1990 SEASON

The Florida Racquetball Association opened the 1990 season in mid-February by moving its State Singles to one of Florida's most popular tournament sites — Racquetpower in Jacksonville. Experienced tournament staffers, under the direction of club pro Mary Lyons, managed to keep the 320 players well-fed and hundreds of matches on schedule throughout the long weekend.

Engel Sweeps Men's Open

High School sophomore Allan Engel of Bradenton undoubtedly played the best racquetball of his seven-year career to win the Men's Open title at State Singles this year. The sixteen year-old was seeded fourth in the tournament, following Charlie Nichols, Robbie Walden and Jason Waggoner. All four of the top seeds made it to the semi-final as planned, before upsets by Walden and Engel made it a no-holds-barred Bradenton playoff.

Admittedly, several of Florida's finest were notably absent (Fred Calabrese, Tim Hansen and Sergio Gonzalez), yet Engel still had his hands full with the likes of Brent Huber (15-14, 15-6), Curtis Winter (7-15, 15-10, 11-9) and Nichols (13-15, 15-12, 11-7). In the semi-final against Charlie, Alan had only one strategy: "I just had to get lucky and put the ball down whenever I could . . . a couple of times he left it up just a little bit, just enough for me to get my racquet on it." After the match, he recalled that it might have been more than a little luck "I never dive, but I hurt my hip and my knee going for shots."

Allan credits Nichols with more than just a great match, and is grateful for the inspiration the left-hander has provided. "Charlie has been a big help to me, I've gone to Sarasota to play him, he and Jason [Waggoner] have come to Bradenton. We played 4-5 times just before this tournament and I would not have won anything here if he hadn't helped out." That same talented west coast crew will continue to work together over the next few weeks in preparation for National Singles in late May.

The final was an important turning point for both Walden and Engel, as Allan recalled that "Since we were little kids, when he was in 12 and under and I was in 10 and under, we'd kid around during practice. I'd go to serve and say 'we're at 14-14, this is State Championships, right here Robbie!' We've always wanted to play each other right here — it's a dream come true."

For Walden, advancing through the bottom half of the draw to reach that point was no mean feat. Even with a bye in the first round, the #2 seeded Walden had to work past Armando Alonso of West Palm Beach (15-2, 15-8), Jacksonville's Mark Morrison (10-15, 15-13, 11-8) and US Team member Jason Waggoner of Gainesville (12-15, 15-7, 11-9).

Going into the final, Walden planned to "bore him to death with a ceiling game, run him around and play everything to his forehand." Engel was prepared to "rally to the ceiling, but re-kill every chance I get — especially with a down-the-line backhand." After the two-game split with a 15-6 win for Engel in the first and a hard-fought comeback from 10-6 to 15-14 for Walden in the second, Mark Morrison predicted the outcome:

"You have to understand that these two play each other all the time, so they know each other's game and what to do in a bad situation — if one is playing bad they each know what to do to get the easy shot. Alan is just hustling and Robbie looks like he's a little bit down. It's tough to come back from that far down in the second game and go in and win the tiebreaker. I'd say that Alan has the edge, if he keeps his mind right and doesn't think about that one point loss."

Alan did stick to business in the third game, taking the tiebreaker with a swift series of backhand points, then switching to the forehand for the winner at 11-4.

Morrison then observed of both players "For them to improve from here, its going to take one person who is really with impressed by their attitude and play to sponsor them, train them and send them out of state. Florida is a great "minor league" so to speak, but for them to really get better, they need to play in California and be able to travel to the major tournaments all around the country."

Morgan-Pfahler takes Title-Title

Jacksonville native Susan Morgan-Pfahler reclaimed both her Women's Open and Women's 30+ division titles this year from long-time opponent and tournament director Mary Lyons. In preparation for their final, Lyons planned to simply "kick her . . . uh . . . around the court. She's hitting everything, she's quick, I've just got to shoot the ball and make some of them. In the last year her game has just reached a new level and unfortunately, I haven't been able to keep up with her."

"On top of that, the Mirada has given her a backhand that she didn't have before — it's an incredible difference — so I can't count on going to that side as much. For me, the Mirada has just made me a quarter of an inch faster."

Susan Morgan-Pfahler also had a handle on her opponent going into the match, and formulated a simple game plan — "I'm going to wear her out. I know she's tired so I'm going to run her around as much as possible. She'll try to stand right in the middle of the court, kill the ball and run me around. We'll both run around, but my pinches are going good this weekend, I'm hustling and moving well, the serves are working and I feel good all around."

Morgan-Pfahler and Lyons have been playing doubles together for many years, and often meet on tournament Sundays to play in an Open final. Each has to come up with something a little bit different in order to beat the other, and the familiarity with each other game styles makes for very close games.

"Mary knows I'm going to pinch 99% of the time, so when I think she knows that I'm going to pinch, I'll try to go down the line. But alot of times she thinks I know she knows, and it turns into a guessing game. I recently started working on the down the line forehand, but I haven't been hitting it as well as I'd like — not getting many cracks — but if I can keep it close enough to the side wall she won't get a good return on it. If it's cross-court, I'll just try to pop it down the opposite side before she can get out of the corner."

In their match, both plans went into action, but it was Susan's that ended up being the most successful. A series of backhand errors by Mary kept the score low in the first game (15-9), but she staged an exciting comeback from 9-5 in the second to reach 14-14 and go for a tiebreaker. Falling back on the familiar forehand pinch for the return of serve, Susan went for the corner from 38 feet to regain the serve, then repeated the shot from front court to take the match.

Lyons loosens up her backhand.

At the moment, both players have a common goal over the coming months — that of making a good showing at the Olympic Festival in Minneapolis/St. Paul this summer. The first time appearance for Mary has her inspired. "Right now, the only reason I'm playing is to get ready for the Olympic Festival. I'm psyched to play it and I'm sure that we can compete at that level and have a shot at winning against every team on the roster so far."

The Festival "old hand" (Susan qualified at National Singles and competed in the event last summer) is looking forward to the return — "It was alot of fun last year, but with Mary going this time I'll have someone to be a buddy with. It's such an exciting feeling to be there, but I didn't really know anybody well enough to express what a great time it was. It's hard to just come back and try to tell people what a thrill it was . . . I could just stand here and talk about it all day, but you just have to be there."

Good Times, Bad Times

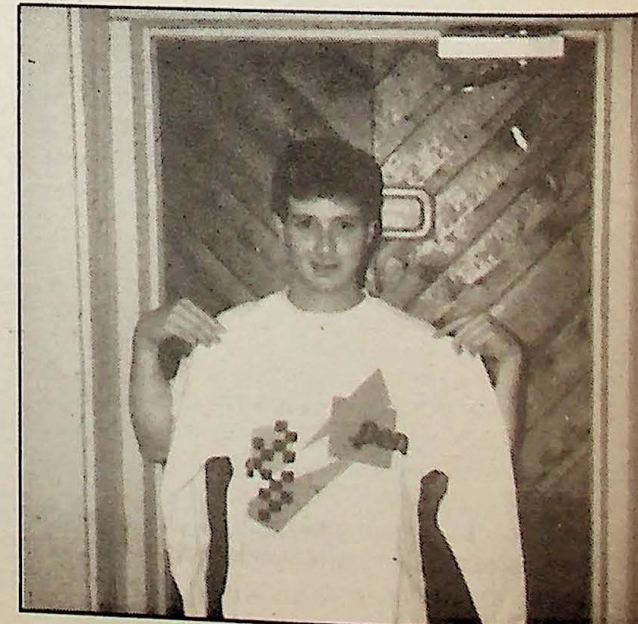

This year's state singles attracted some outstanding sponsors, who donated much of the hospitality, plenty of souvenirs and a wealth of equipment prizes. Terry Fluharty of the Orlando Sports Unlimited, along with Jacksonville and Tampa stores, provided water bottles, t-shirts, pens and equipment give-aways. Major support came from Bi-Rak-It, Hooters, Huntley Jiffy, Scores & More Sports Pub and Stouffers Food Service. Penn Racquet Sports also set up a booth to demonstrate their new racquet line and give away t-shirts, sweatshirts, gloves and balls. Frames from Richcraft and Head Sports also headed the list of prizes won by entrants on Saturday night.

On the down side, someone turned a tidy profit by stealing racquets while players were on the court. Favoring Head Sports, the thief picked up a half dozen Excaliburs and Elites before the weekend was over. The FRA offered a reward for information leading to the return of the frames, and alerted players to the presence of the roaming low-life. Losses slowed by late Saturday, but the damage had already been done.

So, players, always be sure to secure your equipment or leave it with a friend while you're on the court. AND, please contact a FRA board member if you are approached to buy any used Head equipment from a questionable source, or have any information about the "person" who is responsible for these losses. The reward can still be claimed if we can recover even a portion of the equipment and expose the undesirable to the racquetball-playing community.

Wren Stanford and Glenn Warren show off their prizes from Head and Penn.

Great Sponsors Make a Difference

While some might claim that racquetball is dying out, you'd have a hard time convincing the people in Jacksonville, where the tournament schedule is packed and local merchants support racquetball wholeheartedly. At Racquetpower, in the Mandarin suburb of Jacksonville, tournaments are set at a fast and furious pace, including State Singles (February 22-26), Region Four Singles (March 22-26) and the Tournament of the Americas (April 8-13). In support of those tournaments, club racquetball director and pro Mary Lyons does an excellent job generating enthusiasm for the sport among local businesses.

For State Singles, local tournament sponsors included Bi-Rak-It, Castleberry's, Gatorade, Holiday Inn, Hooters, Jiffy Food Stores, Sara Lee, Scores & More Sports Pub, and Stouffers. As you might guess from this list, the hospitality was outstanding. Stouffer's spread included dozens of pans of meat and vegetarian lasagnas (my favorites), Sara Lee muffins were set out for breakfast and Castleberry's, Gatorade and Jiffy Food Stores provided all the extra snacks and drinks in between.

Hooter's provided monetary support and a bevy of those famous Hooter's girls to help serve the fifty-cent beer (18 kegs-worth) and help the players keep their minds off the tensions of competition. Even though the weather turned cool, the girls braved the elements in their orange short shorts, much to the enjoyment of the crowd. And even better news — Hooter's has committed to support all three Racquetpower tournaments. So, if you missed States, don't miss Regionals!

For the players, Bi-Rak-It provided financial support as well as equipment with which to play the special Bi-Rak-It consolation event. Holiday Inn established a special room rate of $39.00 for up to four persons (for all three events). Penn Racquet Sports donated t-shirts, sweatshirts and gloves for the prize drawing, Richcraft provided several frames, and Head sent its new Excalibur, gloves and shoes. So, while everyone was exhausted from the tough competition, many slept well and went home on a full stomach, with prizes!

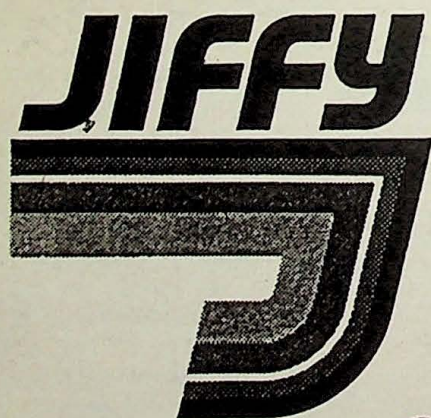

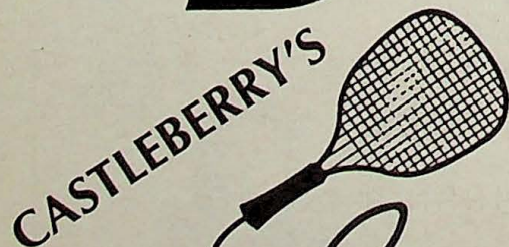

Lacers was there throughout the action-packed weekend to provide emergency stringing, gripping and tethering, along with congratulations, technical advice and any equipment items that a player might have forgotten or not even heard about yet. First Coast Promotions offered colorful racquetball t-shirts and jewelry next to a display of nutritional supplements by Performance Distribution. John Frickman of "Team New Life" offered advice and a top-selling White Flower balm for all those aches and strains of the weekend. All on-site vendors also supported the tournament with cash toward operations costs.

Even merchants not associated with the tournament got in the spirit. The neighboring Pasta Market restaurant marquee invited players in for pasta to "energize your racquetball game."

A DIFFERENCE

I hope this offers some encouragement to other club owners and managers out there who don't think they can get any support for racquetball. It just isn't so — there are some great opportunities that just take "beating the bushes" to find. Then, like Mary and Racquetpower, you can put on a tournament that is profitable, appreciated and enjoyed by players and sponsors alike. Again, our thanks to those sponsors of the "Racquetpower Big Three!"

Bi-Rak-It Makes a Difference

How do you keep all your entrants active and involved throughout a long tournament weekend? The State Singles offered a unique consolation round of Bi-Rak-It to fit that bill, forcing players to use both sides of the brains and bodies at the same time.

Anyone eliminated from play by Friday evening was invited to participate in Bi-Rak-It, a game played like racquetball but with a racquet in each hand! The racquets are small, like early frames, with a slightly larger one used by the "weak" hand. Players must develop their weak side in order to play — no backhands are allowed, no hitting into the backwall and no running way, way around to hit with your strong side.

Bi-Rak-It allows players to develop body strength and coordination on both sides of the body equally. You probably already know that if you are right handed, your right side is very likely more developed physically than your left — but what about your brain? Test your hand-eye coordination by practicing on your "unused" side to see how underdeveloped it is in relation to your racquetball game. You'll still know the court position, strategy and the right shots, but I'll bet you can't hit them!

The tournament desk provided racquets, rules, court time and referees and, in a very short time (after a few whiffs and miscues) there was some very competitive playing going on. James Walden, a player who switched to left-handed racquetball after an injury, won the division before an appreciative crowd. Players and spectators enjoyed the unusual competition, and we'd like to thank Bi-Rak-It for the opportunity to try out this great new sport.

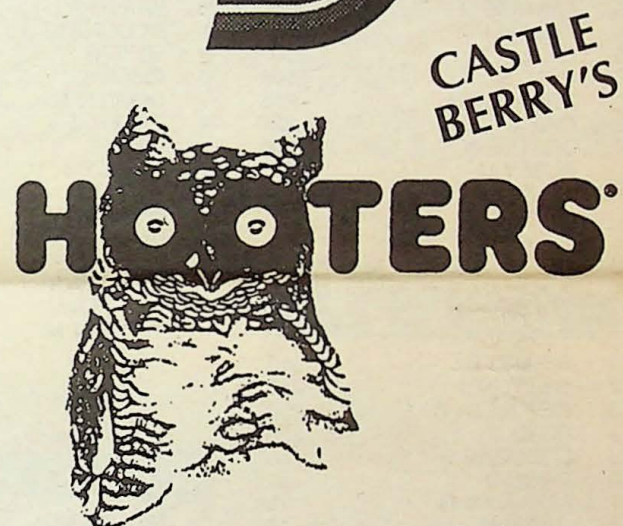

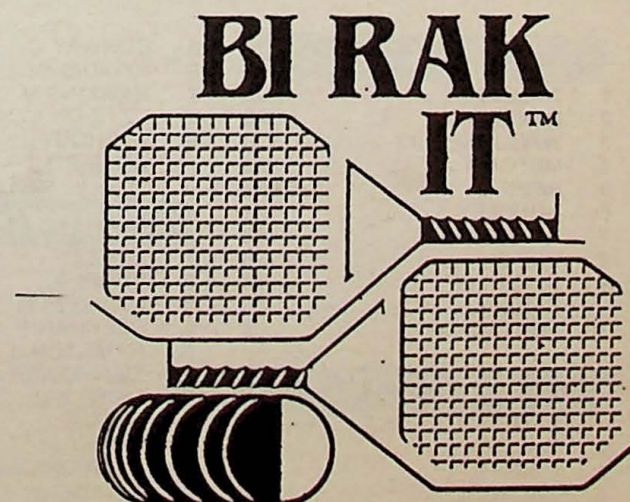

Participation Makes a Difference

State Singles players this year were challenged to hit harder, be more accurate and know their own limits. As a Penn-sponsored local and state Junior Team fundraiser, a "Top-Gun" radar contest was set up to determine the tournament's hardest hitter. Players bought five chances to hit against the gun for a $1.00 donation and side-betting conducted by Fred Stallworth and Mike Mojer netted an undisclosed amount of extra cash.

Among the juniors, an impressive top speed of 107 mph was reached by a John Stanford Jr forehand. When the big guys got to hit, the second entrant, Brian Sander, established the speed to beat with a 149 mph blast. A little later, Glenn Warren squeaked past that limit with a winning 150. An honorable mention goes to Kenny McLeod who hit five consecutive skip shots at over 90 mph. If the floor would just stay out of the way, those would be really fast. The women's top speed was set by Claudia Andrade who logged a matching 107.

For accuracy testing, cans were set up along the front wall and John Stanford and Josh Becksmith ran away with top honors for the junior crowd. The adults were determined but not as successful. Players were also given a chance to predict the average speed of three of their shots, then shoot for that number against the radar gun again. In the juniors, Wren Stanford had consistently hit in the 49-50 range, guessed that to be her average and nailed it. For the adults, Glenn Warren guessed 130 mph, then hit 145, 143 and 132 to show his good luck if not his consistency. Eugene Melton tried for 120 mph and hit 119, 121 and 126 for a winning score, but then again it's his radar gun and he's been practicing.

The names of all the participants were then put into a hat for a drawing for the thirty-seven equipment prizes donated by Penn, Head, Richcraft, and Hooters. Thanks to all the sponsors for their generosity, and to Lacers for the use of the radar gun for the competition. This was a much more exciting way to spend Saturday evening, and an innovative way to add $131.00 to the FRA Junior Fund.

RANKING INFORMATION:

*All individuals marked with an asterisk within the skill divisions are no longer eligible to compete in that division, and must be placed in the next higher skill draw in Florida tournament play. This notation is made to help tournament directors eliminate sandbagging, and as an incentive to players to "move up" in ability by competing in the next skill level.

The "cut-off" levels are: "A" = 250 & up, "B" = 200 & up, "C" = 150 & up, "D" = 100 & up. Once a player has reached the maximum point designation in the listed skill divisions, he/she must play at the next higher level. For details on the "cut-off" list policy and procedures, please contact any Florida Racquetball Association Board Member.

Ranking positions are based upon total points earned by reaching the quarterfinals or higher at AARA/FRA sanctioned events over a constant twelve month period. Point awards are based upon the following schedule:

- Level 1 = Closed State Tournament
- Level 2 = Open Tournament
- Level 3 = State Championship
- Level 4 = Regional Championship
- Level 5 = National Invitational
- Level 6 = National Championship

Event Level =	1	2	3	4	5	6
1st place	30	50	150	250	300	600
2nd place	20	30	100	150	200	400
3rd place	15	20	75	100	150	300
4th place	10	15	50	75	100	200
5-8 place	5	10	25	50	75	100

Current rankings reflect those points earned by singles players over a constant 12-month period, up to and including the events which are either featured in this issue or appear in the "Tournament Results Around the State" section. So, if the results of a tournament you played in are listed anywhere in the FRA NEWS, your points have also been calculated here. Congratulations!

NEW FRA BOARD MEMBERS NAMED

In conjunction with State Singles, the FRA Board of Directors held its annual business meeting and approved the appointment of five new members to the board. Even though eight petitions were reviewed, the board elected to fill only five actual replacement slots and keep the total number of directors at seventeen, rather than increase the size of the administrative group. The new members are:

JOHN BINKS (Winter Park) will take over the position of Intercollegiate/High School Commissioner. John recently started a team at the University of Central Florida which will travel to Berkeley for the Ektelon/IRF World Intercollegiate Championships in late March.

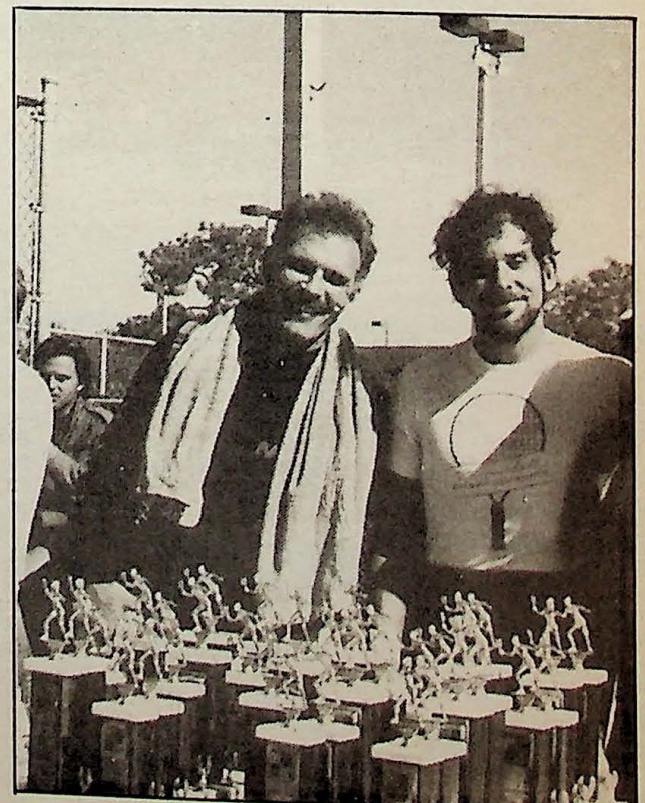

CHARLIE KRESTUL (Orlando, formerly Jacksonville) will be in charge of the Professional Association of Racquetball Instructors [PARI] program in Florida, as well as assisting the FRA in funding, producing and distributing a promotional video for racquetball in Florida.

MARY LYONS (Jacksonville) was one of the founding members of the FRA Board of Directors, and accepted appointment to a second term with responsibilities for FRA Championships and tournament organization.

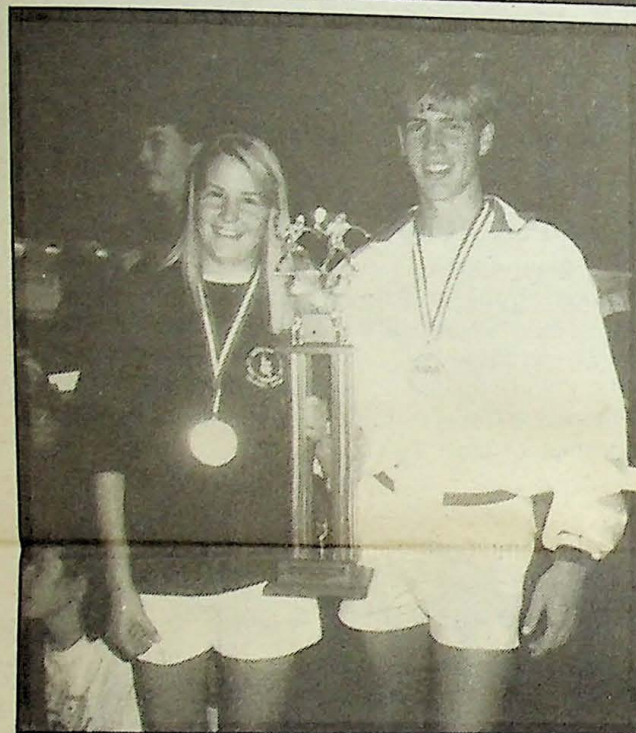

DAVE SEGAL (Tampa) has been appointed to the position of FRA Outdoor Commissioner, and will serve on tournament, membership and referee certification committees. He will also work on the development of a major series of sponsored events and a State Outdoor 3-Wall Championship in 1990.

MIKE SMITH (Orlando) has agreed to take over the Referee Certification program in Florida and will be in charge of restructuring the program, scheduling clinics, testing and follow-up in accordance with the national program.

The FRA thanks outgoing members Marilyn Buffum, Bill Clarke, Agatha Falso, Charlie Nichols and Julie Pinnell for their hard work on the board.

"MINI TEAM FLORIDA" TRAVELS TO ST. LOUIS

A selected "short list" of five Junior Team Florida players made a quick side trip to St. Louis, Missouri in early March to compete in the 1990 Ektelon US National High School Championships. Alan and Britt Engel represented Manatee High School in Bradenton, while Scott and Andy Reiff and Morgan Silver made up the J.P. Taravella High School squad from Coral Springs.

After several days of excellent play against their high school counterparts, Allan and Britt became the second brother/sister pair to reach the finals of an AARA Championship (following the lead of Tim and Cindy Doyle in last year's National Singles). Scott and Andy Reiff also made names for themselves as a doubles team, taking the division title and putting Taravella into second place for the Boy's Team title. Morgan Silver contributed plenty of court time (and points) for Taravella, ending with a 5-1 record, and second place, in the -3 singles round-robin.

After winning the FRA State Singles title and learning that the High School win would mean an automatic appointment to the US National Team, Engel promised to "do whatever it takes to win this one." That included defeating local opponents Matt Hickenbotham (15-1, 15-1), Brett Parker (15-9, 15-4) and Richard Maggard (15-4, 4-15, 11-5) in early rounds before meeting a familiar face in #2 seed Scott Reiff of Coral Springs. Their match went to an exciting Florida tiebreaker, with Allan moving into the final with scores of 15-13, 12-15, 11-6.

Against #1 seeded Joel Bonnett of Grand Rapids, Michigan, Allan was simply overpowered by the Forest Hills Central High School senior. Powerful drive serves to the backhand, plus unerring pinch roll-outs by the All-conference third-base man soon ended the match 15-3, 15-3. Allan kept his high spirits, though, and when asked if he had trouble seeing the serve, replied "I saw it fine . . . on the second bounce!"

To reach her own final in the Girl's division qualifier, Britt also had to advance against a strong field of challengers, including Heidi Joist of St. Louis (15-11, 15-9); Stephanie Munger of Anchorage, Alaska (15-4, 15-3); and #1 seeded Alicia Kinney of Snohomish, Washington (15-3, 15-13). Unfortunately having no better luck than Allan, Britt was also overpowered by Placer High School junior Elkovia Icenogle of Auburn, California for a 15-8, 15-3 loss. Although Icenogle is not a "shooter" she consistently placed the ball into open court with enough force to earn a wide-angle cross-court winner or hit a crack for the point.

The cheering section for the High School division of "Junior Team Florida" included moms Nancy Engel and Sandra Reiff, Moti Holtzman of Coral Springs and John Frickman (Team New Life) of Tampa. Congratulations to all!

AARA UPDATE

"RACQUETBALL USA" MAKES DEBUT

The preview edition of "Racquetball USA" made its debut in late February at the Super Show in Atlanta where sporting goods manufacturers from across the country gathered to promote new equipment and clothing lines. Later, at the International Racquetball Sports Association [IRSA] convention in Dallas, the publication also received good reviews.

The 32-page publication contains state, regional and national news, current AARA rankings and tournament calendar, plus a ballot for the upcoming election of new members to the AARA Board of Directors.

The magazine was mailed to all current AARA members in good standing, as well as to selected tournaments held in the month of March. Regular bi-monthly publication of "Racquetball USA" will begin in September of this year.

SCHOLARSHIP DONATIONS ON THE RISE

According to John Mooney, Assistant Executive Director for Membership Services, donations to the AARA Scholarship Fund have topped $3,000.00 in the short time since the program was announced in October. In the first year, it is hoped that the fund will generate enough revenue to cover two awards of $500.00. As the principal amount grows in coming years, the rate of return will determine the number and size of scholarship awards.

To date, tax-deductible donations from individuals have ranged between $15.00 and a whopping $1,000.00 from Joe Sawbridge in Arizona. Other sizable donations have come from program founder John Mooney and Master's Council chairman Ivan Bruner. As a group the Master's Council has already collected $1,700.00 for the fund.

JUNIORS RAISE FUNDS FOR SCHOLARSHIPS

A joint fund-raising program for juniors and the scholarship fund is also being offered through the national office. Illustrated cartoon notecards (with envelopes) are available in packages of 10 for sale by junior programs and state associations.

The cards cost $2.25 and have a retail value of $4.00 to $5.00 per package. Profits remain with the state or independent junior programs, and $1.00 of the AARA cost is returned to the scholarship fund. Call John Mooney at 719/635-5396 for more details or to place an order (with 90 days to pay). Then put your juniors to work!

STATE/REGIONAL DIRECTORS COME THROUGH FOR THE TEAM

A "mini" auction held before 60 state and regional directors during a conference at the Olympic Training Center in mid-January raised over $3500.00 for the US National Racquetball Team.

EKTELON/IRF WORLD INTERCOLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIPS AT UC/BERKELEY

The Ektelon/IRF World Intercollegiate Championships will be held at the Recreational Sports Facility on the Berkeley Campus of the University of California from March 29th through April 1st.

Established in 1973, this event is the 17th annual AARA Intercollegiate National Championship. In 1988 the International Racquetball Federation [IRF] also designated the event as a coinciding World Intercollegiate Championship. The event is also a qualifier for the US Olympic Festival, scheduled for Minneapolis/St. Paul this summer.

SUMMER US ELITE TRAINING CAMPS SCHEDULED

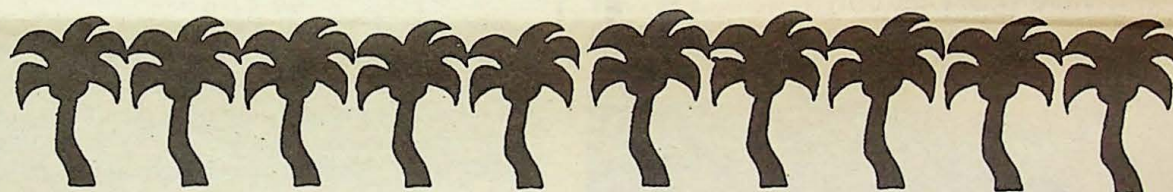

The 1990 National Junior Elite Camp will be held at the US Olympic Training Center July 14-19. The camp will emphasize proper stroke mechanics, strategy and the development of a 12-month training schedule by each student. Andy Roberts, 1988 National Men's Open Champion and current US Team member, has been asked to serve as an instructor at this year's camp.

Directly following the juniors, the National Adult/Open Elite Training Camp will be conducted at the OTC July 21-26. The adult camp will stress psychology, motivation and strategy and include presentations by Dr. Alan Salmoni, Dr. Rhett Rainey and Sports Psychologist Diana McNab. Touring pro Aaron Katz has also been asked to participate as an instructor in this year's camp.

Attendance at both the Junior and Adult Elite Training Camps are by invitation only. Invitations are issued to quarterfinalists in regional competition and are processed on a first-come, first-served basis.

TEAM PHYSICIAN NAMED

Dr. Rhett Rainey, an orthopedic surgeon based in Colorado Springs, has been named the official physician of the US National Racquetball Team. Dr. Rainey has agreed to be "on call" with the team in Jacksonville, Florida for the Tournament of Americas (April 7-14) and in Caracas, Venezuela for the World Championships (August 3-11).
