S.D. Handball Doubles

San Diegans take titles

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.— San Diegans Charlie Brumfield and Dr. E. F. "Bud" Muehleisen carted off titles in a pro-am racquetball tournament here yesterday.

Brumfield won the top prize of $2,000 with a 21-12, 21-14 victory over Jerry Hilecher of St. Louis. The senior title went to Muehleisen when he trimmed Jim Austin of Houston, 21-17, 21-9, Peggy Steding of Odessa, Tex., won the women's top prize of $500 with a 21-5, 21-16 win over Shannon Wright of Dallas.

The Downtown YMCA and San Diego Handball Association will hold the S.D. County Open Handball doubles on two weekends

March 12, 13, 14 and March 19, 20, 21st with 1st and 2nd place awards in all classes, souvenir shirts to all participants and new spalding "ace" provided for each match. Depending on the number of entries received, some early matches may be scheduled at the Copley YMCA. Any event with less than 6 entries may be eliminated.

SERVING TIPS AND TACTICS

Winning Racquetball

By Bud Muehleisen

(1) Do not serve the ball just to put it into play. This may give your opponent the opportunity to take the offense, which can jeopardize your entire game. (2) Each serve should be well planned in advance with regard to the area of the court that it is to be directed, the height that it should be in relation to the floor and the relative speed it should possess. (3) Your game plan should include the potential of varying your serves if need be. (4) Varying your serves will force your opponent to continually adjust his timing, which many times will result in a weak return. (5) If you find your opponent is having trouble in handling a particular serve, stick with it until he makes the necessary adjustment. Then you can vary your serve and perhaps, return to the serve which had previously given him trouble. Learn to deliver a variety of serves from the same backswing, the same stance and same position in the service box. This automatically builds deception into your serves. (6) If your first serve is a fault, make an adjustment in your mind before delivering the second serve. For the serve, it is wise to leave yourself a margin of error. Above all, avoid the double fault! (7) Don't rush the serve! Use the time before serving to think what you are going to do. STOP, LOOK AND THINK! (8) Before serving, make sure your opponent is ready. (9) In doubles, be sure your partner is ready and properly positioned in the service box before serving. (10) After serving, make certain you move to the recommended court position while observing the flight of the ball. Face toward the ball with an open stance while watching your opponent as he begins his forward swing to return the ball. You should then pivot back toward the front wall and prepare for your return. (11) As you drop back after serving, study your opponent to better anticipate his returns in order to get a jump on the ball. (12) Try to have each serve contact the side wall before hitting the back wall.

Marriott Beats Steding Second Time

Janell Marriott, a 23-year old Salt Lake City recreation director, has Peggy Steding's number — and that isn't good.

Miss Marriott is the only one ever to outscore Mrs. Steding, a Texan who has captured seven U.S. championships and four major Canadian racquetball crowns in three years. She did it for the second time yesterday in finals of a Jay Jones captured the Open Singles Championship by defeating top seeded Bill Dunn in the three-day Racquetball State Championship held at Mel Gorham's Sports Center in Oceanside, California.

Jones, seeded second, slipped by Dunn in the action packed first game 21-20. Dunn recovered to win the second 21-19, but Jones rallied in the third game and powered his way to the 21-15 upset victory on Sunday night. The tournament was held February 27, 28 and 29.

Dunn, in an interview before the big match, was optimistic about his chances. However, he was playing with a new Starmaster racquet and explained, "It's the first time I've used it in a tourney. I'm not really comfortable with it."

Dunn is widely known in the San Francisco Bay area and is a part owner of Supreme Court's pro shops. He has been traveling around the country to promote racquetball on the International Racquetball Association (IRA) tour and was ranked sixth on the tour. Dunn is also on the Board of Directors of the IRA. He was ranked eighth in the nation last year and is currently ranked 12th.

"I'm really not playing as much as I'd like to," Dunn stated. "The sport is really growing and a lot of good younger players are coming in. In the Bay area, racquetball is going like crazy!"

Money in Chula Vista

The Chula Vista Handball and Racquetball Club hosted the "Vittert Open" on January 23, 24 and 25, 1976. The tournament was directed by Don Duarte with Valana King as referees chairman and Pat English working the registration desk.

The tournament hosted an array of participants from the entire California and Arizona area.

We were privileged to be the first club in the San Diego area to give cash prizes for first place awards and bicentennial "Liberty Bell" plaques for second place. The plaques were designed and created by Phil Lancaster.

The tournament was a very successful one with plenty of grub, orange drink, and beer for all participants. We hope to hold another money tournament in mid-March so watch out for the entry blanks.

WEST LA OPEN

Center Courts Hosts

The Center Courts hosted its first annual West L.A. open drawing some 200 players approximately half of whom were Center Court club members (CC).

The feature attraction during the four day tournament was the Special Pro Round Robin bracket. Over 100 spectators were present as Charlie Brumfield, Jay Jones, Ritchie Wagner & Craig McCoy squared off against each other. Rumor circulated that Brumfield "lets up" in local Southern California tournaments and, therefore, is quite susceptible to the upset. Charlie dispatched this rumor and his fellow rivals with obvious relish and a perfect game record of 6-0. Ritchie Wagner was 3-3, Jay Jones (CC) was 3-3, and Craig McCoy was 2-4.

A special Womens Open Round Robin was held with Kathy Schrillo defeating Donna Noguchi

In the "A" Division, Al Portune defeated Mark Morrow 21-6, 16-21, 21-13 in one of the better finals matches of the tournament.

In the "B" Division Dr. Joel Scheinbaum (CC) gained the finals by beating Stuart Bloom 21-6, 21-16 and went on to win the division with a 21-20, 17-21, 21-6 win over Pete Maccarrone.

In the "C" Division, Jim Shanahals (CC) defeated Jerry Ledbetter 21-11, 21-7 in the semi-finals and John Kaswick 21-20, 21-19 in the finals.

Sue Strommer (CC) ran away with the Womens Novice Class, defeating Denise Eller (CC) 21-14, 21-4, in the semi finals, and Sharon Flegal (CC) 21-12, 21-13 in the finals.

In the Mens Novice Class, it was Pete Cook making a strong showing over Jeff Coyle (CC) 21-17, 21-7 in the semi-finals, and 21-5, 21-14 over Rob Boriskin in the finals.

Doubles were played only in the Mens "C" Class. Sixteen teams competed for top honors in this event and when the wallbanging subsided two Center Court teams had made the finals. Bruce Radford & his uncle Allan Radford defeated John Morris & Mike Sargent in three games.

The Masters, March 13-16, will have two events only-for men over the age of 40 and those over 45. Entries must be in by March 9.

And, it's men only for the Orange County Classic on March 25-28. This is open to all divisions and all ages, with a special event called the Golden Masters, for ages 50 and above.

A spokesman for the club said they are not discriminating against women, "we haven't the shower and locker facilities to accommodate them."

Entries close March 16 for the Classic. For further information call (714) 835-722.

Orange County Athletic Club, Tustin has a St. Patrick's Day Racquetball Tournament scheduled for March 18-20. It's mainly an inter-club tournament, however, a few events are open to the public. For further information call (714) 544-9511.

Poway Racquet Club held a Valentine Day Mixed Doubles in the Novice Division February 13 and 14. Marti Rikett and Ken Valenzano topped Sandy Atherton and Lincoln Arthur to win the tournament.

But the most exciting part of the tournament were the final Consolation matches, held late Saturday among the tournament losers. Maryanne Donohue and Larry Martin beat husband/wife team George and Sophie Bartlett in a grueling, three matches, lasting two hours and fifteen minutes!

Interesting note: Martin, a deputy sheriff, had just come off a 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. shift and was working out at the club for relaxation. When tournament director Wayne Ferrare found himself short a player, he asked Martin if he'd fill in-so much for volunteer work!

At the end of the tournament the top 6 positions in each of the four men's and two women's divisions will meet in a round robin tournament to determine the final standings.

WOMENS ROUND ROBIN

More and more women are discovering that racquetball is a "fun" way to get in shape and stay in shape. Since its a game its not at all like the drudgery of plain exercises and, coupled with a sauna afterwards, the body comes out feeling a refreshing aliveness that comes from being fit. However, because racquetball is a relatively new sport, particularly among women, a common complaint is that its hard to find a partner. To

SPOTLIGHTING

By Sally Mahonen

"To improve your game, you have to play with better players all the time," said 25 year old Don Duarte, 1975 California State singles and doubles Handball champion.

Native San Diegan Duarte, and Don Chamberlain, won the doubles then Duarte turned around and beat Chamberlain to take the singles title.

"I really felt good... but it wasn't totally fantastic, beating my doubles partner. It was kind of weird," Duarte said.

This all began when his dad started him playing at the Foothills Athletic Club when he was 10 years old. He entered his first competition at the Copely YMCA when he was 11.

Duarte became serious about competition in 1970, but didn't make state level until 1973. Then, in 1974 and 1975, he and Marty Goffstein placed fourth in the nationals.

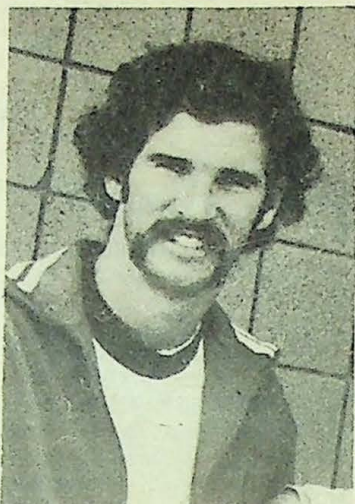

Now he's manager of the Chula Vista Racquetball Club with very little time for practice or playing.

"At first I practiced almost six or seven hours a day. I didn't care who I played-just so I could play.

Don Duarte

I think that's why I improved so rapidly.

"Now my game has gotten a little stale for lack of time to practice and partners," said the champ.

If anyone wants to play, tell them to give Duarte a call at the club - he's always looking for a game.

The first of this month he's going to Tucson to play in a pro qualifying tournament; then he'll come back to manage a tournament at the Chula Vista Racquetball Club.

Duarte's wife, the former Tedey Sepin, plays handball too, using a soft ball, one of the few women to do so.

RACQUET NOISE

by Ben Press

Two of the hottest tiems on the sport's scene currently are tennis and racquetball. I have been a tennis professional for over 25 years and have seen tennis grow from a sport of the very few to where it presently boasts over 35 million devotees. Tennis players are proliferating at about 15% a year, and, though the various numbers are different, the percentage growth in racquetball is far greater.

When the interested "jocks" discuss the merits of all the racket sports, there is one group in which racquetball has a decided advantage. It is for the beginner. Two beginning squash players, for example could play for hours and never break a sweat. Beginning tennis players are hard pressed to have any type of an extended rally. Starting badminton beginners would only succeed in getting the shuttle-cock feathers all over the court. But racquetball is another kind of animal. Two new racquetballers that have the capability of holding a racquet can almost immediately realize some degree of success. Two, a gad shot is not near as punishing or final as in the other racket games.

The early tendency on the racquetball court is to perhaps hit the ball too hard. But here again, the ball remains in play giving the other neophyte an opportunity to hit the next ball even harder.

Many is the time I have seen two beginners come off the court ringing wet. It won't happen on a squash court, a badminton court, or even on my stomping grounds, a tennis court.

As we do not have the same weather problems as much of the county that forces many sports to be seasonal, racquetball is played here by choice. Not because it is indoors or is the only game in town. And like many tennis players I find racquetball a great conditioner. When I have the opportunity to play against Dr. Bud Muehleisen or Dr. Charlie Hanna, they have me on the yo-yo the entire time. When they're done with me, I feel like I've played five sets of hard tennis and run 500 miles - all up hill.

Like in most sports, a little difference is a lot of difference. When I play in my own weekly racquetball group I get to use a few offensive tactics. I suddenly become the "chaser" instead of the "chasee" and find I'm sadistic enough to enjoy watching someone else do the running.

To again reaffirm one of the many racquetball pluses, I can think of no other sport that will allow almost instant participation and enjoyment. And after all, exercise and some fun is where it's at; a bicentennial note for racquetball.

BOOK REVIEW BY: DANIEL R. STALK

Racquetball for Everybody

To stimulate the interest and provide an aid in improving skills, says Randy Stafford, is the objective of his new book, "Racquetball: The Sport for Everyone." Stafford's efforts are commendable as he offers beginners and intermediates descriptions and diagrams of fundamentals and basic concepts. He also treats strategy and tournament play for the more advance player. Although Stafford didn't fare as well in the recent Memphis Pro-Am ad he does in his book, his exceptional ability as a player is evident in his instructional messages. It's a very readable book, and it illuminates rather than obscures, which means it's valuable for the novice. Stafford has a talent for clear analysis and presentation, and his sections on practice schedules, positions and percentage shots are worth the price of the book alone. Stafford is unusually objective in his style, in what appears to be a truly splendid book.

Racquetball: The Sport for Everyone

by Randy Stafford
S.C. Toof & Co.
80 pages * $3.00

I wish the title would have been, "Racquetball: A Sport for Every Body," because I really can't think of a body that couldn't use the exercise that racquetball offers, two-hours of racquetball compared to seven-hours of tennis on the recent medical exercise comparative charts. I would have liked to see him develop the simple flick-shot return for those of us who have trouble returning that lob-serve to the corner. I would have liked to see a section on three-wall strategy also, especially for the youngsters who are beginning their game on school facilities.

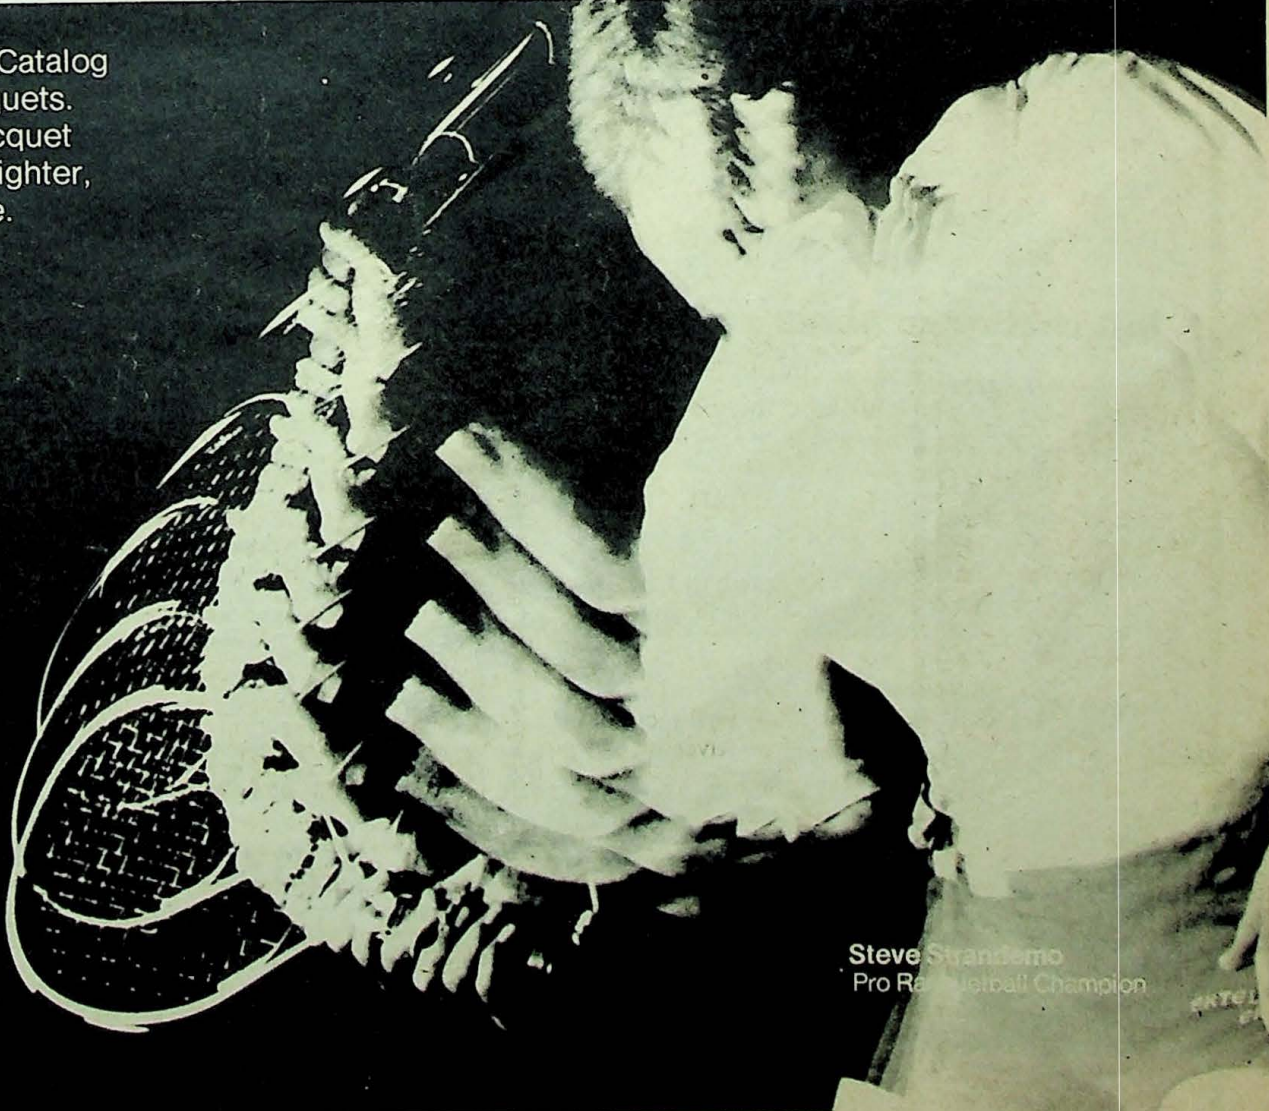

In short, if you like pictures, charts, and diagrams, and an objective instructional approach to a wonderful game, "Racquetball: The Sport for Everyone," is an easy-reading book that appears at an appropriate time.

We have over 150 members already and we have yet to do any advertising. Ads will be hitting the local business magazines and newspapers in February and we anticipate that we will be filling up fast.

LADIES EXERCISE AND TRIMMING CLASSES

Special classes including modern dance, diet and slimming classes are being planned to keep the ladies trim and fit. So you guys who don't think your wife would be interested in playing racquetball, be sure to include them into a family membership. Remember, we have as much equipment as any regular health spa has with a lot of activities besides.

CHALLENGE NIGHTS

On a couple of evening each week, the exhibition court will be kept open for challenge matches. This is where you can challenge the winner of the previous game with the winner staying on for the next game. These are lots of fun. More details on the rules will be available later.

ORANGE COAST COLLEGE

In the past we have held the state and local doubles, singles, and co-ed doubles - 3-Wall tournaments that have grown steadily with each new tournament. We have also had the National 3-Wall championships the last two years. Players that have competed and done well are: Charlie Brumfield, Steve Serot, Steve Keeley, Bette Weed, Steve Strandemo, and Bud Muehleisen just to name a few. In the near future, we have planned the State 3-Wall Doubles Tournament on March 6th and 7th, a beginners Singles Tournament on May 8th and 9th, and the National 3-Wall Championships this coming summer.

We at Orange Coast College feel that our facilities are some of the best. We have thirteen outdoor courts and six indoor courts. We hope to have future indoor tournaments along with the indoor tournaments.

Indoor is a fairly new experience to players from this area but, as with other areas, it is spreading like "wild fire". Some of the

NRC Tourny

Cathy Williams of Detroit and Charlie Brumfield of S.D. were the big winners in a National Racquetball Club (NRC) Tournament at the Aurora YMC, in Aurora, Illinois. The tournament held January 22-25, was for men and women, with divisions in professional and amateur categories.

The Pro finals and semi-finals in the Women's Division went like this:

In the first semi-final match Cathy Williams defeated Sue Carrow of Chicago, 21-9, 21-2. Then, Jan Campbell of San Diego defeated Jan Pasternak of St. Louis, Mo. 21-19, 21-18, to bring about Sundays final between Williams and Campbell.

In that game Williams played extremely well, and shot the ball to a 21-18, 21-7 victory for the Women's championship, in the Second Annual Chicago NRC Pro Tournament.

In the round of 16 in the Men's Pro Division, the most important matches were:

Bill Schmitke of Minneapolis defeated Mike Sideman of Memphis 21-10, 21-19. Then, Davey Bledsoe of Memphis was extended to three games by Rudy Losche, an up-and-coming player from the St. Louis area; but Bledsoe took it 21-19, 16-21, 21-5.

In a major upset, Ron Rubenstein, 34 years old veteran from Chicago and former Louisville University basketball and tennis star, defeated Steve Keeley of San Diego 12-21, 21-8, 21-15.

In the other important round of 16 match that went to three games, Richy Wagner of San Diego beat Jerry Falacher of St. Louis, Mo. 21-10, 16-21, 21-7.

The round of eight match-ups were:

Brumfield versus Schmitke in the first quarter-final match, with Brumfield winning in straight sets 21-18, 21-18.

In the next quarter-final Steve Cerrot of San Diego defeated Steve Strum of San Diego 21-7, 8-21, 21-14.

One quarter-final match saw Wagner defeat Marty Hogan of St. Louis, Mo. 21-20, 21-12. In the first game of this match Hogan led 21-18, then Wagner came back to score three points.

The semi-finals had a familiar match up in the top bracket, where Cerrot met Brumfield. Cerrot extended himself physically to win the first game 21-17. But, Brumfield jumped to an early 10-0 lead in the second game, and coasted to a 21-1 victory. Early in the third game the lead exchanged hands often, but found Brumfield the winner 21-16, and a berth in the Sunday finale.

The second semi-final match saw two of the fastest players on the NRC Pro Tour against one another Bledsoe and Wagner. An exciting and long match was anticipated, because both players have the ability to retrieve and keep the ball in play for long rallies.

But Wagner's quarter-final match seemed to have taken some of the quickness out of his game. As a result, Bledsoe won the match in straight sets, 21-16, 21-10, with relative ease.

Sundays finale had Brumfield against Bledsoe in a fast paced match with numerous low-drive serves, low-drive passes and kill attempts.

Bledsoe led 19-17 in the first game, with the lead changing hands many times near the end. After many side-outs, Brumfield pecked away at Bledsoe's lead and won 21-19. That first game defeat seemed to take its toll on Bledsoe's concentration and Brumfield won the second one 21-11, and the Men's Championship.

A spokesman for the tournament said it was highly successful, with all matches coming off on the scheduled time.

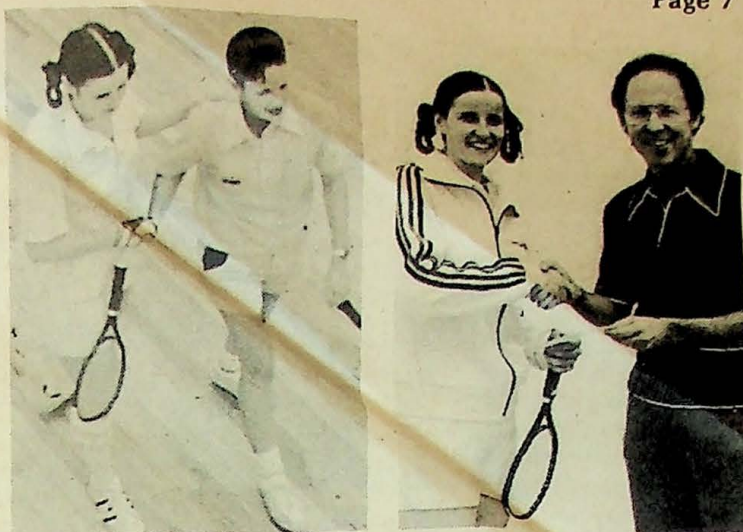

It was also successful from the spectators point of view, because of the large amount of glass on the side walls of the spectator area.

LEAGUE INFORMATION

1. We will have an A-B League and a C League which will each play a double round or home-home format.
2. All matches will be best of three games to 15 points (must win by 2 points). If play should ever reach 20-20, next point wins.
3. Each team will consist of 4 singles players (one A and three B's for A-B League), and one doubles team (no A players in doubles) for a total of five matches (or points) for a night. The overall record (for both rounds) will determine group or league winners.
4. A playoff in the C League between the north group and the south group will take place June 1st and 7th to decide top 3 teams in the league. Each team (of top 3) will receive 6 (5 regulars and 1 alternate) trophies for it's members. A perpetual trophy will go (with the team name inscribed on it) to the top C team.
5. Team captains must be sure to line up their teams early and to phone their next opponent's captain at least 3 days prior to match. Forfeit (no show) matches are the leagues' biggest "bummer"!!! Get a couple of people who will help out and possible play on short notice for your team.
6. Home teams will furnish refs. (at least score keepers).
7. Both players are required to furnish a new "lively" Voit or one acceptable to both players.

8. Each team will consist of six players. Singles players can't fill in for doubles... The S.D.R.A. official (ranking by class) list is attached to this sheet and is the governing faction in regards to who is a C player, B player, etc.

9. At no time can a player play down in class, i.e. if you are on our S.D.R.A. "B" list, you can not play in a "C" class in any S.D.R.A. event.

10. All matches will start at 6:00 p.m. (Mondays) and all team members should be at their matches by 6:00 to help with referee duties (score keeping) and to ensure matches running smoothly.

11. Results must be filed by both captains! Mail complete results to: ROB CHARTIER c/o Muehleisen Courts, 702 Broadway, El Cajon 92021. Home team captains should call Rob Chartier - 440-5828 with results either the same night or next day to enable us to get results to the papers and radio stations. It is very important that these result forms be filled out completely and mailed in!!!

12. League fee for each team is $25.00 to be mailed to S.D.R.A., 1369 Magnolia Avenue, Carlsbad, CA 92008. Get your fee in early to avoid forfeiture of your matches.

13. At all "away" matches the visiting team is required to pay the going hourly rate.

14. The breaks between games will be two minutes and five minutes. 15. There will be a maximum 15 minute grace period, after the hour or last match, before a forfeit can be claimed. However, if both players of a later scheduled match are there, they may be substituted to avoid forfeiture.

16. Proper dress is requested. Atlas in particular asks that no cut-offs be worn, etc., and that bumpers be used on all metal racquets.
