Mens Pro — Seedings

#1 Gerry Price/Dirk Zeller

Hometown: Stockton, California/Denver, Colorado

Strengths: The most offensive team in the draw. There is great power from both sides on this team. Price has a tremendous backhand splat shot he can kill from anywhere in the court. Zeller plays perfect position right side and can kill the deep court anytime.

#2 Jack Nolan/Bobby Rodriguez They will win with strategy and their shot selection. Nolan is one of the premier teachers in all of racquetball. Rodriguez is emerging as one of the up and coming players on the men's tour. This team has, along with power, touch shots that change the pace of the rally.

#3 Doug Zirkle/Danny Rodriguez

Hometown: Boulder, Colorado/Boulder, Colorado

Strength: This team is coming off a big win in the state doubles tournament. They have played together for a while and that will always help. Zirkle, the "bad boy of racquetball" can still play with the best players around. Rodriguez plays a consistent right side and will kill the ball and force action from that side.

#4 Tony Boscia/Mark Helton

Hometown: Denver, Colorado/Denver, Colorado

Strengths: This team's court coverage is their biggest strength. They both dive extremely well. Boscia will hit the splat in his corner all day long. Helton kills the ball from deep court with consistency. This team has played together for a while with great success.

Womens Pro — Seedings

#1 Adams/Wielheesen

This team is made up of the two best players in the state, playing together for the first time.

#2 Haller/Callihan

This team has two great players who have never played together before. Callihan is coming from Ohio.

#3 Loughery/Armstrong

This team is the most stable in the draw. They have played many tournaments together and know each other's game well.

#4 Gridley/Peterson

These women have not played together before. If they can get their team work down they will be in the running.

Racquet World Members

"As a professional athlete, I need more than a typical athletic club. That's why we have a family membership at Racquet World."

It was well deserved when Racquet World Athletic Club was chosen as the official health club of the Denver Nuggets. Keeping fit and feeling healthy is not only vital for my professional success, but more importantly... for my family's well-being.

The Nuggets looked for the Denver club that offered the finest in facilities, friendly service, professional instructors, and an environment that promoted a healthy lifestyle. They found what they were looking for at Racquet World and so did I.

Now, when I go to the club to practice on the court or lift weights, my wife and children join me. Maribeth enjoys the challenge of an aerobics class, laps in the pool, or an invigorating game of tennis, while Robby is looked after by professionals in the nursery. There are lots of programs and activities planned for our girls as well — Toddlerobics™, Petite Ballet™, Super Swim™ classes and much, much more.

This is the healthy family lifestyle that I'd always hoped for. The club has become our "home away from home"... a place where we enjoy good, wholesome recreation and exercise — with first-class hospitality — any time we want to.

After all, when it comes to my family's health, I don't play games. And thanks to Racquet World, I don't have to.

Can a water actually increase your stamina?

Magnesium is the stamina mineral.

Poor diet, stress and exercise all deplete magnesium.

And if you're going to burn it, you've got to return it.

Introducing Vittel.

Vittel is a naturally sparkling mineral water so rich in natural magnesium that it may actually increase your stamina.

And it has absolutely no salt or calories.

What it does have is a delicious mountain-spring taste and natural carbonation.

New Vittel.
