CHAMPIONSHIP DOUBLES PAIRS NAMED TO U.S. NATIONAL TEAM

Colorado Takes Two Mixed National Titles

Former national doubles champion Bill Sell (Huntington Beach, CA) and 1990 Junior Olympic champion Joel Bonnett (Grand Rapids, MI) earned spots on the U.S. National Team for their close straight game victory over Jim Floyd (Davison, MI) and Todd O'Neil (Dallas, TX), 15-14, 15-14. All four players were former U.S. Team members paired into "lefty-righty" teams, with the win going to veterans Sell and Bonnett, who last year placed third in this event.

Long-time partners Mary Lyons and Susan Morgan Pfahler of Jacksonville took their first national open doubles title in Phoenix in a straight game win over twin sisters Jackie Paraiso Gibson and Joy MacKenzie of San Diego, California. In their 10 years as a team, Lyons and Pfahler have collected six age division titles, but this is their first open win, and their first appointments to the U.S. National Racquetball Team.

John and Rose Mooney, along with Jim Hiser were the big winners for Colorado at the 1992 U.S. National Doubles Championships in Phoenix, Arizona. John and Rose won the Mixed 55+ division while Jim Hiser was teaming with Gerri Stoffregen to take the Mixed 45+ title.

Denver area resident Bobby Rodriguez rose to the occasion capturing third in the Men's Open with teammate Michael Bronfeld of California. By placing third Bobby qualified for the U.S. Olympic Festival. Congratulations.

Former Colorado player Dave Peck, now living back in Austin, Texas, continued his assault on the amateur record books capturing both the 30+, with Evan Terry, and 35+ division with former pro Rich Wagner. Taking into consideration Dave won both the 30+ and 35+ national singles title it would appear he's having a relatively successful year.

Other Colorado players with successful finishes:

Darlene Schafer/Linda Mojer
won W/A consolation
Darlene Schafer/Mary Keenan
won W/35+ consolation
Dick Kincade
2nd M/60+ and 4th M/65+
Stacy Sour 4th W/25+
Martha Bailey/Pierre Bickham won Mix/30 consolation
Luke St. Onge 4th Mix/50

Wyrick/Schmalling WIN 2nd Annual CRA Golf Tournament...

RB Players edge HB players in Tie-Breaker

Coming in with a 64 the defending champions Cliff Spencer, a handball player, and Vego Larsen pretty much thought they had wrapped up their second C.R.A. golf tournament title. But then came Danny Wyrick and Jim Schmalling with an identical score of 64. According to the rules the first tie-breaker was to go to the 18 hole and work backwards, lowest hole score wins. As luck would have it, or no luck as Cliff would say, the Spencer/Larsen team had a bogey, their only of the day, while Wyrick/Schmalling managed a par. It was a great finish to a wild day on the course. Doug Siverson and John Foust shot a 68 to take the third place slot.

The tournament, held at the Applewood Course in Golden, drew 16 teams two person teams from along the front range. What started out as a beautiful day rapidly deteriorated into a driving rain and wind storm that had the final groups playing in what could be best described as "British Open" type weather. If everyone had not been having such a good time it would have been real easy to pack it in. As it was the competitive nature of the groups prompted most to just ignore the situation and continued on.

Many thanks to all the sponsors who pitched in to supply product and gift certificates. A pat on the back to Nicole Earing and John Miller for their help at the registration desk and to Jergen Denk for helping make arrangements with the course.

Presidents Message

John Foust, CRA President

I usually save the President Message as my last order of business and this time is no different. Saving it till last helps me keep things short and to the point. Ha.

Inserted in this issue you will find the long awaited tournament schedule. There is both a pocket and wall version. It doesn't take but a minute to figure out we have a great line-up of tournaments for 92/93. You might also have noticed there are a couple of new additions to the schedule - the Conditioning Spa in Greeley and The Edge Athletic Club in Broomfield. These are clubs who have not participated over the last couple of years and it's a real pleasure to have them back and involved. I hope as players you will support them in their efforts.

Our State Doubles was a big success. Kathy Bowden, the Denver Sporting Club, along with the C.R.A. board and others did a great job in putting things together and making it happen. Although I wasn't able to be there on a day to day basis I've had primarily good feedback from the players who attended. A hearty congratulations to Tony Boscia and Mark Helton for continuing their mastery of the men's open. And to J.C. Strodemeir (the best guy in town for insurance), Bruce Brookens, Lourdes Garcia and Martha Bailey who all took home two state titles.

I promised to keep this short so I'll finish with this statement. When Jo Ann Slater was transferred to Houston approximately a year and a half ago I assumed the responsibilities of President on a temporary basis. That temporary basis stretched longer than what I envisioned, and what some wanted. Having served as President of the association once before my personal goal was to continue the good work Jo Ann had started and to hopefully put the C.R.A. back on a sound financial basis. In most respects I think I've done that much.

What I have had a difficult time with is continuing the growth of the C.R.A. and it's various programs. Being President does require a great deal of time and effort. It's not a paid position. In addition I am a National Board member and National Commissioner for Disabled Athletes. My little mind was having a tough time keeping up with it all. As a free lance photographer and general entrepreneur I was finding it more and more difficult to do a good job and still work hard on my personal business interests. My racquetball game has gone to *&^# although some would say I never really had one. It's with this in mind that I made the decision to resign as President of the C.R.A. effective January 1, 1993.

There are some good people on the C.R.A. board. People who know the ropes and perhaps have the energy to take things to the next level. If I had not thought there was someone on the current board who had the capabilities to take over my decision would have been that much harder. I intend stay involved as editor of the ROLLOUT and, of course, make myself available as needed.

My personal thanks to the current board, all those who have offered to help, and to my good friend John Sharman who stepped in at a time of need. You helped take the C.R.A. from a difficult time and place and have made it into a good organization. All of this with little praise or acknowledgement of a job well done. Well I appreciate your efforts and am confident that the future of our sport here in Colorado is in good hands.

Thank you.

INDUSTRY NEWS

Racquet Sport Participation Remains Stable

Participation in badminton, racquetball, squash and table tennis remained relatively stable during 1991 as the number of frequent players for all four sports held steady or increased, a national survey has found.

There were slight declines in the number of Americans aged six or over who played badminton and table tennis during the year, while racquetball and squash experienced gains. But when only those who played 25 or more times are counted, badminton and racquetball grew in popularity... and table tennis and squash remained unchanged.

Racquetball showed an increase of 50,000 participants, to 9,261,00 in 1991. The number of frequent players grew from 1.9 million to 2.4 million. These findings confirm that the sport is stabilizing after a growth spurt in the 1980s and a subsequent fall-off in participation. Nearly 42% of participants said they planned to play more this year than last.

Racquetball, like squash, is a predominately male sport; 70% of 1991 participants were male. Nearly 40% of racquetball pillars have a household income of more than $50,000.

This information was gathered by American Sports Data. The report covers the 12 months through December 1991.

Penn Introduces New Racquetball Can

Penn Racquet Sports, the world's largest manufacturer of tennis and racquetballs has become the first company in the industry to introduce a 100% recyclable racquetball can with a screw-on lid. In addition, an innovative foil liner ensures ball freshness.

Ektelon Announces Sweepstakes Winner

George Sarduy of Tallahassee, Florida is the first of 10 lucky racquetball players to win a free Eminence Graphite RTS oversize racquet from Ektelon to celebrate the intro duction of the firm's flagship racquetball frame. The Eminence Sweepstakes drawing will be held on the last day of the month through June, 1993.

14 Juniors Make Cut for "Junior Team USA"

CROCKER AND MEYER MAKE THE TEAM

After a full week of practice drills, simulation exercises, competition and "homework" assignments, 14 of the finest junior racquetball athletes, including two from Colorado - Amy Crocker of Grand Junction, and Jenny Meyer of Fruita, have been selected to serve on the A.A.R.A.'s national "Junior Team USA."

The team trials, held at the U.S. OLYMPIC Center and the Lynmar Racquet and Health Club, are the final stage of a six-month selection process which began at the state and regional level, then proceeded through a national review and final, personalized training sessions with the junior team coaching staff in Colorado Springs. A five-person committee selected the seven boys, seven girls, plus alternates for the team, from a highly-talented pool of 46 competitors from across the country.

Alternates are Andrea Beugen and Shane Wood.

Colorado Applies for A.A.R.A. Junior Grant

With a October 31, deadline the C.R.A. is in the process of applying for a State junior grant through the A.A.R.A. The grant would be used to promote junior racquetball on a state wide basis and would be directed to both the competitive and recreational player.

Special thanks should be given to Reene Law, who is putting the grant proposal together, and to Howard Tilton and Joe Kelly who were instrumental in organizing the efforts.

Over 200 athletes, official and observers from 32 countries attended the Sixth International Racquetball Federation World Racquetball Championships at the Entreprises Nautilus Plus Ville d'Anjou in Montreal, Quebec, Canada August 12-21, where the United States clinched its sixth consecutive world team title.

The United States remains undefeated in world competition, and almost achieved a clean sweep of the head-to-head final round against Canada. TOURNAMENT DIRECTOR'S CORNER

PLAYER CLASSIFICATION C.R.A. Announces New Policy

The C.R.A. Board voted at it's October meeting to adopt the following policy in regards to how players will move up from division to division. Through the years this has been one of the greatest areas of concern from the players perspective and it's the Boards hope this new policy will help tournament directors and players deal with the issue.

1992/93 Player Classification Guidelines

1. Winning a state or regional title automatically moves you to the next highest division starting with the following year. Players winning a state championship have the right to compete in that same division during the regional championship of the same year.

2. It was agreed that "points" versus "tournaments won" would be the other basis on how players would move up in divisions. Players would accumulate points as follows, and only in CRA/AARA sanctioned events with a minimum of 12 players in a men's division or 8 in a women's division.

First place - 10 points
Second place - 6 points
Third place - 3 points
Fourth place - 1 point

A player must move up a division once they have accumulated 16 points in a seasonal year. A seasonal year has been designated as September 1 through August 31.

3. A player may compete in the State Single Championship in the lower division (the division from which the 16 points had been accumulated) providing a) the player has not taken 1st place in the higher division or b) has not accumulated ten or more points in the higher division.

4. Players wishing to move down a division may petition the board and present their case. Circumstances such as a debilitating injury, excessive layoff, etc., will be taken in to consideration.

As with any new procedure we suspect there will be problems that have not been thought of or encountered. In addition the key to the whole system is the cooperation of tournament directors to supply the C.R.A. with accurate and timely results and to enforce the policy on their end. The policy will be in effect for the 92/93 season and will be subject to review and modifications prior to the start of next year.

C.R.A. Board member Darlene Schafer has assumed the responsibility of keeping track and instituting this new procedure. Tournament directors and/or players who have questions or suggestions as to improvement may contact her at (303) 650-0979.

92/93 A.A.R.A. RULE CHANGES

The following rules were voted on and approved by the A.A.R.A. Board of Directors at the May meeting in Houston at the U.S. National Singles Championships. The rules take effect on September 1, 1992.

1. The board disapproved a proposal to increase the 21 inch limitation on racquet length to 21.5 inches. The waiver permitting the use of longer racquets in certain tournaments expires on August 31st and will not be extended. On September 1 the maximum racquet length returns to 21 inches.

It should be noted that this rule pertains directly to A.A.R.A. National and Regional Championship events. States will be allowed to deal with this issue directly as to whether or not they will allow usage of the racquets in their state sanctioned events. The C.R.A. board will be ruling on this issue at it's November meeting.

2. The board agree to permanently change Rule 5.12(a)2 on Regional tournaments. Players will be allowed to enter more than one regional tournament provided they do not enter a "championship event" (no skill designation) that same year. Note: this rule was specifically waived for all 1992 AARA Regional tournaments, but now the change will become a formal rule.

3. Players are required to wear eyeguards and use wrist thongs during practice prior to the match or between games. The new rule 2.5(c), states that "Approved eyeguards must be worn and wrist thongs must be used during any on court warm-up period. The referee should give a technical foul if that player continues to not comply after receiving such a warning".

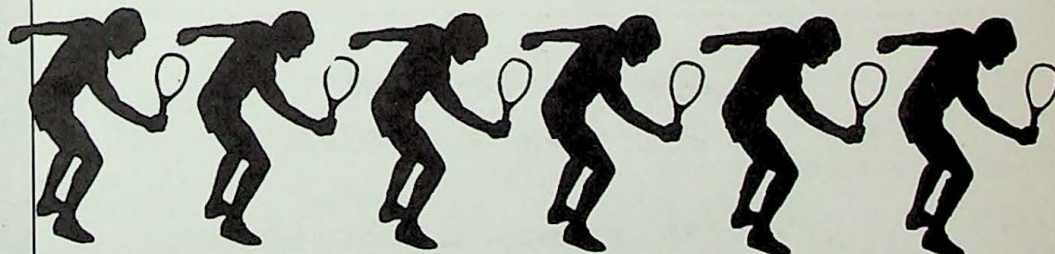

COLORADO POSTS THREE FINALISTS AT WORLD SENIORS

A hearty congratulations to Art Johnson, Red Horton and Harmon Minor for placing second in their respective divisions at the World Senior Championships in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Anyone who has taken part in this tournament understands how difficult this accomplishment is considering the grueling format the tournament uses. Three days of round robin competition concludes with a single elimination round which has players playing back-to-back quarterfinals, semi-finals and finals in a single day.

THE OFFICIAL'S CORNER

Referee Philosophy 101

Steve Blackwood

We've all, at one time or another, had complaints about the referee of a match that we either played in, or were watching. It sometimes appears that a ref feels it is his, or her, duty to dazzle people with their knowledge of the most obscure rules, while others think that they are really just mediators that bring the players to a compromise when a disagreement comes up.

Probably the worst kind of referee are those who believe they are infallible. The look down on the players from their perch, and in a god like manner, speak forth commandments. This kind of referee believes his commandments are sacred and, therefore, must be obeyed without question. To question is to be judged a blasphemer, and certain swift punishment is sure to follow.

The thing that referees, players, and even spectators forget is that the referee in a racquetball match is human, and humans make mistakes. The purpose of a referee is to insure a fair competition between the participants. (Notice that those are two different words - "referee" and "participants".) The referee does not participate, therefore, the ref should not effect the outcome of a fair competition. The presence of the referee is primarily to conduct the match by the rules and as fair as possible.

With that in mind, think about this next statement very carefully - The referee should control the match. Control in the sense of not allowing one side to gain an unfair advantage. That's where the rule book comes in.

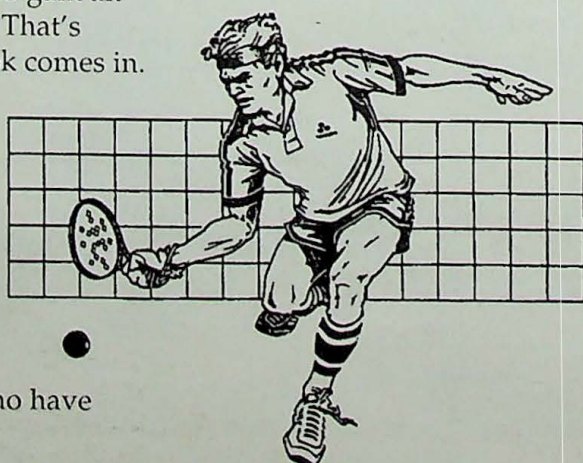

At this point let me digress. It amazes me that anyone would play in a tournament without ever having read the rulebook. I've met people who have played for years and have never taken the time to look up one rule up for themselves. Why should the AARA waste money printing a rulebook when the word-of-mouth method that most players use appears to be good enough. Why not just go by that? Sorry, I just had to get that out of my system.

The "control" a referee should exercise in a racquetball match is much like a supervisor in a business. The players are given a task to complete and it is the responsibility of the supervisor to see that they accomplish their task within the standardized guidelines of the company; the task should progress in a timely manner; and neither side's ability to perform should be unfairly inhibited by the other.

Being a referee of a match means that you are the one who honestly tries to ensure that the match is decided by the players. abilities at that specific time and place. It is not as technical as some fear, and it certainly is not the power trip that some seem to crave.

As a rule of thumb remember this when you are put in the position of referring a match. Use the same effort and concentration that you would expect of someone referring your match. Should you do that, players should walk away feeling their match was decided by their racquetball skills, not the knowledge, or lack thereof, of their referee.

LOCKER ROOM TALK

The International Athletic Club/Denver has come up with a new name - International Wellness Center & Athletic Complex, or I.W.C.A.C. for short. Whomever came up with this name has to be getting paid by the word.

Welcome to Denver John Egerman. John is the new Court Sports Coordinator for the Denver Athletic Club. The Denver Athletic Club could not have made a finer choice but to hire this Idaho resident. Egerman is a former men's open and boy's 16 and under national racquetball champion in addition to competing on the Pro level. His accomplishments don't stop there as he has turned out to be a top level (gasp) handball player. I know it's an ugly thought but, hey, it's a great athletic achievement. To top all of this off, he's a good person and someone you can rely on. Congratulations to the Denver Athletic Club for bringing him on board. Both the RACQUETBALL and handball community should benefit.

Check out the Denver Sporting Club. Under new ownership the club is in the process of undergoing renovations in many areas. It's a good club and for many years served as the premier racquetball club in Colorado. It's nice to see it being brought back around.

It's amazing that Jenny Meyer and Amy Crocker were able to qualify for the Junior Team U.S.A. Not because they don't have ability, they do. What's amazing is they do it with such little support from Colorado clubs who still refuse to offer junior divisions. Our juniors need the opportunity to play other juniors. Shame on those tournament directors who cannot see the future and offer these juniors a chance.

Fran Davis and Stu Hastings (center, in the back), along with some of their RB camp participants at the Aurora Athletic Club.
