

Photo courtesy Nancy Supran

Residents at Green Acres Manistee took part in touch therapy on Tuesday at Green Acres Manistee, courtesy of Circle Rocking S Children's Farm.

Green Acres residents take part in touch therapy

By Michelle Fedder
MANAGING EDITOR

MANISTEE — Residents at Green Acres Manistee had a belated visit from the Easter bunny this week.

Buddy Brown Butt, a baby bunny from Circle Rocking S Children's Farm, visited Green Acres on Tuesday as part of touch therapy visits at area nursing homes.

"Traveling in an Easter basket door to door to the rooms (brought) smiles to all," according to a news release. Circle Rocking S Children's Farm provides touch therapy and recreation normally at the farm in Free Soil, but visit nursing homes by appointment.

The nonprofit organization "is dedicated to providing animal touch therapy, music therapy and recreation free of charge to children of all ages with disabilities," according to its website. For more information about the farm, call 231-462-3732 or visit circlerockingsfarm.org.