CIGAR NIGHT

I am very proud to say that the RDNY had another one of our patented successful cigar nights this February. This one was held at the Carnegie Club on W. 56th Street on February 12th. Famed actor "tough guy" Vincent Pastore joined us and graciously accepted a plaque and honorary shield. Contrary to his image on the screen, Mr. Pastore is an articulate, down to earth, humble, very caring individual who genuinely loves cops and is quite quick to share those feelings. Also present was the world renowned author Nelson Demille, who makes no secret of his friendships with many NYPD officers and uses their input on virtually all of his best selling novels. And to top it off, former heavy contender Renaldo Snipes joined us. Mr. Snipes is a class act and looks like he can easily step right back into that ring. The entertainment was superb as retired Lieutenant Lou Moneta and his beautiful duet partner, Gayle Scott, belted out Sinatra tunes. Cigars, Sinatra songs, actors, writers, boxers and some of the greatest detectives that ever carried the gold shield - it just doesn't get any better than that. Special thanks to RDNY board officers, Vice President Kevin Schroeder, Mike Sheehan and Rich Santangelo who arranged and coordinated this great event. Lots of smiling faces that night. Thank you to Scott and the staff at the Carnegie Club, The Hooter Girls for helping with 50/50 and raffles, donations from Fox News Corp., Smithtown Mercedes, Heineken, and Line of Duty Cigars. We'll do it again in June at the Monarch rooftop. Stand by for details.

MARCH HONOREES:

2nd Grade Detective and Emerald Society President: Jerome "Jay" Teahan was born in the Bronx, NY to Gradita (Abruzzi, Italy) and Richard (County Kerry, Ireland) Teahan in June 1973. He was raised in Rockaway, NY where he and his brother, Donny, were second generation to attend St. Francis de Sales Catholic School. He went on to become a Son of Xavier, graduating class of 1991. He continued his studies at Iona College where he studied Criminal Justice and earned a Bachelor's of Arts Degree in 1995.

Jerome joined the NYPD in July 1996 and upon completion of the Police Academy in March 1997, he began his tenure at the 67th Precinct in Brooklyn where he continues to serve the community in which he loves. He worked as an anti-crime officer until he was promoted to Detective in December 2007 and then to Second Grade Detective in November 2016.

Jay is the President of the NYPD Emerald Society and has been a member of the organization since 1997.

He is married to his wife, Lauren DeNatale and the couple has two children, Andrew and Alexandra Teahan.

Assistant Chief Brian McCarthy:

A Brooklyn Native, Assistant Chief McCarthy is a proud life-long New York City resident. He joined the New York City Police Department in January of 1983. Assistant Chief McCarthy became an undercover in Narcotics Borough Brooklyn North and remained in that assignment for approximately five (5) years. He was promoted to Detective in 1987, Sergeant in 1989, Lieutenant in 1996, and Captain in 1999.

As a Captain from 1999-2001, Assistant Chief McCarthy's assignments include the Commanding Officer of the Strike Force where he previously served as a Sergeant. Prior to the World Trade Center Terrorist Attacks in 2001, he was assigned as the Joint Terrorist Task Force Commander where he was promoted to Deputy Inspector. From 2002 until 2005, he served as the Commanding Officer for the Seventh Precinct. Assistant Chief McCarthy then became the Commanding Officer of the 114th Precinct from 2005 until 2008 where he was promoted to Inspector. In 2008 he was tasked with overseeing Narcotics Borough Brooklyn South as the Commanding Officer. In 2010 he was transferred to Patrol Services Bureau serving as Executive Officer being promoted to Deputy Chief in 2010 and Assistant Chief in 2013. Assistant Chief McCarthy, from 2014 through 2016, was the Commander of the Narcotics Division. In 2016 during the reorganization of the New York City Police Department, Assistant Chief McCarthy was assigned as the initial Commanding Officer of the Criminal Enterprise Division. The Criminal Enterprise Division consists of city-wide Auto Crime Section, Asset Forfeiture Unit, Criminal Enterprise Investigations (Organized Crime), Drug Enforcement Task Force, Strike Force and Narcotics Canine. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice and a Master of Science from Aspen University. He attended the Executive Leaders Program at the Naval Postgraduate School as well as the Senior Executives in Government Program at Harvard University.

He is married to his wife Maureen-Marie (Caputo) and they have three (3) children, all of whom proudly serve the New York City Police Department. Arthur is a detective in the Strike Force, Katie is a Police Officer assigned in the Major Case-Vice Squad and Brian is a civilian assigned to the Printing Section.

PARKWAY NAMING STEVEN McDONALD HONORED ON FEBRUARY 9, 2018

In a ceremony that spangled with police brass, elected officials and clergy, public officials announced that 8.5 miles of the roadway of the Southern State Parkway—from the Cross Island to the Meadowbrook Parkway exits — will be The Steven McDonald Memorial Highway.

TALKIN' WILDE

REMEMBER - As you older retired NYPD Detectives know, that years ago on your first foot post, you were told you were the man on that post! You were there to protect the people on your post and you decided who the good guys were and the bad guys had to leave. It was you alone and if you were lucky, you had a radio. If not, you had to know where the call box was? Now, according to the ads on TV, you have to be accepted by the people on your post. They have guidelines as to what makes a good police officer. Who gives them guidelines on how they are supposed to act towards the police? Remember, respect goes two ways. The police are there to enforce the laws and if you don't break the law, you will have no problem with them. Without the police it would be chaos and the bad guys would own the neighborhood. The police are the line between the good and the bad.

YOU DECIDE - JUST WONDERING – Always under the impression that when you are elected in New York to be a Councilman you take an oath to uphold the laws of the city. Apparently not true because New York City has Councilmen who participate in protests, demonstrations and act in such a manner that cause them to get arrested. They block traffic and obstruct the police. They have been arrested a few times and even after their arrest have sued and collected money from the taxpayers of this city. Some have even donated this money back to the demonstrators such as Occupy Wall Street. Seeing that they are paid by New York City to perform in the City Council supposedly taking care of problems such as homeless people, crime, education and people who have no heat in the NYC housing projects, are they held responsible for their actions? Are they suspended or lose pay like any other city worker? How are they allowed to break the law and not be held responsible? Instead of causing problems they should be fixing them. They waste the time of the police just to get attention. They show no respect at all for Law Enforcement, yet the police still do their jobs to the best of their ability even though these obstacles are thrown in their way. You decide! How are they allowed to do this while being paid by New York City taxpayers? Does the mayor hold them accountable as he does the police?

WANTED AD – Person wanted to work days, nights, weekends and holidays. Must be able to be a doctor, lawyer, psychiatrist, social worker and able to handle any situation. Must have knowledge and working ability of body camera, smart phone, digital pad and able to shrug off criticism from politicians who second guess everything you do. Apply NYPD.
