Conclusion:

By bringing this work of healing to the people in surrounding communities, they can dive into an important part of their journey here on Mother Earth. Which is the start of their individual healing work and feeling their transformation on many levels of self. It changes the individual and the community one beautiful soul at a time.

There is so much potential. When we take this work out into the world, it can reach every single person who it's meant to reach.

Much love and light for your Time and Energy.

With gratitude,
