

Role: AI Research & Exploration Intern

Location: Remote

Duration: Summer 2026

Commitment: 4 – 6 hours / week

About II Strategy Advisors

II Strategy Advisors is a boutique advisory firm focused on helping organizations navigate AI transformation with clarity, confidence, and measurable impact. We partner with executives and transformation leaders to design AI strategies, build adoption roadmaps, and partner with the organization to accelerate enterprise learning.

Role Overview

As an AI Research & Exploration Intern, you will help source, analyze, and publish compelling AI success stories that demonstrate how organizations are using AI to drive value. You will collaborate directly with the founder to shape the voice, structure, and credibility of the thought-leadership platform. Additionally, you will be tasked with exploring agentic AI platforms and reporting on functionality within.

This role is ideal for students interested in consulting, communications, business strategy, or digital content creation.

Key Responsibilities

- Research and source credible AI success stories across industries (healthcare, finance, retail, public sector, etc.)
- Evaluate stories for strategic relevance, business impact, and clarity.
- Draft concise, engaging write-ups for the website’s “Use Case” sections.
- Support the development of content frameworks, templates, and workflows.
- Conduct light interviews or outreach to gather additional context when needed.
- Collaborate on content and propose AI story angles or themes.

What You’ll Gain

- Hands-on experience in AI strategy and real-world use cases.
- Exposure to executive-level thinking and consulting frameworks.
- Portfolio-ready writing samples and published content.
