Connections at the Cross

Northbrook Lenten Study

“Live the Love of Jesus Christ”

As a part of my preparation for spending a year in South India as a Young Adult Volunteer (YAV), I read a book called A Strange Accent. It was written by my program coordinator, the Rev. Thomas John, who was born and raised as a Christian in Kerala, the state in which I'd be living. In the mid-1990's, he served at the Presbyterian Church (USA) headquarters in Louisville as Theologian-in-Residence. In addition to speaking at various churches and conferences, he wrote the book as a reflection on American culture from his unique vantage point.

It would prove to be a window into the provocative thinking of the person I'd call Achen (the word for "father" in Malayalam, the language of Kerala). This title, given to pastors in Kerala, would have extra meaning for me as he became my host father during the year I lived there. Not only did he and his wife, Betty, care for me and help me to adjust to a culture that was radically different than mine, he challenged my thinking - and my faith - in so many ways. In addition to being a pastor in the Church of South India, Achen was a psychology professor at Union Christian College, the first Christian college in India established by Indians, rather than foreign missionaries. Achen has always been called to help the church be faithful to its calling, whether in the U.S. or in India. I was stretched and challenged by him... and I learned to love the bible by studying it in a different context with his differing perspective.

Last year, Thomas John published a new book, At the Foot of the Cross: Meditations on Lent, Passion, and Resurrection. It was a collection of old sermons that was re-released as videos to encourage Indian Christians during the Lent of 2021 when Covid was disrupting so much of life. The collection was compiled in book form and published for distribution in India last year. Last fall, Achen reached out to me to see if it might have an audience in the U.S. At first, I wasn't sure how the chapters might translate to our context here in the U.S. Would it address the political divisions, ICE activity in our communities, or the hyper self-absorption we have here with our smart phones and social media? How much connection can there be between Southeast Michigan and Southwest India? After further reflection, I realized that his "strange accent" might be exactly what we need to hear during Lent this year. At the cross, Christ Jesus reconciles all things in him. In a time of such polarization here in the U.S., we might just hear a fresh gospel from a brother from a totally different context.

We will study select chapters from Achen's book for our Wednesday Bible Study - Growing Together - during Lent, starting Wednesday, February 25. If you are interested in joining the discussion, but the Wednesday 10am or 7pm times don't work for you, please let me know and I will help other groups get established. I am planning a Zoom conversation with Thomas John (time TBD) so we can hear directly from him and share our questions. As we explore what it means to Abide & Thrive this year, may we discover "the power of connection" by connecting with a brother in faith from across the globe and gathering at the foot of the cross together.

May we abide and thrive,
Pastor Ben

The New Brady's Bunch - Tuesday, February 3 at 5:30pm

Lifelong Learners: Amazon Fulfillment Center - Wednesday, February 18 at 2pm

We are once again on the move! This time, we'll head to the Amazon Warehouse in Pontiac. This informative one-hour tour will show us how they manage to quickly and efficiently process orders and send them off to customers worldwide. Conveyor belts, orange robots, and drones are all used in this massive operation - one of the buildings is as large as 28 football fields. The tour is fast-paced, and there is a significant amount of walking and stair climbing involved. There is no place to sit down and rest. Please dress in comfortable clothing. Our scheduled tour is on Wednesday, February 18th at 2pm. This free tour is offered during a school break, so students are welcome to attend as well. We have room for 25 on the tour, and all those who attend will need to be pre-registered a week before the tour. We hope to travel by van, or you may drive yourself. More information and registration details to follow. Please sign up in Fellowship Hall, and contact Liz Hurbis with questions.

Northbrook Book Club—March 9 at 7pm

Everybody is welcome to attend the next Northbrook Book Club discussion of Fellowship Point by Alice Elliott Dark on Monday, March 9 at 7pm in Fellowship Hall. Mary D. is hosting this discussion. Please let Nancy Best know if you would like a Zoom invitation.

Book Summary: The Many Lives of Mama Love is a heartbreakingly tender journey from shame to redemption. It's New York Times bestselling author Lara Love Hardin's memoir about her transformation from a suburban housewife funding a heroin addiction through credit card theft to a successful ghostwriter, detailing her time as a convicted felon in jail and her journey toward redemption, self-acceptance, and healing. It was chosen as an Oprah's Book Club pick for its themes of hope and reinvention. The book chronicles her life as inmate S32179, where she became a leader among inmates, and her subsequent life as a felon navigating a new identity while confronting her past.

One Great Hour of Sharing

February 18 – April 6

During the season of Lent, we will collect this PCUSA Special Offering to share our blessings with others who struggle due to disaster, hunger, poverty, climate change, or immigration/migration/refugee status. Worldwide humanitarian work supported by One Great Hour of Sharing (OGHS) funds provides people and communities with safety, sustenance, and hope through sustainable food resources, clean water, sanitation, education, disaster recovery, and economic opportunity. If you have a packet of offering envelopes, you will find an OGHS envelope in your packet. Whether you use an envelope or not, and whether you give at church or online, please indicate that your payment is for OGHS so your contribution is handled accordingly. Thank you so much for your gifts to help support vulnerable people around the world.

Northbrook Preschoolers are having a great time learning and playing. Our Dads came in for Donuts with Dads and we had such a wonderful time!! We have been learning about going on a Safari. We are NOW registering for the 2026-2027 school year, so please tell everyone you know with young children about our wonderful school.

Academy of Early Music Friday Night Concert

The Sebastians—Over the Alps

Friday, February 20 at 7:30pm at Northbrook

Join us for the Academy of Early Music concert on Friday, February 20 at 7:30pm at Northbrook featuring the Sebastians. Over the Alps traces the remarkable migration and transformation of Italian musical style as it spread northward through Europe in the 17th and 18th centuries. This program explores how a distinctly Italian musical voice was echoed, transformed, and refracted across borders—becoming, in the process, the defining sound of the Baroque. The Sebastians are a dynamic musical ensemble specializing in music of the baroque and classical eras. Praised as “everywhere sharp-edged and engaging” (The New York Times), the Sebastians have also been praised for their “well-thought-out articulation and phrasing” and “elegant string playing... immaculate in tuning and balance” (Early Music Today). For ticket information, visit the Academy of Early Music website.
