

Pemberton Hall - 1741

One of the earliest dated brick gambrel roofed houses in Maryland, Pemberton Hall was built for Col. Isaac and Ann (Dashiell) Handy and is typical of a mid-eighteenth century Eastern Shore plantation house of its class. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places, the house is under restoration by Pemberton Hall Foundation, Inc., a community based non-profit organization. The house is open Saturday, noon - 2 p.m., May through October, 2018 and by appointment. Closed Easter weekend. Pemberton Hall may be rented for receptions and special occasions.

Summer Visitors

In April, Sarah Dilworth Bell, a Lifetime Member from Rhode Island, visited Pemberton Hall, and Bill Wilson gave Sarah and her daughter, Lily, an extended tour of the Hall and grounds. She is descended from Samuel Handy, Isaac Handy, George Handy, James Henry Handy, Isaac William Ker Handy, Egbert Gillis Handy, Edna Dilworth Handy, and finally Cynthia Dilworth Eagles, Sarah Dilworth Bell's Mother. Pemberton Hall, built by Isaac Handy (1706-1762), stayed in the Handy family until his great grandson, Henry Handy (1789-1832) moved to Washington in 1809. Sarah's Grandmother Edna Dilworth Handy Eagles was interested in genealogy so Sarah Bell knows her Handy family history outlined in Annals and Memorials of the Handys and Their Kindred by Isaac W. K. Handy, D. D.

On the beautiful spring afternoon of May 12th, Pemberton Hall hosted the wedding of Amber and Ben.

- In June Brothers Don and William Handy from Washington State and Oregon, descendants of Samuel Handy, visited Pemberton Hall.
- AJ Donelson from Fairfax Station, Virginia, visited Pemberton Hall while researching his ancestor Patrick Donelson who died in Hebron in 1744.

On September 23, the Brown Box Theatre Project will present a performance of As You Like It directed by Kyler Taustin on the grounds of Pemberton Hall. The performance will begin at 7:30 p.m. and is free and open to the public. Bring your chairs or blankets for a theatrical treat in the autumn air. To see the schedule of performances on Delmarva check their website at www.brownboxtheatre.org.
