CRLG Industry Professional Guide.

We are a brand family anchored in the arts, we manufacture high quality products here in the United States that support Architects, Engineers, Designers and General Contractors. CRLG operates as a vertically integrated solution to the built environment, servicing some of the biggest names in the A&D Industries. We usually get hired by other teams to figure out challenging projects that are in jeopardy or need extra attention.

What this means to you:

1. We fill that hard-to-find space in the industry that usually gets value engineered out of the project in new builds. For discrete consumers and developers we provide higher than normal quality that adds to patina to new builds.
2. We fill that almost impossible space for the historic preservation work and restoration of our historic buildings where a cornerstone, column, or architectural detail and otherwise hard to replicate piece of the building has been destroyed or is in need of repair/replacement work.
3. Our natural and manufactured materials have been vetted over the years to allowing professionals to envision the best way to adapt the materials to the projects required use and color match to spec. Our experts work alongside you to find a solution to the project requirements and materials needed.
4. Our proprietary materials were developed over the lifetime of our founders and were adapted to a modern scalable iteration. We do not publish specifications or product data sheets on our website due to the proprietary nature of our products. Specific technical information is available upon request once we have an agreement in place.
