

BRITISH CONCRETE TRANSPORT ASSOCIATION

British Concrete Transport Association: Here to Help

Understanding the issues that affect the industry, especially around concrete delivery, concrete transport and the daily challenges that drivers and operators continue to face.

The BCTA is committed to leading the industry forward by undertaking specific projects that benefit the industry as a whole.

Our members have the unique opportunity to be directly involved and influence outcomes. As the industry's specialists, the BCTA plays a pivotal role in reviewing and shaping standards and guidance for the Ready-Mix Concrete industry.

➔ Why Choose Us?

The BCTA is the UK's only organisation dedicated to the concrete supply chain. We are a not-for-profit organisation comprising industry experts from the concrete supply chain and associated sectors.

We work closely with our strategic partners to improve standards and compliance across the concrete industry.

Dedicated Support from our industry Experts

- Environmental Advice
- Assistance with policies and procedures
- Discounted training and compliance services for members.
- Opportunity to shape industry standards and policy across the concrete supply chain through direct member involvement.

BRITISH CONCRETE TRANSPORT ASSOCIATION

Shape Standards and Policy

Recognised as the go-to experts for enforcement agencies, emergency services, and regulators like Department for Transport, the Office of the Traffic Commissioner, and British Standards Institute—advocating for policy reforms, adopting DVSA Earned Recognition standards, and launching safety resources to foster sustainability and fair competition.

We build strategic partnerships to address transport, skills, health & safety, and environmental issues.

As a non-profit organisation, we've kept membership prices to a minimum.

Our new membership pricing is based on the number of assets registered on the Operator's Licence.
