>LUTHERAN BIBLE TRANSLATORS - Clay Reisler from Lutheran Bible Translators came to speak with the students and staff this morning during ORG time. He did an excellent job explaining what it all takes to translate the bible into another language so that the ones reading it can understand the word of God. He also explained the time that is involved (years, yes years of work it takes) and how much money it takes to put together a bible in another country's language. $35 per verse. Yes!

Clay also told us how excited the people of Africa become when speaking about Jesus with them. One question Clay asked us was. How long is your church service typically? An hour, most answered. In Nigeria, Africa their church service is 3 hours. They also like their church services so loud that they can literally "feel" the music and word of God in them. Wolf River Lutheran High School students and staff are doing a penny war starting next week to raise money for Lutheran Bible Translators. Let the fun of raising money for this cause begin!!
