

Jim Teague

Your Shortcut to Success

For almost 25 years, Jim Teague served as a full-time professor of finance, and he also served as the head of the Department of Finance and Economics for the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown for 10 years. Prior to going into academia Jim worked in various sales and production supervisor positions, as well as serving six years in the Army National Guard.

Jim is a certified speaker, trainer and coach with the Maxwell Leadership Certified Team. He has given hundreds of speeches and presentations and is an award-winning speaker and educator. Jim combines his experience in education, business, and the military to bring a fresh and unique perspective to his presentations. He uses his vast knowledge to help individuals and businesses maximize their potential. Jim's goal is to help his clients grow from where they are to where they want to be.

Jim will:

- Provide insight into communication and leadership styles to build stronger teams
- Conduct leadership assessments to pinpoint areas needing attention
- Develop training solutions based on the assessment specific for your team
- Motivate you and your team through speaking, coaching, and training

His Speaking Topics:

- The Power of Partnership
- The Gift: Giving and Receiving to Improve Your Life Personally and Professionally
- Leading With Certainty
- Overcoming Obstacles

His Training Specialties:

- Communication Skills
- Leadership Development
- Personality Styles
- Teamwork
- Influence for Leaders and Salespeople
- Ready, Set, Goals!
- Leading Through Change

CONTACT INFORMATION