

How to set up a Roku

Setting up your new device is easy and only takes a few minutes.

Your device may look different than the ones shown but the steps remain the same.

1 Plug in your Roku to a TV using an HDMI cable.

2 Connect your Roku to your home wireless network.

You can do this by going to the settings menu, then selecting networks, then wireless.

Once connected, it will automatically update to the latest version.

3 Create a Roku account or sign in to an existing one.

Follow the on-screen instructions to connect the Roku to your account.

4 Add channels by going to the channel store and browsing through the selection.
