From the Senior Pastor

April 2022: Dying and Rising with Christ

As we prepare to enter into Holy Week, I am keenly aware of Paul’s letter to the Philippians, where he writes in chapter two, “Let the same mind be in you that was in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not regard equality with God as something to be exploited, but emptied himself ... and became obedient to the point of death – even death on a cross. Therefore God also highly exalted him and gave him the name that is above every name...” Paul reminds us that to follow Christ means both dying and rising – to have the “mind” of Christ.

We, along with many congregations across the United States and beyond, wrestle with the aftermath of a pandemic, high inflation, and increased secularity in North America (and beyond) which has resulted in losses of church membership, worship attendance, and financial giving to name few things. Congregations, not unlike ours, are changing. As we entered 2022, with a decreased annual budget, we quickly began to realize that our income was not keeping pace with our expenses, and so this invites the opportunity for transformation. This month our Congregational Leadership Board (CLB) will be meeting to assess our situation and begin the conversations about how we do ministry within the congregation we have now in time – not the pre-pandemic congregation or the congregation we wish we had, but the congregation we have now and the community that we live in now. These are never easy conversations, yet they have the possibility of being rich and transformative. Why? Because we are in Christ! To follow Christ will mean dying and rising again. As we struggle and pray for God’s provisional guidance and grace, we will need to dig deeply into our values, affirming God’s missional impulse at work, and then reformulating our resources (from staffing, programming, budget, etc.) to meet the ministry needs of the congregation now and leaning forward into God’s promised and preferred future for us. This will require sacrifice, prayer, wisdom, and imagination as we deeply move into discernment together and further discipleship.

I am grateful for all of you in our congregation, and I look forward to many rich and meaningful conversations with you along with your prayers, journeying faithfully as the community in Christ called Bethlehem.

Peace in Christ Jesus,

Pastor Mark

CREATION CARE

Dr. Jane Goodall, the internationally known scientist who broke new ground in 1960 when she lived among Chimpanzees in East Africa in what is now known as Gombe Stream National Park, has written a new book: "The Book of Hope: A Survival Guide for Trying Times." She recounts that by the 1980s, chimpanzee numbers had dropped everywhere across their range in six African countries, and their forests were being destroyed. They were caught in snares to be sold for bushmeat (commercial hunting of animals for food) and exposed to human diseases. Mothers were shot so their infants could be taken and sold as pets or to zoos, or trained for the circus, or used for medical research. By 1990 the great equatorial forest belt that stretched across Africa had become a tiny oasis of forest surrounded by bare hills that had been cleared for growing human populations struggling to grow food and make charcoal. In subsequently creating her Jane Goodall Institute, which sought to address what she considered the two most pressing problems, climate change and biodiversity loss (extinction of plants and nonhuman species), she asks us to recognize the consequences of our actions and to think of the well-being of the whole, not just of ourselves.
