From the Senior Pastor

Sabbatical

I am looking forward to beginning a time of sabbatical from May 19th through August 17th. Many thanks to the congregation for voting to approve this sabbatical at our annual meeting in January, and for our wonderful staff and board of Congregational Care and Community for arranging pulpit supply and pastoral care support during this time.

God's peace and blessings!

Pastor Mark

C R E A T I O N C A R E

As more people recognize that what's good for the environment is also good for them and their families, there is growing interest in making gardens and landscapes better for the Earth. Used since the 1940s, synthetic (chemical) fertilizers and pesticides have been shown to be harmful to our air, water, soils, wildlife, and to people. Synthetic nitrogen leaches nitrates into groundwater and surface waters, causing massive algal growth that harms aquatic life and threatens human life. Synthetic nitrogen also releases nitrous oxide, a greenhouse gas that is 300 times more potent than carbon dioxide. For soil fertility, use certified organic products, OMRI-listed products (Organic Materials Resource Index), or your own compost. Use mulch or ground cover to retain soil moisture, limit weeds, and to act as compost as it breaks down. While the use of peat moss is popular with gardeners, peat bogs are being destroyed by environmentally unsound practices that deprive unique ecosystems for birds and animals, as well as releasing vast amounts of carbon dioxide in the process. Instead, use coconut coir (also known as coco peat, or coir peat), which is the short fibers left over when coconuts are harvested and husked.
