

BIO

Sharon Ann

Sharon Ann is a songwriter, worship leader, vocal producer/arranger and musician whose 20-year foundation was built serving at her parents' church - Committed to Christ International Ministries in Arlington, Texas.

For the past 9 years, Sharon Ann has honed her gifts and expanded her platform by performing on some of Gospel music's biggest stages with some of the genre's biggest artists, including Tye Tribbett, Tamela Mann, Fred Hammond, The Clark Sisters, Marvin Sapp, Donnie McClurkin and Israel Houghton.

As a songwriter, Sharon Ann has written for Tye Tribbett (Bloody Win "Mighty", "I Want More"), Jonathan McReynolds (People, co-writer on "Best Thing") and James Fortune (Dear Future Me "Here2Hear"). As a Grammy-nominated vocal producer and arranger, her credits can be seen on Martha Munizzi's latest album (Best Days 2021) and Sunday's Best Winner, Grammy Nominee, Melvin Crispell III live album (No Failure) She is featured as co-lead on Glory To God Forever for Tye Tribbett's Grammy Award Winning Album "All Things New" (Live in Orlando)

The Milwaukee-born artist, who is also a model, actress and mom, recently released two singles from her anticipated album; "Peace Be Still" which is accompanied by a powerful visual that tells her journey from trauma to triumph and "So Good," which bridges the musical styles of 70's funk and contemporary gospel. Working with celebrated Grammy-award winning producer Asaph Ward, she is eager to unleash her sound & style: one that will invigorate the Inspirational/Gospel music landscape. Her first full length album is anticipated to release in 2024.

She is blessed to have her personal ministry, artistry and appeal extend far beyond her humble beginnings. Sharon Ann believes her life, identity and gifts are held together by her love for God. "I'm grateful for every gift and talent God has given me," says Sharon Ann. "I'm committed to being a light in this world, using every one of my gifts to do so."
