

COLLABORATION OPPORTUNITIES WITH JEFF ROGERS

Author | Speaker | Veteran Advocate

Founder of Strengthen the Positive | Author of After the Uniform

WHO I AM

- U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant (Ret.)
- Author of After the Uniform: Navigating Life, Love, and Purpose
- Creator of the Strengthen the Positive™ series (Mission Compass, For Veterans, The Journal)
- Professional speaker on resilience, identity, and purpose after service

WHAT I DO

I help Veterans and their families navigate the emotional and identity side of transition, moving beyond resumes and benefits to build resilience, purpose, and lasting well-being.

Focus Areas:

- Resilience & mental fitness
- Identity after the uniform
- Family & community support
- Purpose-driven personal growth

WAYS WE CAN COLLABORATE

Guest Workshop / Webinar

Pair tactical career/benefit expertise with mindset and resilience tools.

Community Event / Panel

Deliver value to Veterans with combined expertise.

Book & Resource Integration

Bundle After the Uniform and Strengthen the Positive tools into your programs.

Referral Partnership

Share Veterans between us—career help your way, purpose-driven growth mine.

WHY IT MATTERS

Most transition support focuses on jobs and benefits. That's essential, but many Veterans still struggle because the identity shift is just as hard as the career shift.

My work bridges that gap.

"Take care, be well, and go slow."

Jeff Rogers is a retired U.S. Air Force Technical Sergeant, award-winning master instructor, and change management practitioner. A former Division President of the Air Force Sergeants Association, he now serves as Adjutant for American Legion Post 186 in Spring Hill, Florida.

Through his initiative, Strengthen the Positive, Jeff equips Veterans and their families with real tools for navigating transition, reclaiming purpose, and building what comes next.

Let's explore how we can create impact together—reach out today.
