

Free Infant Screen 0-30 days old

Our expert therapists will screen your infant's reflexes.

All babies have 22 primary reflexes that are “programmed” to be automatic responses and set children up to develop in their natural environments. If those reflexes did not emerge during the birthing process children are more prone to developmental delays and mental health disorders later in childhood including ADHD and Autism.

What will happen?

We gently apply pressure to baby on different parts of the body to see if they have a natural reaction to the stimulus.

Similar to the picture on this page, we want to see baby grasp the therapist's finger placed in her hand.

If more appointments are necessary, our therapist will consult with your pediatrician.
