Why do I need insurance?

Common risks for installation and repair contractors

- Bodily injury
- Defamation, libel, slander
- Medical expenses
- Third-party property damage

One in 33 installation and repair contractors experience a claim*

INSTALLATION AND REPAIR CONTRACTOR CLAIM SCENARIOS:

GL CLAIM EXAMPLES

Third-party property damage: A client hires you to replace several doors inside their home. While working, your employee drops one of the doors and it lands on a collection of antique figurines, smashing several of them. General liability insurance protects against third-party property damage, and would cover the cost to replace the items.

Bodily injury: While you are installing a central air conditioning system, the homeowner trips and falls over a piece of your equipment. This accident results in the homeowner breaking his arm and spraining an ankle. You may be liable for the homeowner's medical costs, but general liability insurance protects against third-party claims of bodily injury, associated medical costs, and potential legal action.
