

Tinker Juarez

After a long, successful partnership with Cannondale (27 years), Legend of Mountain biking Tinker Juarez found himself on the outside needing a ride for 2022. Quick reactions and mutual respect led to the opportunity to align Tinker with Floyd in order to keep the Legend rolling forward.

Tinker joins Floyd's of Leadville Racing as he embarks on his 62nd year on this earth, where his palmarès are without comparison. A 2-time Team USA Olympic team member, Tinker's indelible mark on the sport of mountain biking has been a staggering saga of success. He's a 3x NORBA National Cross-Country Champion (1994, 1995, 1998), Gold Medal at the Pan Am games (1995), 3x UCI Master's World Champion in Cross-Country, 5x NORBA National 24-hour Champion, and until September of 2021, was the last American Pro Male to win a UCI World Cup Cross-Country race.

Tinker has always evolved his passion for bicycle racing, from BMX to MTB then moving his focus to endurance and ultra-endurance events. Since 2001, he has set the standard for endurance racing excellence, competing in a mix of events that other racers can only fantasize about.

Tinker remains one of the most recognizable bicycle racers anywhere in the world. For 2022, he continues his epic racing odyssey with FLR, where he endeavors to be at the front of the most challenging races on both Gravel and MTB.
