

Geneviève Jeanson

Geneviève Jeanson returns to bicycle racing in 2022 for Floyd's of Leadville Racing. There may have never been a more talented yet also misconstrued racing cyclist. With a bright mind and open heart, Geneviève joins the Floyd's of Leadville Racing family and seeks the chance to have fun, race hard, and experience the inclusive spirit of gravel racing. Floyd's of Leadville Racing is providing her that chance and supporting her 100% in this endeavor. Everyone deserves to be happy and live their best life, especially Geneviève.

Most currently, Geneviève serves as Head Coach at the Orange Theory athletic training studio in Vaudreuil, Quebec. She also is engaged as a conference speaker for student-athletes, sharing her views on the topics of life and the demands of professional sports, the importance of education, and the downsides of being a pro athlete.

Geneviève's 2022 racing calendar:
