BIOGRAPHY

Blues/rock guitar sensation Jesse Bennett is an emerging virtuoso who is revitalizing the core of American music. Backed by his professional blues/rock based band, Bennett is an onstage force who is ready to light up any venue in the world.

Bennett is based in Monroe, Georgia but has already gained notice beyond his region. He is a two time finalist at The Dallas International Blues Festival Top 10 under 20 competition.

He has learned from the likes of Nuno Bettencourt, Steve Vai, and Guthrie Govan, turning heads at the Vai Academy. Endearing himself to world renowned players that see a up and coming guitar sensation. Currently Jesse is studying with Master guitarist Dave Weiner who toured world wide playing stadiums as Steve Vai's rhythm guitarist.

Jesse Bennett and his band are a tight, talented crew who easily perform everything from straight-up, proper blues to soulful ballads to blazing rock and roll. They're a perfect fit for any club, concert, festival, or event looking for amazing musicians with old-school skills and attitude.

Bennett is on the verge of a major come-up and is set to put the blues/rock industry on fire. Be sure you're a part of what's certain to be a big future for this incredible guitarist. Don't miss the chance to book him in your intimate setting while you still can. This band is destined for a big career.

MUSIC INDUSTRY RECOMMENDATIONS

Every once in a while, you run across a young talent who is not only accomplished beyond their years, but also has the humility and the character of someone who has been humbled by life...

Jesse is one of these people.. his chops speak for them self at his young 19 years of age, but his character and integrity just as loud.. I have played for just about everybody and have seen all kinds of talent, this kid is unique amongst the unique. - Derek Ferwerda

DEREK FERWERDA BIO

"Jesse is a highly gifted guitarist who has an obvious hunger to make a name for himself as an artist. He has quickly developed into a skillful player with bold chops, a tasteful ear and a diligent and dedicated mind aimed at continued refinement and evolution of his craft. I'm looking forward to hearing what Jesse produces."

VENUE RECOMMENDATIONS

"Sometimes, in the music business, you come across individuals who just amaze you with their innate mastery of the instrument of their choosing. Jesse Bennett is one of those individuals who did that for me. I first discovered Jesse from a post on Facebook. His ability to play the guitar immediately garnered my attention because of the raw talent displayed by an 19-year young artist. Since discovering him, I have followed his progression, booked him to perform, and watched as he continues to fine tune his talent playing the Blues, the genre of music he has chosen to pursue. If you have not already done so, I suggest you follow Jesse Bennett on all his social media platforms as well as book him to perform at your venue if you have one. By doing so, you can claim being a part of a growing number of people who, as his career soars, can say they were there from the beginning!"

Occasionally, exceptional musicians go unnoticed by devoted local music enthusiasts. Tonight, Jesse Bennett an extraordinary young guitarist and vocalist, left everyone in awe with his performance at Fenders Alley. Having studied and performed alongside Steve Vai, this talented individual has the potential to gain national recognition. He showcased his artistry with powerful renditions of classics by Cream, Band of Gypsies (Hendrix), Stevie Ray Vaughn, and more, while also impressing with his original pieces. A true master of blues-rock music with a fresh perspective on timeless tracks, he has my full endorsement.
