

The April 9th, 2020 Open Book meeting has been Cancelled.

Due to concerns over the health and safety of Wright County property owners and employees, the Open Book meeting scheduled to occur on April 9th at the Wright County Courthouse has been cancelled.

This affects property owners in the following Wright County districts:

Cities: Buffalo, Clearwater, Cokato, Delano, Maple Lake,
Monticello, Montrose, South Haven, Waverly
Townships: Chatham, Clearwater, Silver Creek

Employees from the Wright County Assessor's Office are available to assist property owners in understanding their Notice of Valuation and Classification, and to address any concerns regarding the values and classification for the 2020 Assessment, Property Taxes Payable in 2021.

Wright County appraisers will continue to work with property owners to resolve any appeals using all tools available to them with the exception of face to face interaction.

We will not be conducting any physical inspections, whether interior or exterior, of any property until further notice.

It is our expectation that all concerns will continue to be addressed to the fullest extent possible and with the best interest of the property owner in mind.

Property owners in the affected districts may continue their appeal options at the County Board of Appeal and Equalization scheduled for June 15th, 2020. To make an appointment for this meeting, contact the Assessor's Office at 763-682-7367 by June 8th, 2020.

The decision to cancel the in-person meeting on April 9th has been done in accordance with MDOR guidelines and Wright County's decision to close public facing services. Please refer to our website for any updates or further changes to upcoming meetings and deadlines. Thank you for your cooperation and patience as we navigate these difficult times.
