September 11, 2025

On this day, Raymond Abel met with the County Commission, and the following was agreed upon:

Pike County roads that are "improved" by the adjacent property owners must continue to maintain the "improved" roads to meet county specifications and standards. If an "improved" road falls into disrepair, the county reserves the authority to maintain to county standards, and the property owners and the road improvement petitioners lose authority over the road until deemed appropriate by the County Commission. The county may elect to maintain any road as it deems appropriate including returning it to gravel. The county will continue to provide snow removal, but potential damage is the responsibility of the "improvement" petitioners.
