This message is intended for the McDonald's USA System.

McDonald's USA:

Earlier today, former President Trump visited a McDonald's restaurant in Pennsylvania following a request made to our local franchisee.

As we've seen, our brand has been a fixture of conversation this election cycle. While we've not sought this, it's a testament to how much McDonald's resonates with so many Americans.

McDonald's does not endorse candidates for elected office and that remains true in this race for the next President. We are not red or blue – we are golden.

Though we are not a political brand, we've been proud to hear former President Trump's love for McDonald's and Vice President Harris's fond memories working under the Arches. While we and our franchisees don't have records for all positions dating back to the early '80s, what makes "1 in 8" so powerful is the shared experience so many Americans have had.

When Owner/Operator Derek Giacomantonio was approached by local law enforcement regarding former President Trump's desire to visit a Pennsylvania restaurant, he was proud to highlight how he and his team serve their local community and make delicious food, like our World-Famous French Fries.

Upon learning of the former President's request, we approached it through the lens of one of our core values: we open our doors to everyone.

It's with that same approach that franchisees have invited Vice President Harris and Governor Walz to their restaurants, in order to share how McDonald's provides meaningful pathways to economic opportunity and feeds and fosters local communities.

As this election season nears its completion, the resources we've shared in recent months will be especially important.

For franchisees and restaurant teams, and suppliers, please continue to reference the election toolkits previously shared and available in the links above. For company employees, be on the lookout for a reminder of the resources available to continue to support you.

The strength of our brand always comes down to our people. McDonald's resonance and relevance is stronger than ever.

This has been hard earned by your efforts and our collective belief in the power of us—all three legs of the stool.

Thank you for everything you do for our brand, for serving our customers and communities with great pride, for upholding our core values and for opening our doors to all.

Central Park Five sue Trump

Say his words
regarding jogger
beating were false

The Associated Press

The men formerly known as the Central Park Five before they were exonerated on Monday filed a defamation lawsuit against Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump.

With election day two weeks away, the group accused the former president of making "false and defamatory statements" about them during last month's presidential debate with Vice President Kamala Harris. The group is asking for a jury trial to determine compensatory and punitive damages.

"Defendant Trump falsely stated that plaintiffs killed an individual and pled guilty to the crime. These statements are demonstrably false," the group wrote in a federal complaint.

The men are upset because Trump essentially "defamed them in front of 67 million people, which has caused them to seek to clear their names all over again," co-lead counsel Shanin Specter told The Associated Press in an email.

Specter had no comment when asked if there were concerns some see the lawsuit as purely political because of the group's support for Harris.

"We are seeking redress in the courts," Specter said.

Trump campaign officials did not immediately respond to emails seeking comment.

Yusef Salaam, Antron McCray, Kevin Richardson, Raymond Santana and Korey Wise were teenagers when they were accused of the 1989 rape and beating of a white woman jogger in New York City's Central Park. The five, who are Black and Latino, said they confessed to the crimes under duress. They later recanted, pleading not guilty in court and were later convicted after jury trials. Their convictions were vacated in 2002 after another person confessed to the crime.

After the crime, Trump purchased a full-page ad in The New York Times calling for the teens to be executed. The jogger case was Trump's first foray into tough-on-crime politics that preluded his full-throated populist political persona. Since then, dog whistles and overtly racist rhetoric have been Trump fixtures.

In the Sept. 10 debate, Trump misstated key facts when Harris brought up the matter.

"They admitted, they said they pled guilty and I said, 'well, if they pled guilty they badly hurt a person, killed a person ultimately ... And they pled guilty, then they pled not guilty,'" Trump said.

He appeared to be confusing guilty pleas with confessions. Also, no victim died.

The now Exonerated Five, including Salaam — who is now a New York City councilman — have been campaigning for Harris. Some of them spoke at the Democratic National Convention in August, calling out Trump for never apologizing for the newspaper ad.

They have also joined civil rights leader the Rev. Al Sharpton for a get-out-the-vote bus tour.

WAVE ONE - REVOLVING DOOR

1955-2000: 321,000 MORE HOMICIDES

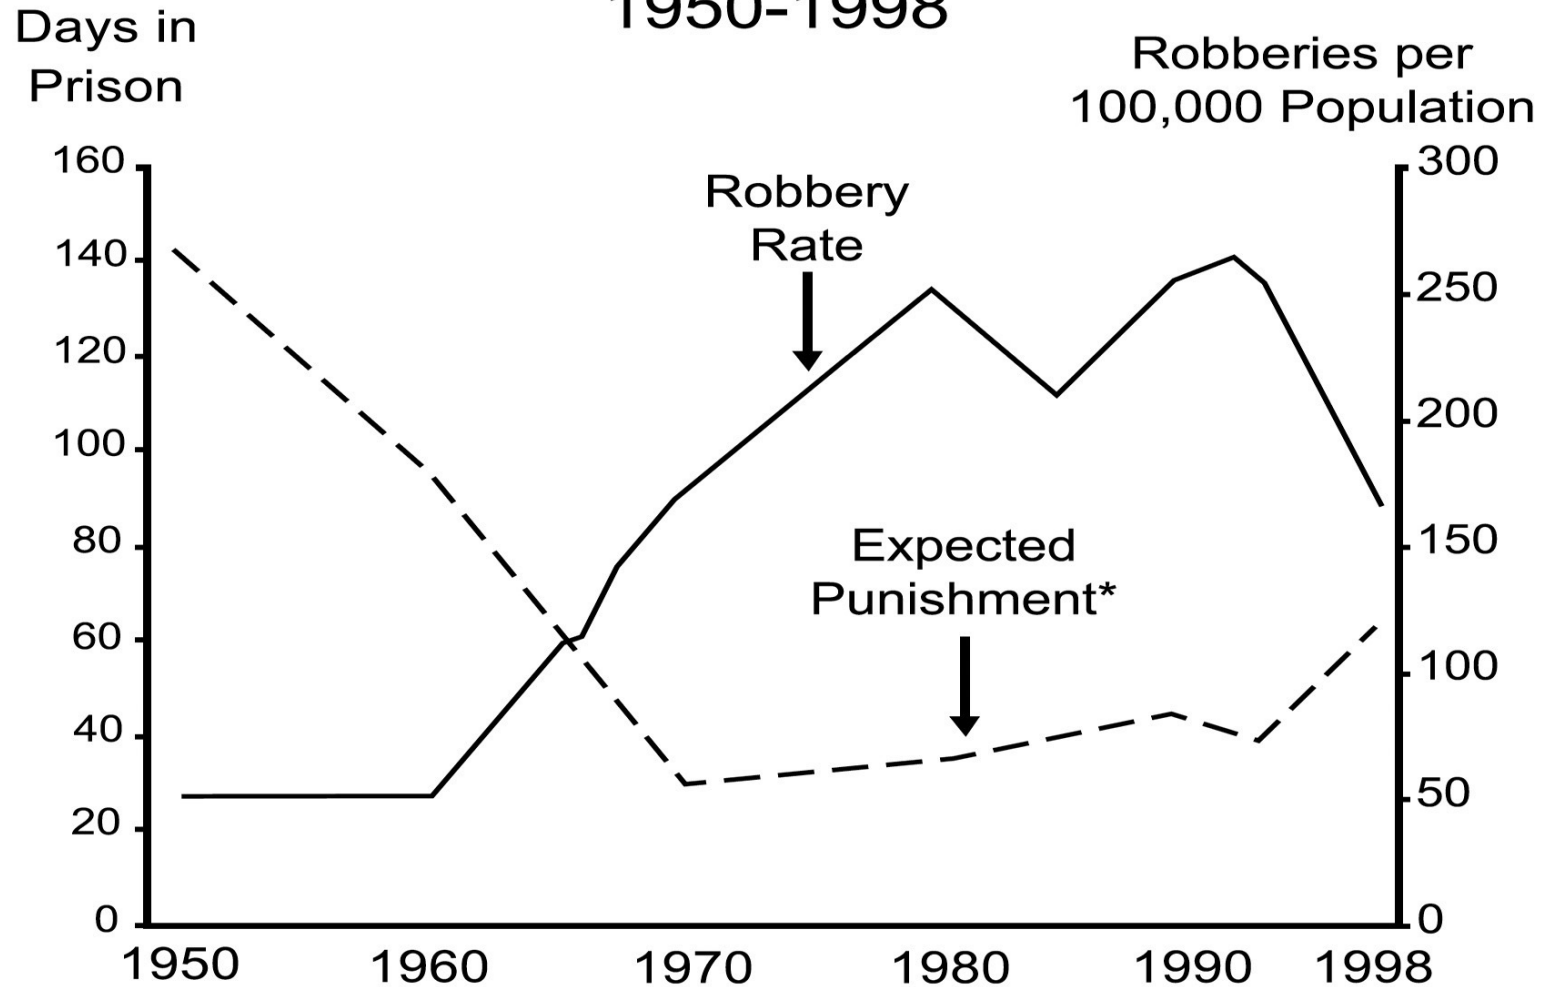

StopCrimeTosa.com
479BCE@hushmail.com

Progressives undercut all legs of criminal justice. In the 1960s their anti-prison crusades crippled corrections and sent crime skyrocketing. It took 100s of laws to fix the damage. In 2014 progressives added their War on Police and then added their War on Courts with the Rogue Prosecutors Movement.

Robbery and Expected Prison Time, 1950-1998

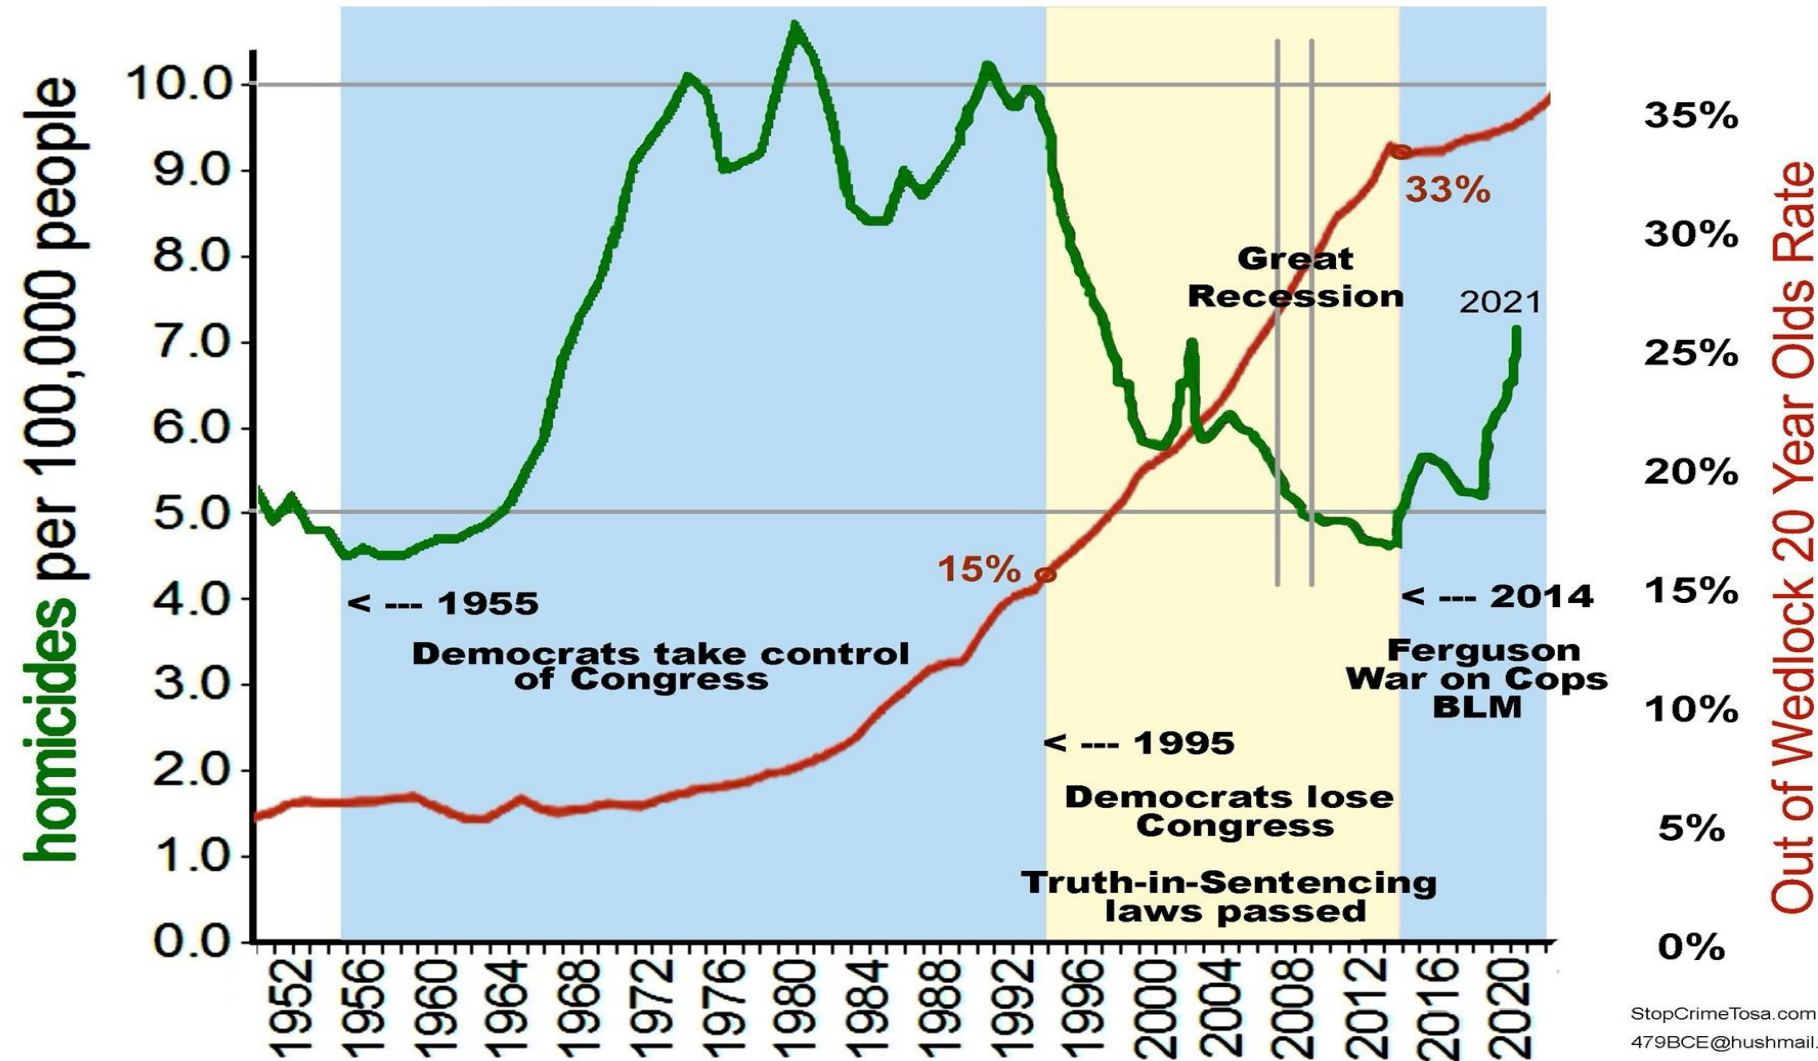

One of five crime categories graphed against expected prison time from NCPA Reynolds Report.

* Defined as probability of prison per crime times median days served in prison.

HOMICIDES & OUT OF WEDLOCK BIRTHS

15 to 25 year olds commit the most crimes. The red line is the out of wedlock rate, moved 20 years to the right. Thus it shows the percentage of 20 year olds born out of wedlock. Out of wedlock births had nothing to do with the crime explosion in the 1960s. Truth-In-Sentencing laws cut crime in half in 20 years, during which 20 years olds born out of wedlock more than doubled. Again the correlation is negative.

MASS INCARCERATION FICTION

*'The Criminals Were Back on the Street
Before the Police Could Fill Out the Paperwork'*

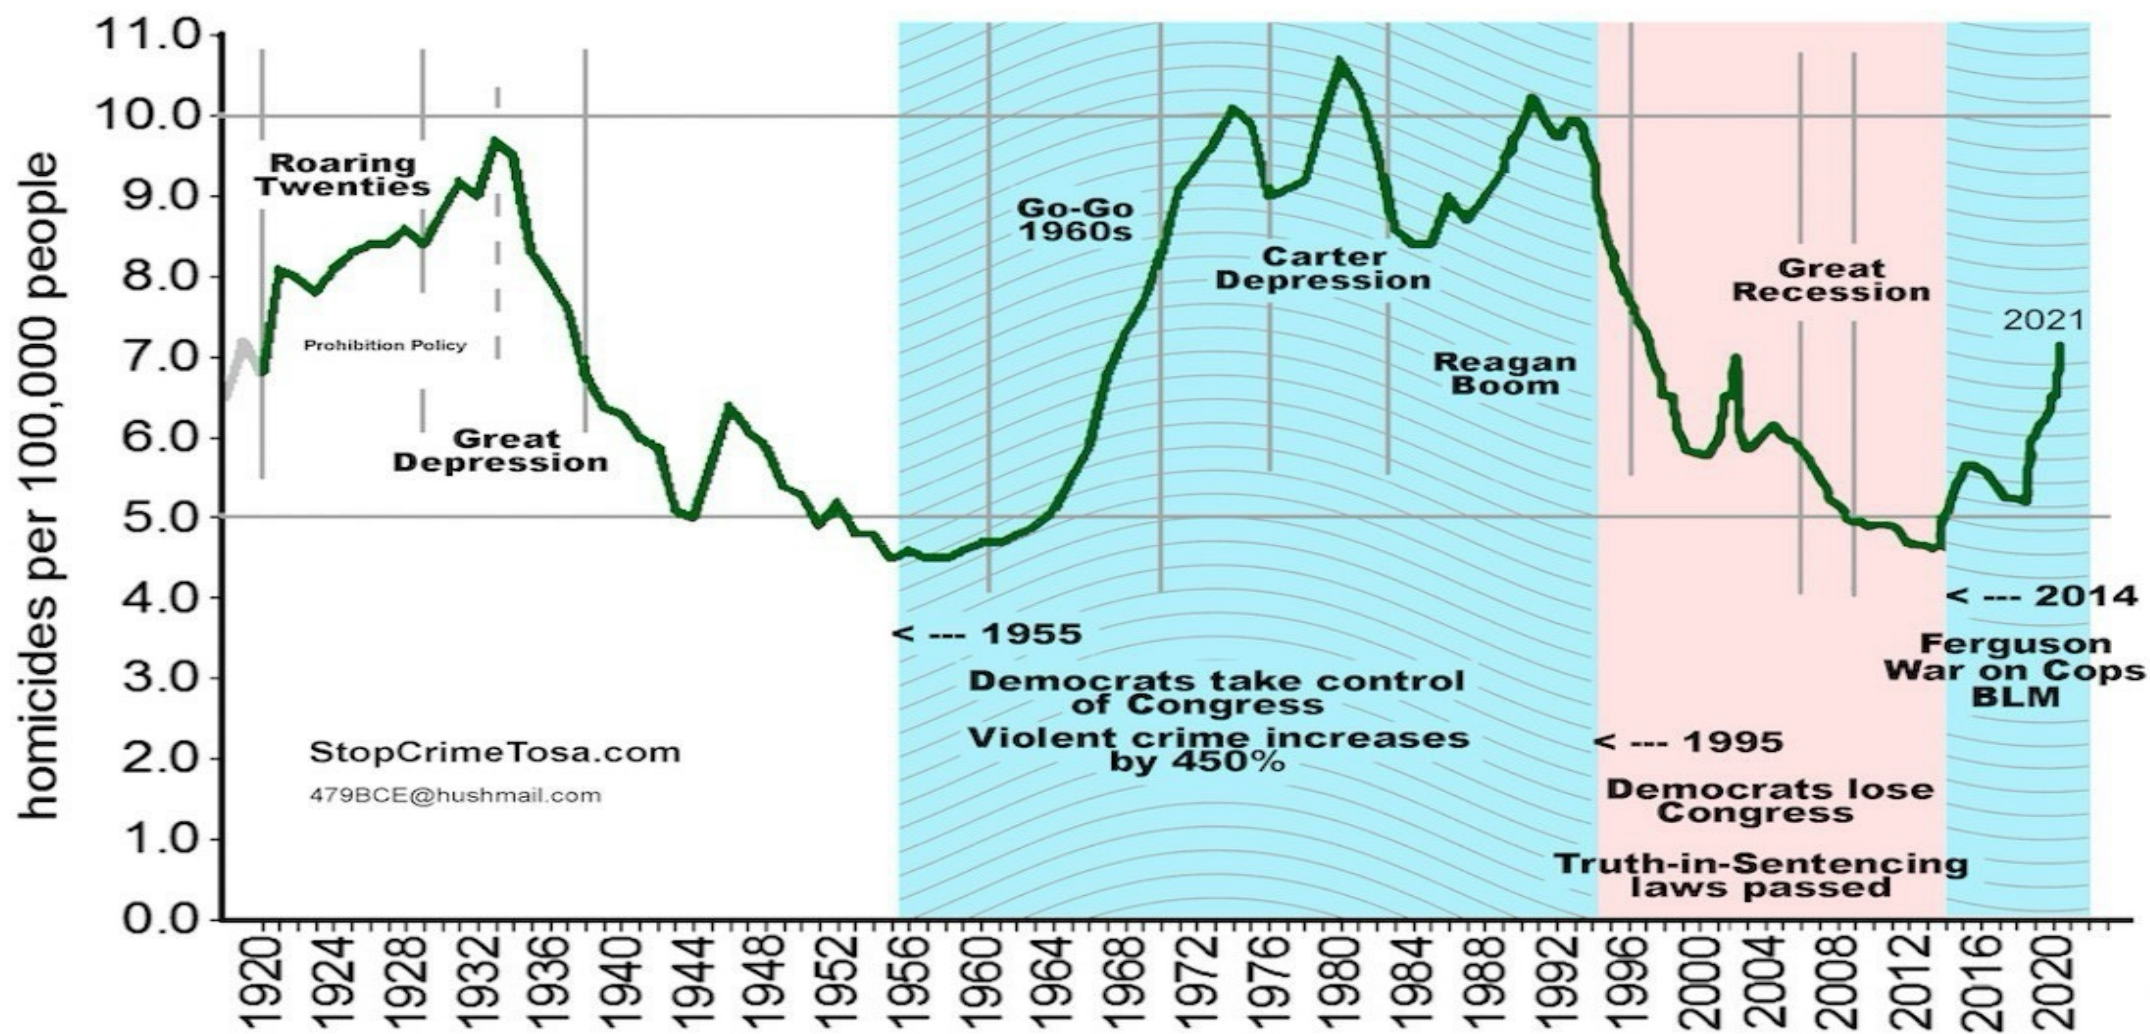

Progressives demolished corrections in the 1960s with insane utopian ideology. Led by top judges and corrections reformers; they said criminals would simply be rehabilitated instead. Crime skyrocketed as incarcerations were slashed. Progressives refused to reverse course, even as crimes increased by hundreds of millions. It took a Truth-in-Sentencing Revolution to undo the damage; federal and state TiS laws; laws ending abuses in probation, parole, pre-trial detention and early release; three strikes; and crime assets seized.

HOMICIDES: 101 YEARS

Progressives triggered the biggest crime explosion ever in the 1960s with insane policies. The defeat of Democrats in 1995 corresponds with Truth-in-Sentencing laws that cut homicides back to 1950s levels. In 2014 progressives launched BLM and the defund the police movements.

Crime rates climbed higher in good economies and dropped lower during downturns. The supposed correlation of crime to unemployment or bad economies is false, historically over 101 years, strongly the opposite.
