

THE IDYEAS GROUP

CAPABILITY STATEMENT

Core Competencies

The Idyeas Group offers strategic advisory services in global public health and scientific program management to government, corporate and non-profit clients, helping to move their projects and programs from the proposal stage to successful completion. We help our clients deliver success!

Differentiators

We bring over 20 years of experience implementing projects and programs at the CDC, NIH, HHS/OS, The George Washington University, from the US to Africa, to:

Drive ramp up and roll out of new projects with the precision required to guarantee success.

Facilitate building the right team to ensure successful project implementation.

Facilitate development of granular project plans that guide successful implementation and prevent failure.

Measure and assess impact of global health projects, including evaluation of performance against project milestones & timelines as defined in contract or grant award.

Liaise with government officials, acquisition staff and key stakeholders (local & foreign), for problem resolution on projects.

Provide support for the full project life cycle from proposal to completion.

Guide the design and implementation of quality and performance improvement activities for remediation and course corrections, to get failing projects back on track and to optimize opportunities for excellence.
