SAKE

WHAT IS SAKE?

Sake, or 'nihonshu', is a beverage made from fermented rice, koji mold and water. It can range in flavour from sweet to dry, delicate to full-bodied, clean-nosed to aromatic.

Similar in alcoholic content to wine (12-15% alcohol), sake can be enjoyed chilled, warmed or at room temperature. Typically, aromatic and delicate styles of sake are best enjoyed chilled or at room temperature.

Sake is labelled and graded according to its brewing method and rice polishing rate. Here are a few common sake labelling terms you might come across!

- Junmai Sake brewed purely from rice with no added alcohol
- Honjozo Sake balanced with added brewer's alcohol
- Ginjo High grade sake made from rice grains polished to at least 60% in size. Typically delicate and aromatic
- Daiginjo Premium sake made from rice polished to at least 50% in size. Typically very delicate, crisp and aromatic
- Nigoricake Cloudy sake, not fully strained from the rice solids
- Koshu Aged sake. Typically amber-hued and rich-flavoured
- Taruzake Sake aged in cedar barrels, with a distinct cedar aroma
- Namazake Unpasteurized sake (sake is usually pasteurized twice)
- Muroka Non-clarified sake (charcoal unfiltered)
- Genshu Sake bottled at cask strength
- Kimoto Style of sake where the rice and koji are mashed together into a puree, traditionally done by hand
- Yamahai Unmashed rice and koji fermented slowly using wild yeast in the natural environment
- Ki-Ippon Junmai sake brewed at a single brewery

SHOCHU

Shochu is a distilled Japanese spirit produced from various starch sources such as Sweet Potato, Barley or Rice.

Similar in nature to vodka, shochu is about 20-25% in alcohol content and is not charcoal filtered, retaining flavours and characteristics of its source ingredient.

Shochu is often enjoyed on the rocks, with hot water (Oyuwari), ice and chilled water (Mizuwari), with fruit juice or with soda water (Sodawari), with tea (Ochawari) or as a flavoured highball (Chu-hai).
